Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

Lt. and Mrs. William Peterson and daughter, Nancy, have returned to Biloxi, Miss., after spending the holidays with the former's mother, Mrs. Floyd Brown and brother, Harry Peterson.

Specialist Third class Jack A. Denemy recently took part in a military review at Fort Riley, Kans., held in honor of Major Gen G. S. Meloy Jr., the former commander of First Infantry Division.

Gen. Meloy has been assigned to Washington, D. C., as chief of information for the army.

Denemy is a gunner in Co. I of the First Division's 18th regiment. In the army since Feb. 1953, he wears the National Defense Service Medal and the UN and Korean Service Medals. He is the son of Mrs. Clara Denemy.

Pfc. Jerry Albright has returned to San Antonio, Tex., where he is stationed with the U. S. Army after spending a holiday leave with his mother, Mrs. Frank Coatta.

A 1/c Bruce Barber, accompanied by Mrs. Barber and their twin sons, left last week for San Antonio, Texas, after spending the holidays with Mrs. Barber's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Murray and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Mort returned to Norfolk, Va., last week after spending the holidays with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Mort.

Mr. Mort, Damage Controlman first class and veteran of six years in the U. S. Navy, re-enlisted recently for an additional six years. His address is: Diving Locker USS Orion A. S.—18 F. P. O. New York, N. Y.

when the temperatures are really down there. The ice rink at school has been crowded every minute it's been open these past couple weeks... and how those kids do glide around on it... big ones, little ones and middle-sized ones. You wonder how they learn so fast. It's great fun to watch them.

The skiers' bus made its first trip to Boyne City Saturday. What fun those kids have, zooming down the hillside. We understand that Boyne City and Petoskey have regular classes as part of their school curriculum. Gee, imagine skiing for credits. Fun, huh?

An SOS has been issued for concert tickets. If you have a concert ticket you're not planning to use Monday for the Northern Michigan Community Concert association show, the de Paur Infantry Chorus, in Petoskey, there are those who would like to use them. Since Mrs. Odmark is ill, we're taking calls on the extra tickets. Just call LI 7-8633 and we'll relay the message to Mrs. Odmark who has a list of names of people who would like your tickets... if you're not using them.

And when it's so very cold and there's so much snow, don't forget to feed the birds. They have sort of a rugged time in weather like this.

guild notes...

Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, chairman of the decorations committee reports in this week on all the nice things the local children and adult organizations did for the hospital patients during the holidays.

Troop number 7 made candy canes, cookies and popcorn balls. And Brownie Troop number 8 made pine cones and Christmas trees to brighten up the holidays for the shut-ins.

Den 4 of the Cub Scouts made the New Years troy favors... fat snowmen with stovepipe toppers.

The Charlevoix Garden Club made Christmas corsages and tray favors... the corsages were worn by the nurses on Christmas day. A Christmas gift was distributed to each patient in the hospital by Mrs. Hamilton, who also assisted Mrs. Harold Totten and Frances Milner in dismantling the decorations from the lovely tree in the lobby. The tree was laden with popcorn streamers and balls which the nurses fed to the birds. Patients watched the interesting feeding ceremony on the terrace... and the breeze that day was so strong that if you find a little popcorn trees sprouting all over town next spring... that is why.

Thanks again to a substitute, Lillian Browne, who helped out this week with pushing the cart. It's great to have such marvelous cooperation at such short notice.

Mona Davenport was recently chosen as one of the varsity cheerleaders at Central Michigan College.

Her selection gives Central a brother-sister combination as her brother, Dean, is a member of the varsity basketball team which to date has a seven win-one loss record.

Mona, who was a cheerleader at the Charlevoix high school, for four years prior to her graduation last spring, has started her new chores at all Chippewa home basketball games.

Mona was one of four cheerleaders selected out of a field of more than 50 candidates which answered the call for prospective cheerleaders. She is a freshman and on the secondary teaching curriculum.

Larry Burns, a second year student at Michigan State University, has been named chairman of the Founder's Day activities of his fraternity, Alpha Gamma Rho, scheduled for April 2.

Larry returned to his studies last Monday following a trip to the Rose Bowl game in Pasadena, Calif.

English monarchs, with an eye to masts for the Royal Navy, customarily reserved rights to certain types and sizes of trees in their charters to the American colonies, the National Geographic Society says.

Feeding Stations Give Colors To Winter Backyard

Want to add some color to a rather drab backyard this winter? Make a feeding station for the hardy song birds that stay in Charlevoix county over winter, suggests county agricultural agent Ed Reberman. It's an inexpensive device, he says, and there's no better way for children and adults to learn to appreciate and enjoy birds.

Charles Shick, extension specialist in game management at Michigan State University, indicates a wooden tray type affair fastened to the window sill or mounted on a five-foot-tall post will do the job. And put out some cracked corn, suet, crumbs and small grain to attract the birds, he suggests. Birds need grit to digest the food, too.

To be sure of a lot of color in your backyard, advises Shick, don't neglect the station. Food should be available to the birds at all times.

Chick Care May Be Helped If You "Pass The Buck"

"Passing the buck" may be good practice when it comes to caring for your baby chicks, suggests Ed Reberman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Letting another person take care of the chicks can help avoid many disease problems. Agent Reberman offers this advice to poultrymen who have a laying flock or older chickens on the farm in addition to chicks.

S. C. Schmittle extension poultry pathologist at Michigan State University, says big liver disease is one of the maladies that can be avoided. He points out that this disease is carried from one flock to another in most cases by people.

Other diseases in the leukosis complex, of which big liver disease is a part, are often spread in the same way, Schmittle says. This leukosis group of diseases is the most serious poultry malady in Michigan. Chronic in nature, they affect only a few birds at a time.

Separate caring of old chickens and new chicks will help in preventing coccidiosis, too, Schmittle insists. As further assurance against an outbreak of the disease, he recommends using a feed containing a drug for controlling the disease. Several are available, he says.

One Charlevoix county victim, Linda Stolt, is now receiving treatment at Warm Springs, Ga.; two others, Barbara Bodley and Tony Genia, were discharged from Munson hospital in Traverse City recently after undergoing surgery. They will continue to need care for some time. Two other Charlevoix county patients are scheduled for surgery in the near future. So, though there were no new cases, the care of the former victims continues.

Charlevoix Defeats Pellston Five By 47-45 Score

Defeat Drops Hornets To Second Place Spot

The Charlevoix Rayders dumped Pellston from first place in loop standings by a score of 47-45 leaving the Northern Michigan Class C league lead in a three-way tie. Pellston's loss dropped the Hornets to second place behind Charlevoix, Boyne City and Grayling. East Jordan is in third place and Gaylord, Harbor Springs and Mancelona in fourth place as the first half of the 1955-56 season nears its close.

This week the Rayders will host the Gaylord Blue Devils who racked up their first loop win of the current season last week by defeating East Jordan 47-43 in a see-saw battle which saw the Gaylord five win in the final period. Charlevoix has wins over Pellston, Boyne City and Grayling which have already defeated the Blue Devils plus a top-sided victory over the Jordanites so the Rayders should chalk up a win over the visitors without too much trouble.

At Pellston the Charlevoix Rayders went into 12-9 first period lead, held a three-point 22-19 halftime lead before outscoring the Hornets 38-29 as the game went into the final quarter. The local five held the nine-point advantage when the game went into the final three minutes but three quick dog-shots by Pellston and a free throw at the final whistle cut the victory to a two-point margin.

Starting for the Rayders were Garry Vandenberg, Charlie Dennis, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson, and Kenny Balch. Norm Helms joined the line-up in the second and Joe Etienne in the third quarters.

Paced by Swanson who scored three field goals, Vandenberg accounted for three points. Dennis and Balch one as the first quarter ended 12-9 with Pellston scoring four field goals and one gift shot.

In the second quarter Walker scored two field goals, Dennis and Helms one apiece and Balch two free throws for 10 points and a 22-19 lead. Pellston kept pace with the Rayders, scoring four field goals and two free throws.

Vandenberg, Dennis and Walker each scored four points in the third period with Swanson and Helms adding a field goal apiece for 18 points including seven field goals while Pellston tallied 10

Rayder Garry Vandenberg goes up to score one of 20 field goals Charlevoix dumped in at Pellston Friday to win 47-45. In the background is Charlie Dennis.

Charlevoix Will Host Gaylord In Class 'C' Game Friday Night

With standings changing almost weekly for the majority of Northern Michigan class C teams, the fate of Grayling, one of three teams tied for first place in the loop, may well be decided this week when the Vikings host the Pellston Hornets who were dropped from first place by the Charlevoix Rayders last week. In other games scheduled for Friday, Boyne City will travel to East Jordan; Mancelona will play at Harbor Springs and Charlevoix will entertain Gaylord.

With only two games remaining in the first half of the 1955-56 schedule, the jigsaw puzzle of league strength is beginning to fall into place. Favored teams have been toppled from the win column regularly and for the first time in several seasons no team remains undefeated this early in the season.

Grayling will be put to the test this week for the second time this season when the Vikings take on Pellston, still stringing for its two-point defeat at the hands of Charlevoix. Only mutual opponents of all three teams has been are Rayders who defeated Boyne City by four points after the Ramblers edged past Pellston by a one-point margin and Grayling whom the Rayders took by 20 points. If comparative scores mean anything, Pellston should take the Vikings despite the fact that the game is on the latter's floor. The Vikings have more depth than the Hornets but otherwise the teams are pretty evenly matched. The game will be close but the edge should go to Pellston.

Walker led the scoring with 14 points followed by Swanson with nine, Dennis with eight and Vandenberg with seven. Frank Durkalec was top scorer for Pellston with 11 points.

Charlevoix outscored their opponents 20-17 in the field goal department but Pellston hit on 11 of 22 free throws attempts while Charlevoix scored only seven of 18. The latter collected 13 and Pellston had 11 personal fouls.

loop standings. Harbor Springs lone win was over Charlevoix in the opening game of the season while Mancelona's sole victory was over Gaylord by a slim margin. The Rams have started out in great style but have failed to shapeup despite height and experience. Mancelona, on the other hand, is a young team which lacks experience. Last week against Grayling they felt the loss of Dick Holstad who was out with the flu. Coach Jake Schurmann said Tuesday that Holstad had returned to classes this week but would be used sparingly, if at all, against Harbor Springs. The Rams are always tough on their home floor and can be depended on to try for a comeback this week after four straight losses in loop play.

Iceland's capital, Reykjavik, is 1,700 miles closer to the North Pole, than is New York City, says the National Geographic Society. Yet Reykjavik has an average January temperature only one degree lower than that of the United States metropolis, thanks to the warming influence of the Gulf Stream. If Rockefeller Plaza were moved to Reykjavik, it's skating rink would still require artificial freezing.

The greatest of Tibetan celebrations, the New Year Festival, falls not on January 1 but usually in February or March. Thousands of red-robed monks stream into Lhasa, the holy city for the occasion. The sound of prayer, drums and cymbals echoes night and day. Residents don their newest silks and brocades. Officials, nobles, peasants and tradesmen pray, dance and sing.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

There was plenty of action in the Northern Michigan Class C league last Friday as Charlevoix dumped Pellston from first place by a score of 47-45; Grayling racked up its first loop victory by defeating East Jordan 47-43; Grayling won over Mancelona 60-50 and Boyne City rolled over Harbor Springs 84-44.

Following Friday's game Charlevoix, Boyne City and Grayling remained in first place with four wins and one loss each; Pellston dropped to second with three wins in five starts; East Jordan is in third with two wins in league play and Gaylord, Harbor Springs and Mancelona are tied for fourth place with one win in five starts.

Gaylord 47—East Jordan 43
In a game in which the score was tied countless times and the lead changed as often Gaylord came through in the final quarter to rack up its first win of the current season. The game was tied 0-0 at the end of the first period with both teams playing cautious ball. As the game went into the second quarter Gaylord managed a five-point lead which was soon whittled down to 62-22 tied at half time. As the game went into the third period the Blue Devils manage a two point lead which they held as the game went into the final quarter when they were able to increase their advantage to four points as the game ended. Darwin Mason paced the scoring with 21 points for the victors. Lorry Woodcock had 18 for East Jordan.

Grayling 89—Mancelona 50
At Mancelona the Ironmen were able to hold the first place Grayling to a 17-10 first quarter and 30-28 halftime lead before the Vikings broke loose and outscored them 23-11 in the third period for a 53-37 third quarter lead. Bille Kenyon dumped in 21 points followed by Lloyd Failing with 15 for the Vikings. Bob Hardy with 15 points was top scorer for Mancelona who was playing without regular Dick Holstad who was ill.

Boyne City 84 Harbor Springs 44
Boyne City, paced by Nels Norrhop with 20 points, Bob Fitzpatrick with 18 and John Juday with 17 points, administered the steamroller treatment to Harbor Springs as they led the Rams 28-12; 44-20 and 67-30 by quarters. Tor Larson and Dick Keller with nine points apiece shared scoring honors for the Rams who lost Don Laner with five fouls early in the final period.

THOUGHTS AFIELD

Harold E. Kohn

Do You Know What You're Doing?

The elfin, winged acrobat flitting in ghostly silence from tree to tree and crawling about upside down or right-side up with equal ease is seeking its favorite food — insects, insect larvae, pupae and eggs. He searches for them up and down the maples and the ashes. He hunts amidst the torn fibers of broken birch branches. His sharp inquisitive beak explores the bark of spruce and hemlock, balsam and white pine. The red-breasted nuthatch, his almost insatiable crawl plaguing him with a ravenous hunger, investigates every tree nook and cranny, pulling from their hiding places insects in all stages of development, from egg to adult.

If the nuthatch ever ponders upon the meaning of his almost ceaseless search for insects, it must be a most primitive sort of thinking based upon a rudimentary kind of awareness. His brain is small, hardly larger than an average-size kidney bean, with a multitude of functions other than thinking, leaving little room for cogitative functions. Likely there's a hunger-consciousness somewhat akin to a half-grown boy's that prompts a nuthatch to seek a grub much as a youngster probes about in a cookie jar. But when a perky nuthatch lights on the bole of a hidden brook tree, he has no idea of the far-flung consequences of his insect meal. Whenever this feathery bundle of energy sets upon a quest for insect food he affects to some degree the entire future of the woods. He pulls bark beetles from their lairs, snatches scale insects from their banqueting, dines upon the eggs of gypsy moths, and effectively upsets the ranks of marauding multitudes of crawling six-legged creatures of all kinds. At first thought, one lone nuthatch would seem to take little toll upon the vast forest insect population. But every bird and beast that eats one destructive insect pest does the future forest immeasurable good, for every winged adult, crawling larva, or immobile egg is the potential forerunner of millions of others blighters of aboreal beauty and wasters of valuable forest resources. (A female beetle, producing only fifty eggs in its lifetime, could conceivably become the ancestor of 1,950 trillion beetles in the tenth generation if its descendants were all allowed to reach maturity and reproduce. A foremost authority on insect life, Dr. Lee Strong of the United States Bureau of Entomology, has said that if a single pair of aphids were to reproduce undisturbed and their descendants were allowed to do likewise, they could in one year fill the Atlantic ocean with offspring. Thank heaven, they are disturbed, by insect eaters and insect diseases!

When a nuthatch feasts on insects he may know a little of what he is doing, but not all that he is doing! Besides appeasing his hunger, he is assisting trees in their constant struggle for survival against a perpetual invasion of hordes of insect enemies. He is preserving leafy shade over watery trout dens in the brook, without which shade the stream would warm under the summer sun and trout would flee to cooler waters. The saucy wee nuthatch is protecting future timber resources and scores of by-products of the lumber industries, and when he flits from brook bank to feed on nearby apple trees, he becomes guardian of fruit crops belonging to generations yet to come. Does the nuthatch know what he's doing? Hardly. He seems only to be eating, but far beyond that he is performing an excellent and vital task of forest management.

An ancient white-tail buck seeks the warmth of sunshine and the comfort of warm mud wallows because they feel good. He doesn't know that they have a beneficial effect upon his rheumatic old body. He is doing more for himself than he knows. Almost every furred creature in the woods and fields licks its wounds, not knowing the good, aseptic effect of this action, really a sort of primitive self-doctoring. Earthworms eating their way through the soil have no awareness that their churning of the soil, bringing the subsoil to the surface and taking humus down below, enriches the good earth, not that their worm-holes aerate the soil. They don't know what they are doing.

The American Indians used to cover wounds with balsam gum, forming what they called a "new skin" with it. Balsam gum soothed the wound. But it did something else of greater value. The gum protected cuts against the entrance of germs, although the Indians knew nothing about the existence of germs! Their primitive medicine did more for them than they knew.

Nobody knows what he is doing—nuthatch, white-tail buck, wounded creatures of woods and meadows, earthworms, nor man. We are all doing more than we know.

See, first, the less pleasant implications of the premise. The evil consequences of our negligence are greater than we know. The famed medical missionary to Labrador was once given a motorboat by his many friends, so that he could visit more sick people on the islands off the Labrador coast. Soon after the boat was delivered, Dr. Grenfell received an urgent call to rush to the aid of a critically ill woman on an off-shore island. The call came on a foggy night. But the great doctor and his crew, confident that the fine compass on the new boat would guide them to their destination, decided to make the voyage. The boat ended up that night far off course, amidst the rocks on the most perilous section of the coast, and the woman died without help. Why? What happened? The compass was inaccurate. It was later discovered that a lad in the Liverpool shipyards where the boat was built, in screwing the compass to its base used a steel screw when he couldn't find enough brass screws handy. It was against odds, but just one steel screw shouldn't make a difference. It did. It magnetized and deflected the compass needle so that it didn't point true. The shipyard worker thought he was only substituting a steel screw for a brass one. But he didn't know what he was doing. He was letting a woman die and endangering the lives of the ship's crew and one of the world's most heroic doctors.

When that word of warning has been considered, then turn to the more positive inference. The far-flung results of our best behavior are more consequential than anything we can ever guess. Tom and Nancy Lincoln nurtured a small boy of homely face and of no apparent promise. Later, when Nancy died, a step-mother took over the duties of caring for Abe and the rest of the family. They thought they were merely feeding another mouth and clothing another back, but they were providing America with a future President and influencing the history of the world. They didn't know what they were doing.

A child is given little tasks to perform, such as carrying in kindling and fireplace wood.

Garden Club Commends City On Christmas Decorations

The severe winter weather prior to the holiday did not prevent many Charlevoix residents from decorating their homes for the holiday season, a spokesman for the Garden Club Christmas decorating committee said this week in announcing the outstanding decorations.

A number of homes and the majority of the business places weeding a garden, baby-sitting, or attending to the small business of a newspaper route. He thinks he is only obeying and helping his parents or earning small change. But he is learning to handle the big responsibilities of adult life by performing little chores. He is building capacities and character, although he is not aware of it.

Many a momentous and far-reaching decision hinges upon the ballot of a person who thinks his vote doesn't count for much. Whenever parents express a spontaneous and honest affection for each other in the presence of their children they are unconsciously teaching the next generation something vital about marriage, and their happiness makes marriage attractive.

A well-timed word of encouragement, lightly given, has unwittingly saved many a person from suicide. (One depressed person I know of was spared from self-inflicted death by the impulsive affectionate nuzzling, licking and joyful bounding of a stray dog.)

While illustrating the involved relationships of everything in this universe to all other things, Sir James Jeans, eminent British scientist, once said that an infant cannot throw its toys from its carriage without influencing the farthest star. Every action by every person on God's earth has consequences beyond the farthest stretch of imagination.

Like a red-breasted nuthatch, aware only that it is hunting insects but in the very act saving a forest, none of us knows what he is doing. That is part of the glory and wonder of life.

did an excellent job of bringing the holiday spirit to Charlevoix. The city utility crew made Bridge st. a fairytale of twinkling lights.

At the Charlevoix hospital the main entrance was attractively decorated by its Women's Guild and Miss Ann Baumgartner apartment entrance also took on a Christmas air.

In that same area the Randall Crumps, the C. W. Sucher, Stanley Barger and Clark Coulter homes had lovely displays. The Style Beauty shop and the Silver Birch Motel also had outstanding decorations.

In the downtown residential district the H. J. Felix, William Ratigan, George LaBlanc and Harley Ochs homes were all very festive as were the Charles Heise and Dan Genett homes on State st.

Among business places Puff's Appliances, Charlevoix Lumber and Hess Furniture had attractive windows.

On the northside the Kit Carson, Ralph Hess, E. D. Hawley, Reginald Greenway, Ralph McRae, Herbert Campbell, Karl Erber, the Hal Forbrig and G. B. Saltonstall homes had beautiful decorations utilizing the style of the residence and the scrubby plantings.

The Charlevoix Garden club would like to commend and thank each and everyone for helping to make Charlevoix the Beautiful more beautiful during the holiday season.

George Brewer, Jr. Pleads Guilty To A Charge Of Armed Robbery

George A. Brewer, Jr., 20 charged with robbery armed of Rudy's grocery and gas station at Charlevoix Jan. 3, was arraigned in circuit court before Judge Charles L. Brown Friday. He pleaded guilty to the charge and his case was referred to the probation department for investigation. He will be held under $5,000 bond at the Charlevoix county jail here until he appears for sentence, probably on Feb. 3.

Charlevoix Milk Producers Hold Annual Meeting

The Charlevoix Milk Producers association elected Jack Boss as a new member to the board of directors at the annual meeting held in the Charlevoix high school cafeteria Saturday afternoon. He succeeded Franklin Cellner who declined to accept nomination for another three year term.

Aaron Broch, president of the local association, presided at the annual meeting which followed a dinner served in the cafeteria by the ladies of the Barnard Reformed church. Rev. Wilson Rinker, pastor of the Barnard Reformed church gave the invocation.

Mr. Wieland, secretary, reported that the progress of the association appeared to be comparable with the preceding year and advised the members that they would receive a financial statement as soon as the auditors had completed their work.

Dale Long, director of markets in the northwest Michigan area for the Michigan Milk Producers association with which the local group is associated, summarized progress of the organization and advised the producers that there would be a hearing in Traverse City Jan. 19 to consider possible improvement in the federal marketing order under which the producers now operate.

Mr. Long introduced the guest speaker, Walter Christianson, member of the board of directors of the Michigan Milk Producers association, representing the Grand Rapids-Muskegon district. Mr. Christianson briefly reviewed operation of the state organization and cited a few of the benefits producers derived from affiliation with the state group.

Officers of the Charlevoix producers group for the coming year will be elected by the directors at a future board meeting.

Brewer admits planning to rob the grocery and gas station and on Jan. 2 put his plan into effect by striking the store operator, Mrs. Helen Kruekowski, on the head with a steal bar. He left the store without robbing it, however, after a family dog, a 10-year-old hound, attacked him. He was arrested a short time later after the injured woman, who was treated at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey, gave Deputy Ted McCutcheon of Walloon Lake a description of the youth.

He waived examination before Justice John J. Connolly who set his bond at $5,000 and was remanded to the county jail after he failed to furnish bond.

Blaine M. Simmons of Boyne City also appeared before Judge Brown in circuit court Friday on a charge of uttering and publishing a forged check. He was placed on two years probation, ordered to make restitution of $100.00 court costs and a fine of $25.00 to be paid at the rate of $10.00 per month beginning next month.

Farm Bureau To Close Membership Drive January 15

Jan. 15 has been set as the closing date for the annual Farm Bureau membership drive, it was announced this week.

All farmers in the area are urged to join the Farm Bureau as it is a known fact that the number of farmers in this country is decreasing so those remaining must work together, for only in unity is there strength.

In announcing the close of the membership drive, prospective members were warned that this would be their last opportunity to benefit from Blue Cross and other programs sponsored by the bureau.

Anyone wishing to join need only contact the county secretary or any Farm Bureau member and he will notify the roll call captain in the proper neighborhood.

The XM-Turnpike Cruiser, an unusual, experimental model created by Mercury Division, is the first automobile designed to take full advantage of the nation's budding new improved highway system. Styled to give American motorists maximum driving pleasure, comfort and safety as they travel the new turnpikes, it features virtually unobstructed vision in every direction. Transparent plastic "butterfly" roof inserts lift up automatically when doors are opened to permit ease of entrance and exit. Completely roadable, it is only 4.4 feet high.

Michigan Mirror

Educators and Legislators are looking for space and money for college students who have not yet enrolled in kindergarten.

They are the 100,000 students expected to flood college campuses by 1970, doubling enrollments and throwing extra strains on already crowded buildings and programs.

That is the sobering fact behind an 18-month study planned by a special legislative committee, expected to cost $150,000.

"It will be the most complete study of higher education ever made in Michigan, said Senator Don Vander Werp (R-Fremont).

Enthusiasm generated behind the proposal interested prominent labor leader, businessmen, industrial executives and educators who will serve as a special advisory committee.

There is still some doubt where the money will come from to finance the study, though everything else is ready. Vander Werp's committee is prepared to hire an outside expert to direct the study. Vander Werp was allowed $5,000 by the legislature to conduct the study. This is partially spent.

He said the rest would come: $75,000 from a private foundation, probably the W. K. Kellogg Foundation in Battle Creek, and the same from the state.

After the announcement, Kellogg executives said they knew of the study planned but were not yet committed to make the grant. Legislators are shy about such things, too.

While the committee figures the cost will be $150,000. A budget for the first year calls for something over $94,000.

An item for $10,000 is earmarked to pay for part-time work by Dr. John B. Ivey of Atlanta, Ga., an educational expert who has directed similar studies in a number of southern states.

Next is a $15,000 item for an assistant who will be on the job full-time and direct operations. He will have a staff, two of whom will get $10,000 a year.

"That may be all right if we're going to set up something permanent, but how about this other stuff?" asked another lawmaker.

Some of the other items call for cash to pay consultants—all experts in their fields—$100 a day, plus transportation and other expenses.

Vander Werp and others on his committee admitted this might be a tough one to sell to the legislature, despite the justification of the expenditures that he hopes to make.

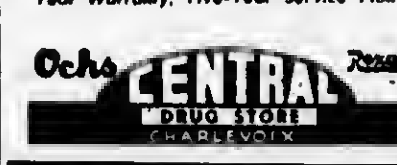

Jute, East Pakistan's chief export crop whose fiber makes cloth and burlap bags, grows 8 to 10 feet tall. It is planted in water, usually in small jungle patches. Harvested with long knives, the stalk are tied in bundles and left for three days until the leaves drop off. Then the bundles are placed under water for two weeks. The soft pitch of the plant ferments and the long, tough fibers can be stripped easily from the stalks.

Farm Employers Must Remit Tax For Social Security

District Director of Internal Revenue A. M. Menninger issued the following statement today to remind employers that social security taxes apply to cash wages paid to every farm worker to whom the employer pays $-00 or more cash wages during the year 1955. The taxes (2 per cent employer tax and 2 per cent employee tax) apply only to cash wages paid to cover farm work-ers.

Every farm employer who owes these taxes must file a return on Form 943, and pay the taxes, on or before Jan. 31, 1956. Farm employers should file their returns on time in order to avoid the penalty which may be charged for late filing.

Any employer of covered farm workers who has not already registered with the district director's office should do so at once. The registration form SS-4 can be obtained from any internal revenue or social security office. The district director will mail the necessary return form and instructions to all registered employers.

Two guest, John Kroken and Larrie Tuomela attended the meeting.

The printing industry is composed primarily of small business firms and it takes 900 of the nation's largest printing plants to account for more than fifty percent of the industry sales volume.

Mrs. Robert G. Martin Is Elected Head Of Parent-Teachers Group

Mrs. Robert G. Martin was elected president of the recently organized Charlevoix Parent-Teachers Association at a meeting held Thursday evening in the band room.

Other officers who were elected by the 73 paid members who participated in the election were: Lee Sutherland Jr., first vice president; Uno Suomela, second vice president; Mrs. Clayton A. Smith, secretary; and Mrs. Robert Ashley, treasurer.

The group voted to re-consider an earlier action to have two separate organizations, an elementary group and a second high school organization. After some discussion it was decided to have one organization to be known as the Charlevoix Parent-Teachers Association. It was also decided to set the dues for 50 cents per member per year. The organization is open to all persons interested in the welfare of the community and not confined to parents.

Mrs. Abe VerWys of the constitution and by-laws committee read the proposed constitution and by-laws. After some discussion and minor changes to apply in the local group, they were approved and adopted.

The first Wednesday of every month was adopted as the meeting date for P. T. A. meetings.

Mrs. Ted Bergmann conducted the election after two slates of officers had been presented by Bradley Stanton and H. E. Bingham, representing the elementary and high school groups organized following the first meeting in December.

Mrs. Ralph McRae, temporary secretary, read the minutes of the first meeting and the report of the elementary group. Mrs. Lewis Courtade reported on the high school group and the coordinating committee.

Included in the enrollment are students from Charlevoix, Petoskey, Harbor Springs, Alanson, Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan.

The Petoskey Board of Education plans to continue this program next year in order to give this year's graduates in the area an opportunity to earn college credits while living at home.

County Supervisors Approve Tentative Plans For Courthouse

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors approved tentative plans for a proposed new county court house at its regular January meeting Friday and authorized a contract with the architectural firm of R. S. Gerganoff of Ypsilanti for working plans for the new structure which will replace the present 75 year old building, condemned by the state fire marshal's office last fall.

The action by the board follows that started at the October session when the board appropriated funds to engage an architect for the purpose of drawing up initial plans for the building.

The working plans to be drawn by the Ypsilanti firm will be presented for bids which in turn will be reported to the board no later than the April session. At that time the board will approve the plans.

One Arraigned, Other Sentenced In Court Here

Judge Charles L. Brown presided at a special term of circuit court here Wednesday at which E. B. Bowman, used car dealer, was arraigned on a charge of forgery and George A. Brewer, 20, of Clarion, was sentenced to Southern Michigan prison on a charge of robbery armed.

Bowman, who was arrested early Sunday, pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery and his case was referred to the probation department for investigation. He will be sentenced at a later date. The forgery charge involved signing his son's name to a chattel mortgage with intent to defraud. He operated used car lots here and in East Jordan and Manelona.

He waived examination before Justice John J. Connolly who set bond at $5,000 Monday. He was remanded to the Charlevoix county jail. Judge Brown continued the bond at the same figure.

Brewer, who pleaded guilty before Judge Brown Jan. 5 was sentenced to 7 1/2 to 20 years in Southern Michigan prison.

Arrested Jan. 3, a few hours after Mrs. Helen Kruczkowski, 52, the operator of a small grocery and gas station at Clarion was assaulted, Brewer admitted he had struck the woman on the head with a steel crowbar before attempting to rob the store. However, a family dog attacked him when the owner screamed and Brewer fled from the store.

He has been held under $5,000 bond since his arrest.

The proposed building will be of cinder or cement block with brick exterior. The tentative plans call for one section to be a two-story structure with a full basement with a one-story wing to the south which would house the courtroom, judges chambers as well as the offices of the county clerk, treasurer and register of deeds. The two-story section would house all other county offices.

The board voted to start construction as soon as possible after the approval of permanent plans and acceptance of contractor's bids.

It is hoped that a good share of the cost of the new building, which will be constructed on property the county already owns adjacent to the present courthouse, can be met by a sinking fund voted in 1949. The fund which allocated two mills for taxes years and one mill for seven years to the fund has three years to run. To date $137,000 has been amassed.

A committee composed of Clarence Kachach, chairman of the public ground and building committee, Henry Lee of Boyne City, Robert F. Barnett of East Jordan, Lee Sneathen Jr., Ivan Phillips, T. R. Miller, Russel L. Curtis, chairman of the board of supervisors, Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk, and Clarence B. Meggison, former supervisor and chairman of the building and grounds committee for many years who is now state representative from the Charlevoix district, have worked on the project.

Quick Action Is Credited With Saving A Child

St. James, B. L.—Quick action on the part of Dr. Harry Vail, resident doctor here, is credited with saving the life of little Bonnie Cull, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cull, after she had swallowed an unknown quantity of kerosene last week.

Dr. Vail worked with the child for more than two hours at the Medical Center before she regained consciousness. Only the fact that she was able to receive prompt medical attention on the island without wasting precious time flying to the mainland is said to be responsible for her recovery from the accident.

The island residents are again grateful for the fact that they have a resident physician and the medical center, a spokesman for the island said.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

We may not have seen the beautiful parades held in Miami and Pasadena on Jan. 2 but we're sure having a lot of fun this week looking over the newspaper and souvenir books that carried accounts and a myriad pictures of both events. . . The Orange Bowl special edition came this past week from the Bill Butters who are at Delray Beach and the Tournament of Roses book from the R. A. McLane of Taylor's colors who are at Pasadena. . . What spectaculars both events must be. . . Maybe when we make our second million we'll be able to take 'em in. . . Being a little allergic to some blossoms this thought passed through our mind as we looked at the Rose parade pictures. . . What a place for a guy with rose fever or hay fever. . . and after looking at the aerial view of that three miles of motels, 64 in all, with 4,500 units in North Miami (and each with a swimming pool though only a stone's throw from the ocean), we're wondering who's occupying them now that the frigid temperatures have hit the south. . .

Ken Forbes was telling us of the beautiful basket of fruit he received the other day from the Bill Flynns. . . He got it just in time from what we hear about the damage of the fruit crop by said frost. . . Gee, people have problems wherever they live. . . Last summer everything here was burned up by the heat and lack of water. . . In the south where they welcome the heat, it's the cold that does the damage. . . Which just proves that you can't win for losin'.

From our California-way, a note from Galo Himes about the annual Charlevoix — California picnic which is scheduled for Feb. 5. . . a little earlier than in other years. . . It's to be at the lodge in Brand park in Glendale at noon on that day. . . Galo who is co-chairman with Charlie Emery, has asked that everyone with relatives or friends in the general area who came originally from Charlevoix write and tell them about this party for they hope to make it bigger and better than ever. . . It's gotten to be quite an event where you'll meet lots of people with interest in Charlevoix so don't forget the date, Feb. 5. . . Galo has promised us an account of the event so see that your name or the name of your friends or relatives in California are listed among those present. . .

The versatility and depth of our Charlevoix Rayders sure showed up Friday night in that game with Gaylord. . . When some body wasn't hitting, whammy, someone else entered the line-up and everything shaped up. . . Some 11 players saw action and 10 of the number scored. . . Not bad. . . One more game and we'll go into the home stretch. . . And remember what we said about gray hair. . . you'll have quite a few before this season is over. . . Need we repeat. . . lots of luck Coach Carey and Rayders.

Hear the fish are bitin' . . . in fact, we had proof Friday that they were. . . a beautiful mess of perch and smelt given us by Medrick Waffle who fishes for the fun of it. . . We understand Turk Jarvis has been getting quite a few too. . . He probably knows the most traveled routes of the fish in the Ironton area 'cause for a good part of the year he operates the Ironton Ferry and gets to know the habits of the fish on his countless trips across the South Arm. . . Our summer residents who live in Ironton area wouldn't recognize the place now. . . a huge field of white dotted with fish shanties of every size and color. . . Didn't know that there were that many patient people in the world. . .

Walt Henley was in the hardware buying some special kind of this and that in fishing equipment the other day. . . He's going to try his luck over at Walloon Lake where, he tells us, there's lots of trout and pike . . . if you're lucky. . .

How about those beautiful evening skies we've been seeing over Lake Michigan recently? . . . Not exactly sunsets, in the true sense of the word, but lovely to see and certainly appreciated this time of year when there is so little color around. . .

Colored Bulbs Decorative

With the new pastel pink colored bulbs on the market, M. S. U. home furnishing experts have a few tips on using them to best advantage: Use them to enhance warm colors in fabrics, foods and furnishings. Pink bulbs provide a soft light, reduce glare and shadow, flatter complexions and produce a pleasing atmosphere for comfortable living. Don't use them in reading or sewing lamps, or when applying make-up.

JUNE IN JANUARY!

Time was when fresh fruits made their appearance in Michigan only in the summer—when they were in season.

But—thanks to the fast, flexible transportation trucks provide—our eating habits have changed a lot the past quarter of a century—and much for the better, of course.

Now, no matter where you live in Michigan, food stores are filled with a bountiful array of choice things to eat in every department—Nowadays, delicacies know no season.

Merchants today don't have to order in large quantities that stay on their shelves until they lose their crisp freshness. Truck transportation has turned miles into minutes—and your standard of living is better because of this.

Keep Moving

January chill has smitten Northern Michigan's inland lakes and has laid a heavy lid of ice upon them. Fishermen's huts dot Lake Charlevoix and nearby smaller bodies of water, the thick crystalline covering supporting entire villages of fishing shanties. In this snow-clad northland lakes, ponds and slow moving streams are iced over, caught in winter's steel grip.

But here and there upon the winer landscape dance long dark ribbons of open water, the swiftly gliding rivers and the playful, romping brooks. Too fast to be caught in winter's firm grip, they protect their freedom by their vigor and vivacity. Sometimes a streamlet appears to weary of evading winter's persistent pursuit and, for a stretch slows down, ices over and nearly succumbs to the cold. Then, in a headlong burst of liveliness, the waters rush on, cascading in a water fall, tumbling over stones, racing down a hill, and the stream opens again.

Whenever a brook keeps moving vigorously it is apt to remain unfettered by ice, free to serve the woodland community. To these restless waters the furred and feathered children of field and forest come to slake their thirst. On a wintry day the banks of my favorite streamlet are thickly embroidered with deer tracks, where the graceful white-tailed animals have stood while drinking deeply of sparkling refreshment.

"Keep moving" is sound advice for a brook in winter, for a driver in flowing automobile traffic, or for a person who is seeking to know the secrets of effective living. Of course, there are times when it pays to stand still, too, like a cottontail rabbit "freezing" to escape the notice of a hunter, or like a hunter who aims to melt with the shadows of the woods, hiding from the alert eyes and ears of his prey, or like a person who has lost his sense of direction. One of the most difficult decisions of life, I suppose, is to know when to stand still and when to keep moving. In general, it is safe to be immobile like a quiet pool if the pause is but momentary, and for purposes of gathering strength, and if hesitation occurs in favorable spiritual weather when there is no danger of being frozen in that condition. Life is a flowing thing, moving ever onward like a capering stream, with seconds running into minutes and minutes into hours and hours into days and days into years and years into eternity. We are happiest and live most successfully when we are in harmony with this mobile nature of life, with our mental and spiritual faculties on the move.

Some of the troubles we suffer in adulthood are derived from an earlier standing still, from being arrested at childhood stage of development. The selfish person may be fixated at the two-to-four year level when a child hates to share his toys and likes only those things and people that serve his interests. Some people are frozen at the stage of child development where a youngster is afraid of strange things and strange people. Forever after they are suspicious of all new ideas, of all races and nationalities other than their own, of all strangers who move to town.

Some minds are fixed at the level of childish irresponsibility. When we were very young our parents made all decisions for us and provided for all our needs. Some people never move beyond that point. They feel the world owes them a living and should be responsible for them. They dread making decisions and shirk from the necessity. Such folks are slow streams, quickly frozen into inaction when a wintry crisis hits them.

Many forms of mental disorder are kinds of frozen thought. The paranoid has fixed ideas of persecution that bind him fast, so that his thought cannot flow beyond the belief that people are plotting to do him harm. The victim of melancholia is ice-bound with dejection. Only when a cure is effected does he break loose and move on.

When a sudden handicap descends like a chilly wintry wind, some people freeze and stop dead still. Others keep moving. That is a difference between beggars and benefactors. A beggar may make a show of his lost eyesight, advertising it with a sign declaring "I am blind", appealing to the sympathies and the purses of his fellows. He doesn't move on. He's frozen where his handicap found him. But then again there are the Prescotts and the Booths. William Prescott, while a student at Harvard, began to lose his eyesight. While his vision steadily faded he became more

Mr. and Mrs. Glen McCafferty arrived here Saturday from Toledo to spend the remainder of the winter on the Island.

Approve Tentative Courthouse Plans

(Continued from Page 2) ject. They visited other courthouses, determined the needs of a courthouse for the county and later worked with the architect on preparing tentative plans. The ground work of the group was done last summer with the committee reporting on its findings at the October meeting. At that time the architect was engaged and the job of formulating plans was started.

Improvements to meet state fire marshal requirements would have cost the county an estimated $15,000. Rather than spend that amount the board of supervisors voted to start construction of the new courthouse as early as possible. It is hoped that construction will get underway this year.

The board also appropriated $1,500 to the Charlevoix county Humane Society.

Rayders Defeat Gaylord Blue Devils By 67-44 Score

Charlevoix Will Play Friday At Mancelona

The Charlevoix Rayders successfully defended their first place standing Friday night with a 67-44 victory over the visiting Gaylord Blue Devils.

This week the Rayders will conclude the first half of their loop schedule when they play at Mancelona. The Ironmen chalked up an unanticipated win over Harbor Springs on the Rams' floor Friday night by a score of 43-41. The final score was close but the Mancelona five led all the way with the Rams threaten only in the closing minutes.

Playing on the Mancelona floor the Rayders will have to play heads-up ball or find themselves the victim of the third-place Ironmen who have been known to upset top-rated teams on their home floor.

In the game with Gaylord Friday night the local five found themselves trailing 8-0 midway in the first period before they started to hit and cut the margin to 10-8 at the end of the first period. The Rayders came back in the second period, however, to outscore the Blue Devils 10-9 for a 24-19 halftime lead and continued to pace the game, scoring 18 points to 12 for the visitors for a 42-31 advantage going into the final period.

Starting for Charlevoix were Garry Vandenberg, Charlie Dennis, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson, Kenny Balch, Norm Helms and Kilt Carson replaced Dennis and Vandenberg in the first quarter. Joe Etienne saw action in the third quarter and Joel Arvilla, Terry Davis and Phil Timmer entered the line-up in the final period.

The game got off to an unsteady start with both teams feeling their way before Gaylord dumped in four quick buckets to take an 8-0 lead before the game was four minutes old.

Coach Don Carey replaced Dennis with Helms. Balch scored the Rayders' first point on a free throw and followed it with a field goal before Carson entered the line-up for Vandenberg. Walker hit with a field goal which Gaylord matched and the score stood at 10-5 when Balch stepped to the free throw line to collect a gift shot which was lost when he stepped over the line. Helms added a field goal following a free throw to cut the Blue Devils' lead to two points as the quarter ended 10-8.

Gaylord scored a field goal to put them ahead 12-8 early in the second period but Balch and Walker tied the score 12-12 but Gaylord scored a field goal to put them ahead for the last time during the game.

Race For First Place In League Competition Comes To Climax

The red hot race for possession of first place in the Northern Michigan Class C league will come to a climax this week when two of the three teams now tied for first place, Boyne City and Grayling, meet for the first time this season.

This all-important game will be played Friday with Boyne City hosting the Grayling Vikings while Harbor Springs will play at Gaylord; East Jordan will travel to Pellston and the third first place team, Charlevoix, will journey to Mancelona.

For the first time in recent league history there has been a three-way tie for first place as the season neared the half-way mark. This week will drop at least one of the contenders along the way when Boyne City and Grayling clash.

Last week the Vikings dumped Pellston by 20 points. Earlier in the game, Helms dumped a bucket in from the pivot position with Swanson putting the Rayders ahead with one from the side. Balch lost another point when he stepped over the free throw line but made up the deficit by adding two field goals followed by Swanson and Helms while Gaylord's scoring was limited to three free throws and a field goal to put Charlevoix ahead 24-19 at halftime.

Gaylord scored a field goal to open the third period but Carson, Helms, Walker and Swanson all dumped in two pointers before the Blue Devils found the basket again. Balch and Walker each added four points before Gaylord scored two free throws.

Vandenberg replaced Helms in the line-up as the third period drew to a close with Gaylord scoring two points on free throws and Walker adding a field goal to end the quarter with Charlevoix ahead 42-31.

Dennis returned to the line-up to open the final period and scored a field goal early in the quarter. Later he scored two free throws and a field goal and Vandenberg scored two gift shots and Balch a field goal with five minutes remaining. Connie Campbell, Gaylord's top scorer, fouled out with only three minutes gone in the period.

As the period drew to a close with Coach Carey substituting freely, Swanson scored six points, Balch, three, Arvilla, Timmer and Davis two points each to give the Rayders a 23 point win.

Balch was top scorer for the game with 18 points followed by Swanson and Walker with 12 each Campbell had 16 points for Gaylord.

Local Plant Desires To Expand

One of our local industries is suffering growing pains. Morry Taylor of Morwell Steel Products called a combined meeting of the Ellsworth community C. of C. members, village council members and local business men last Thursday night in his home to discuss the feasibility of expanding the business. Mr. Taylor desires to expand his business using the property north of the present site on Rex Beach lake, including the area now constituting our village park. It was mentioned that if this expansion could not be made, there was a grave possibility that the local business operations would likely be terminated and a location sought elsewhere.

On checking for information we learned that the State commission has approved, as of last week, on the purchase, by the village council, of 150 feet of the fishing site south of the present Morwell plant property, purchase price $500.

At this time, plans are being completed by the council to sell this site to the Morwell Steel Corporation with the exception of a 20 foot right of way to the lake which is being reserved by the council.

League Lead

Ellsworth Lancers defeated Central Lake 59-46 last Friday night to take over the league lead for the losers.

Essenberg hit for 18 for the winner while D. Wilson had 14 for the losers.

The Ellsworth Reserves won their game 44-49. C. Oosterbaan garnered 14. K. Batterbee had 13 for the losers.

Ellsworth now has a 3-0 record in league play.

Women's Group Of Farm Bureau Has Meeting Friday

The Women's Committee of the Charlevoix County Farm Bureau met Friday at the home of Mrs. Thonias Wieland with 20 members representing 11 community groups present.

Mrs. Wieland who attended the state institute in Lansing early this month, outlined the projects supported by Michigan Farm Bureau women. Several of the projects have been supported by the group for several years and include nurse recruiting by creating an interest in professional nursing, the Sister Kenny Foundation, which the group has assisted by sending funds to the center at Michigan for purchase of new equipment for treatment of polio patients; supporting the foreign student project, whereby financial assistance is offered to foreign students whose funds are exhausted and who have several months remaining in school here; the Associated Country Women of the World, an organization designed to promote good will and friendship among country women throughout the world; and Pen-pals for Friendship, whereby each member contributes two cents for office supplies of the A. C. W. W.

The group voted its continued support of the projects.

Mrs. Ole Nielsen, county chairman, appointed the following committee chairmen: safety, Mrs. Kenneth Lindley of the Undine group; legislative, Mrs. Clayton Healy of the Star group; and citizenship, Mrs. Fred Willis of the Hayes group.

The best selling book in the world is the Bible with more than twenty-five million copies being printed annually.

Should Take Hay Samples To M.S.U. For Farmer Week

Charlevoix county farmers should bring samples of their hay and silage to Farmers' Week at Michigan State University to see how they compare with other roughage, invites Ed Rebmman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

The traditional Farmers' Week is Jan. 30—Feb. 3. Judges will receive hay, grass and corn silage samples on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the west course of the football stadium.

Then the specialists will estimate the feeding value of the roughage and grade each sample. And, upon request, they'll discuss what grain rations are needed to supplement the roughage for the best milk production.

Farmers should bring a note with their samples showing the stage of maturity at harvest, whether the material was field-cured or barn-cured, if a hay crusher was used, and whether silage was ensiled direct cut or allowed to wilt, and whether a preservative was used.

This information, says Rebmman, will help the judges to make a better analysis and it will make the "roughage clinic" more interesting for others who want to compare the samples.

Check Insurance For New Year To Avoid Headaches

When you make out your new year's resolutions this year, be sure to include a check on your insurance.

Checking on your insurance needs, explains Linda Nelson, instructor in home management at Michigan State University, will take only a few minutes and save you many headaches in the years ahead.

Your family's needs for insurance change, declares Miss Nelson, and so must be carefully reviewed each year. Start with your health insurance.

Should your policy be changed to include new members in the family? Or, if you have children in the late teens, check your policy to be sure that they are still covered. Many insurance policies do not cover children over 18 years of age and they send no reminder to the policy holder until the youth reaches his 20th birthday.

will be provided to display chopped hay, grass silage and corn silage. Rebmman says three to ten pounds of hay and eight to ten pounds of silage will be enough for samples. He suggests a three to four-inch slice from a bale of hay or a similar amount of long hay.

Korean Veterans Must Apply For Bonus By March

Under the law, the majority of Korean War veterans must apply for the Michigan Korean bonus by March 6 of this year, Kenneth B. Forbes, American Legion service officer, warned this week.

He added that more than 40,000 Korean war veterans in the state have at this time failed to apply for the bonus.

Application blanks may be obtained from Mr. Forbes.

The second insurance to check is your personal property insurance. Have you purchased anything new that should be covered in case of fire or theft? Or, is your insurance amount high enough to cover replacement of your belongings? Miss Nelson warns that many times our insurance would not cover replacement costs at present day prices. In concluding your insurance check, look up the dates on which your premium payments are due for your various policies. Mark the due dates with red pencil so you will remember to pay them on time and be well-protected throughout the year to come.

Estimate Fire Damage $10,000 At Light Plant

Fire caused by a broken connection on a 1 1/4 inch fuel line which allowed fuel oil to drip on an air compressor motor caused an estimated $9,000 to $10,000 damage at the Charlevoix municipal light plant early Friday morning.

Quick action on the part of city employees and the fire department are credited with limiting the loss to this figure, according to city superintendent Hal M. Hill who said that if John Geer, veteran utility employee, had not pulled the switch, cutting off all current, the entire plant might have been lost.

The connection on the fuel oil line to one of six diesel engines in the plant broke shortly after 1 a. m., allowing oil to drip on the air compressor motor of a 500kw engine.

The heat of the motor caused the oil to ignite. The fire was soon spread by ventilator which carried the flames through the ventilator duct to the roof.

Geer who had been called from home by James Willis, the operator on duty, when the trouble first started, pulled the switches, cutting off the current and thus minimizing the fire hazard as well as the threat of an explosion had water struck the engines.

The fire department was summoned as soon as the fire broke out but because there was no current and the siren at the city hall could not be sounded, the fire department had to depend on the fire truck siren to alert volunteer firemen.

Fog equipment was used in the building thus cutting the chances of an explosion had water struck the engines which were still hot.

Fire damage was confined to the wiring of one diesel engine, the walls and roof of the plant and the floor which was damaged by the oil and water. The council Monday night authorized Mr. Hill to begin the clean-up job which will necessitate the repair of the roof, the redecorating of the interior of the building, the refitting of the floor and the repainting of two engines.

Loss is covered by insurance. Electric service was restored within a half hour, Mr. Hill said.

Mr. Geer was treated at the Charlevoix hospital for facial burns and discharged to his home.

THE STATE DEPARTMENT accused Red China this week of "holding the threat of war" over the Far East in an effort to enforce the United States to abandon the defense of Formosa.

GOV. S. C. MENNEN William presented the Michigan Legislature this week with a record breaking 339 million dollar general fund budget for next year, and said it could be financed without more taxes.

GOV. WILLIAMS has asked Legislature to authorize the highway bonding law to permit construction of 855 miles of multi-lane highways in Michigan in the next two years. Present law limits the State to a bonding program based on half the revenue from the latest cent-a-half increase in the gasoline tax.

THE STOCK market scored its best advance in more than two months this week. Brokers suggested that President Eisenhower's optimistic forecast to Congress on the economic outlook helped the market.

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER has declared the nation, now "at the threshold of a four-billion-dollar economy", should consider rearming itself against inflation with a standby consumer credit control law.

License Bureau Lists Hours For February

The License Bureau office, located on the second floor of the K. of P. building, will be open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily except Sunday during the month of February so car owners may renew motor vehicle registrations and purchase new plates, as was announced this week.

The local office will be open during the evening if necessary. 1955 motor vehicle registrations and license plates expire at midnight, Feb. 29.

Applications for registration must be made to the office of the Secretary of State or any authorized agencies. Proof of vehicle ownership is also required and is necessary before license plates may be purchased. Certificate of title must be obtained within 10 days after purchase of vehicle. Application must be made to the Secretary of State and must be accompanied by the seller's assigned Certificate of Title or Bill of Sale.

Issuance of Certificate of Title is prerequisite to registration of the vehicle and, following issuance, the certificate must be annually revaluated. Upon transfer of ownership, seller must deliver endorsed Certificate of Title to buyer for surrender to the Department of State and issuance of new certificate of new ownership.

If there is any doubt in your mind regarding this important issue, you are urged to visit the local license bureau for further information. Accident report blanks are also available at the local license bureau. Accidents involving death, personal injury or damage to the extent that the vehicle cannot be driven under own power must be reported to the chief of police or sheriff. All accidents in which damage in excess of $100 is done to the property of any one person and those involving personal injury or death must be reported to the Secretary of State within 10 days. Failure to report is sufficient grounds for suspension of driving privileges.

Motorists are also urged to check the Motorists Liability Laws.

Engineers Drill Team To Appear Here On Monday

The McArthur's Engineers Drill Team from Michigan College of Mining and Technology will appear at the Charlevoix high school on Jan. 30 during their annual winter tour.

Composed of students enrolled in the Army ROTC program, the Drill Team often performs at Michigan Tech sports events, military halls, engineering shows, winter carnivals and other functions. The group was formed in the fall of 1950; at that time General Douglas McArthur gave his permission to use his name in connection with the team.

This year the team consists of 24 men, all of whom will take part in the winter tour. They will visit 12 communities during their five days in lower Michigan.

The group will appear at the Charlevoix high school at 10 a. m. on Jan. 30.

Questionnaires On Income Are Mailed To Vets

Annual income questionnaires are in the mail to Michigan veterans who are receiving non-service connected disability pensions. Lloyd H. Jameson, VA's regional manager for Michigan has announced.

In making the announcement he advises that all those who receive questionnaires fill them out completely and return at once to the address to the regional office in Detroit.

Unless properly filled out questionnaires are returned within 30 days, pension payments must be stopped.

Pension rate for a veteran who is permanently and totally disabled is $66.15 a month. After the veteran has received the pension for 10 years or has reached age 65, the rate is increased to $78.75. A veteran who is receiving a pension and who needs aid and attendance of another person or who is helpless or blind may be eligible for the top rate of $135.45 a month if he is not in a VA hospital or home.

City Council Okays Repairs At Light Plant

The Charlevoix City council, meeting Monday night, authorized city superintendent Hal M. Hill to proceed with the repair of the municipal light plant following the recent fire which did an estimated $9 to $10,000 damage of the interior and roof of the plant located on Ferry ave. The repair work will be done on a per diem basis.

The council also adopted a parking order prohibiting parking on the north side of Hurlbut ave., between Bridge and State sts. The order will become effective as soon as signs can be made.

Two resolutions were adopted and the city clerk ordered to forward copies to interested persons. The first endorsed Senate Bill 1001 which is sponsored by the Michigan Municipal League and calls for uniform traffic regulations for municipalities under 25,000. The second endorsed the efforts of the Great Lakes Harbor Association to obtain the connecting waters of the Great Lakes.

Bills totaling $30,102.29 were approved and ordered paid.

The 1956 Mothers March against polio will be staged at 7 p. m. tonight (Thursday) with more than 75 mothers calling on homes in their respective area to solicit funds for the annual March of Dimes fund campaign.

Ward captains Mrs. Robert Livingston, valley; Mrs. Robert Wallace, northside; Mrs. section and Mrs. William Lusk, southwest section, will head the corps of volunteer workers.

All residents of the community are urged to have their contributions ready for the canvassers who are contributing their time to the Mothers March.

The Mothers March is only one of several events planned during the next 10 days for the benefit of the March of Dimes.

On Friday night a blanket pitch will be held during the Charlevoix-Harbor Springs basketball game.

A smorgasbord, one of the most popular events during the winter season, will be held at the Airport Bar Monday evening. The supper will feature roast turkey, baked ham and a variety of other foods all of which will be donated. Proceeds from the event will all go to the March of Dimes.

Services Held For Miller Brothers, Former Residents

News of the death of Archie Miller, 76, of Detroit, on Jan. 11 and of his brother, Charles Miller, 79, also of Detroit, on Jan. 13, has been received by their half-sister, Mrs. Pearl Johnson.

Funeral services for the former, retired engineer, were held at St. Mary's church Jan. 14. Services for the latter, a retired carpenter and Spanish American War veteran, were held at the same church Jan. 16. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery.

Former Charlevoix residents, both had lived in southern Michigan for many years.

Will Taylor who now resides in Atlanta, and Lawrence Taylor of Detroit are also a half-brothers of the pair.

The printing industry expends the smallest amount of money for research of any of the nations industries reporting in the 1952 survey of manufacturers.

Christian Science Society To Hold Opening Services

The Christian Science Society will hold services in its new church located at 205 Clinton st., for the first time this Sunday.

The morning service at 11 a. m. will be preceded by Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. The reading room will be open from 3 to 5 p. m. Saturday.

The public is invited to attend the services.

The new church, which is nearing completion, replaces the frame building which was destroyed by fire Feb. 6, 1955.

An open house is being planned at a later date.

Building Needs To Be Discussed At Farmer's Week

Buildings heated with sunlight, farm home remodeling, roof truss construction and answers to farm building problems will be features of the Farmers' Week program at Michigan State University, Jan. 30—Feb. 3.

One of the featured speakers, Prof. Glenn Bressler of Pennsylvania State University, will tell about his study of solar-type poultry houses throughout the U. S.

He will show how laying hens are being housed with only one square foot of floor area per hen. This is part of the Feb. 1 program.

Dr. J. S. Boyd, a farm building specialist at M. S. U., will show practical and economical ways to solve remodeling problems by the owner.

Burton F. Cargill, an extension agricultural engineer, will show how to eliminate interior pests or poles in farm buildings up to 40 feet wide. A full-sized 24-foot truss will be cut and assembled with glue and nails for the demonstration.

Many exhibits showing the latest in farm building and equipment will be shown during the week of the farm and home event. The use of solar energy for various purposes also will be demonstrated.

Northern Class 'C' Conference To Open Second Half This Week

Northern Michigan Class C teams will begin the second half of their current schedule this week with Boyne City traveling to Manelona; East Jordan entertaining Grayling; Pellston playing at Gaylord and Charlevoix hosting Harbor Springs.

The Boyne City Ramblers will be defending their first-place position this week when they travel to Manelona to take on the Ironmen who last week upset the Charlevoix Rayders on their home floor. The Ramblers remained alone in the league lead after their victory last week over Grayling and the Rayders loss to Manelona. The Ironmen will be trying to repeat last week's performance with an upset of the league leaders and in addition, will be trying to avenge an earlier loss to the Ramblers, so they can be depended on to put up a good scrap but they will be no match for the big boys from Boyne City who are well on their way to the loop title.

In their first meeting the Grayling Vikings defeated the young, inexperienced East Jordan five but since then the Jordanites have worked their way into a tie for third place and after a lop-sided win over Pellston last week seem to be on their way to bigger and better things. With the advantage of playing on their home floor, East Jordan could give the Vikings a tough game. The edge, however, must go to the veteran Viking squad.

Gaylord moved out of the league cellar last week with a win over Harbor Springs and this week the Blue Devils will be out to better themselves even more in league standings. Pellston, however, will have their top scorer and team sparkplug Frank Durkalec, back in the lineup after a bout with the measles, so they should be back in form for their meeting with the Gaylord five whom they defeated earlier in the season. Fired by over their loss to East Jordan, Pellston seems destined to return to the ranks of the winners this week to rack up their first win in the new year.

The Charlevoix organization is offering prizes of $10, $5 and $2.50 for the best essay entered by local high school students. The essays will be judged by a committee to be named later and the winning essay will be entered in the state contest which is offering prizes of savings bonds and silver medals. First prize is a $100 savings bond; second prize, a $50 bond; third prize, $25 and three cash prizes of $10 each.

Mrs. Courtade has all the necessary information regarding the contest and is prepared to give it to all interested students. Deadline for entering the contest is Mar. 15.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

If you haven't seen some of your friends recently, don't be alarmed. . . . Chances are they were readers of one of the three Detroit newspapers that were off the newsstand for so long and now that the newspapers are being published again they're probably catching up on the funnies.

We're one of those old-fashioned people who listen to the radio. . . . in fact, it's on a good part of every day and usually turned to music. . . . One of the popular songs we've been hearing a lot lately has us puzzled. . . . Which guy did she finally marry, Jim or Fred? . . . Of course we're talking about "Go on with the wedding". . . . Personally we think that Jim was nothing but an egotist, turning up at the last minute and throwing a monkey wrench in the wedding plans after being gone so long. . . . And Fred. . . . well, any guy who'd give up without even an argument. . . . he wasn't worth having anyway. . . . But we'd still like to know. . . . which one she did marry?

Everyone has a candidate for the meanest man but we think the heartless hunter who shot the mother bear in her den near Kalkaska recently should be awarded that "honor". Maybe you read about it. . . . We heard it from some of the crew of the conservation department who were working in the area. . . . They had seen the four cubs who were found by a couple hunters who'd heard their cries. . . . When the pair investigated they found the mother had been shot only a short time before for she was still warm. . . . and with her four little ones. . . . so small their eyes weren't open and they couldn't stand up. . . . The cubs were turned over to the conservation department who sent them to the zoo at Traverse City. . . . And the search is still on for the heartless hunter. . . . Incidentally, a litter of four cubs is most unusual. . . . 'tis said.

Making quilts was once a popular winter pastime but it's something one rarely hears of anymore. . . . Gee we can remember when a quilting bee was a popular social event and some homes always seemed to have a quilt on a-frame. . . . And if someone dropped in for a visit everyone would sit around a quilt. . . . How did that happen to come to mind. . . . Since we're a clearing house for so

BABY TALK

Mr. and Mrs. George Hiller of Chicago announce the birth of a son, Geoffrey George, born Jan. 12. Mrs. Hiller is the former Joan Loeb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert A. Loeb Jr. of Chicago and Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rayman of Pontiac are the parents of a son, Micheal Ray, born Jan. 16.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burdick of Detroit are the parents of a son, Larry Ray, born Jan. 17. Mrs. Burdick is the former Nancy Swanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Swanson.

many things, someone asked the other day if we knew anyone who could use some pieces of material, which weren't big enough for much of anything else. . . . If you know someone who could use 'em, give us a buzz. . . . There may be someone who makes those beautiful double wedding ring, flower garden or some of those famous patterns.

It's amazing the kind of news that will make the press wires. . . . Take the story about the Loeb Farm and that it is being subdivided. . . . As a story in the middle-west, particularly Michigan and the Chicago area, we could understand but it was also carried on the west coast. . . . Quite a story was used in a Pasadena, Calif., newspaper. . . . The clipping was sent to us by Robert McLean, our Scotch friend who is spending the winter in the west.

Forgot to mention last week how nice it was to have the band playing at the basketball games again. . . . Of course, they'll only make one more appearance this year and that at the final game. . . . at least that's the plan now. . . . But they sure sounded mighty sharp. . . . Too bad we won't be hearing more of them.

Were you one of those lucky people who heard the dePaur Infantry Chorus in Petoskey last week? How those fellows could sing. . . . and everything they sang was more beautiful than the last. . . . We'd hate to have to name a favorite selection. The Northern Michigan Concert Association should be commended for bringing such grand things to northern Michigan. We understand the organization is planning something really big in honor of its tenth anniversary.

What would you do if your eldest and supposedly brightest called from school with the news that he was bringing a dozen friends home for the weekend? . . . Paint on the spot or say OK? To some that may sound like a hypothetical question but to the Pete Burns family it was an actuality last week. . . . Larry called from East Lansing with the news on Friday and before anyone was able to catch their breath, 'cause everyone was going every which way preparing for the guests. There they were. . . . all 14 of 'em. . . . but four went on to Petoskey returning only for the winter sports activities and supper and an evening before the T.V. . . . Mrs. B. said she didn't know whether to be flattered that her son had that much confidence in them or to be perturbed. So far she hasn't had time to make up her mind.

The sharp eyes of Corrie Geiken noticed this in the letters to the editor in a recent copy of the Saturday Evening Post. . . . Written by our friend Will E. Hampton Sr., now of Dearborn, it told the origin of the story which he heard some 80 years ago in Emmet county, Michigan about the preacher who prayed for help but added, "Please, Lord, no more pepper". . . . According to his version it originated during the early days when homesteaders were needing aid from 'outside' to get through the severe winter of 1876 and was credited to a parson praying for help, and in his enthusiasm asked for a "barl" of pork, and a barl of flour, and a barl of sugar and a barl of pepper. . . . no, Lord, not so much pepper". And Mr. Hampton should know for he's now some 92 years old.

Tells GI Insurance Holders Of Rules

Only eligible GI insurance policyholders who wish to change the method of payment for the regular annual 1956 dividend are required to notify Veterans Administration of the payment method desired, it was announced this week.

Those who wish to receive their 1956 dividend in the same manner as in the past are not required to notify V. A. of that fact because their previous payment method will be applied automatically.

Charlevoixans To Picnic In West

The fourth annual Charlevoix-California picnic will be held in Glendale, Calif., Sunday Feb. 5, Gala E. Hines and Charles H. Emrey, co-chairmen of the event, have announced.

The lodge in Brand Park at the intersection of Grand View ave. and Mountain ave., in Glendale will be the site of the annual event which will be held at 12 noon, rain or shine.

All Charlevoix residents visiting in the area as well as former Charlevoixans residing in Calif., are invited to attend the picnic. Charlevoix residents who have relatives and friends residing in California who might not otherwise know about the picnic are asked to notify them. As Mr. Hines said, "The lists at hand are year's affair the best yet so won't you cooperate by letting former Charlevoix residents know about it."

Girl Scout News

Mrs. Chester Belfy spoke to Girl Scout troop 12 about her experience at the school for the blind where she once taught. She explained how Braille writing was done and also showed slides of activities at the school, including football, tap dancing, cheerleading, graduation, dancing parties and tumbling. She also said that girls from the fifth through the twelfth grades had home economics.

We took dues and attendance and after passing the nibble box furnished by Laurie Terr we went home.

Frances Arnold, Scribe

Girl Scout troop 12 met recently at the Congregational church. We worked on our ditty bags. The girls who did not have the material for the ditty bags worked on ropes. After a goodnight circle we went home.

Garlyn Bice, scribe.

Girl Scout troop 10 met Tuesday at the city hall.

We opened the meeting by reciting the Girl Scout promise. We then worked on our citizenship badges.

Patsy Whitley brought a treat of cookies for refreshments. After a goodnight circle we went home.

Elva Trimble, scribe.

Brownie Scout troop 2 met last week at the kindergarten room. Girl Scout troop 8 came and pinned our Brownie pins on us. We had refreshments and went home.

Linca Supernaw, scribe.

Garden Club Looks To Seed Catalogs

"Seed catalogs, a cozy chair, what more?" was the topic of the lesson presented by Mrs. Gordon Freedman at the Garden club which met at the home of Mrs. Ralph V. Hess Tuesday afternoon.

A sound film, "Growing a flower garden from seed" was also shown.

Mrs. Fred Willis had the flower arrangement at the meeting, an arrangement of evergreens and dried materials.

Garden tip: the greatest dream books ever written are seed catalogs.

At the close of the business session Mrs. Hess served refreshments.

There are two thousand magazine publishing firms in the United States with a total volume of more than one billion dollars annually.

Farmers can seed the new and better Vernal alfalfa if they buy it quickly while supplies last, re- turn one billion dollars annually.

Rabbits Can Harm Trees And Shrubs In Winter Months

Rabbits can do serious damage to trees and shrubs in winter, cautions Ed Rehmman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Their normal food supply consists of shoots, branches and buds as well as bark. If rabbits are numerous in your area apply a repellent on valuable trees and shrubs as a cheap and effective way to prevent rabbits damage.

Agent Rehmman passes along this recommendation for repellent from Don Hayne, zoologist, and H. A. Cardwell, horticulturist, of Michigan State University. Mix seven pounds of resin in one gallon of ethyl alcohol and allow to sit overnight before using. The M. S. U. specialists point out that only ethyl alcohol should be used. Methyl alcohol (or methanol) will not dissolve the resin. Don't heat the mixture, says agent Rehmman. And don't be alarmed if the mixture turns white as its effectiveness is not harmed.

The final product is a heavy varnish-like mixture that should be applied to the trees with a paint brush. It is not effective on the snowshoe rabbit, the M. S. U. specialists warn.

Agent Rehmman also says that the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service has recently developed a repellent called TNB-A which will be tested for use under Michigan conditions soon. He warns that TNB-A should not be used on coniferous trees such as evergreens.

Voice of Our Readers . . .

Regarding article in this paper Jan. 19, under the heading of Ellsworth Spatlight about a meeting of the Ellsworth Chamber of Commerce members, called with the purpose in mind, to gather ideas and opinions of these men on two important community problems.

1. Sudden requirements of the Morwell Steel Products Corp., Fabricating Div., who manufacture House Trailer frames.

2. Discussion of means of promoting of additional housing, as many employees of local industries cannot find housing.

The discussion of the expansion dwelled into the complex problem of availability of land in the Village of Ellsworth for the large amount of facilities, due to increasing demands for the products of this fabricating division of Morwell Steel Products Corp.

The final consensus of this body was, that they would wholeheartedly cooperate as they have in the past, to do what they could to advance progress in this community.

It has been implicated by the article of Jan. 19, that I would make a vicious remark, inferring unless I received the Village of Ellsworth Park for expansion of Morwell Steel Products Corp., that I would remove the entire operations of Morwell Steel Products Corp., elsewhere. This is obviously and completely false.

I wish to state, as President of the Morwell Steel Products Corp., that because of their splendid cooperation the people of this great community have enabled us to forge ahead in a highly competitive field, increasing an annual combined payroll from the first year of operation of this company of approx. $50,000.00 to well over $150,000.00. Approx. Gross Sales of $150,000 to present year of over $400,000.

In regards to the village park, this article inferred that we were going to take over the entire park, this is not true. Our requirements were 250 ft. north of present property, this would be used immediately as there would be mediately as there would be immediately erected a temporary frame building, enabling the Frame Div. to increase its production over 100%. This doesn't mean that we are going to vacate our present plant for the operation, on the contrary this is merely to relieve the congestion that we now face. The facilities of our present plant was view by many of the gentlemen at this meeting. As for actual advantages to the village, not withstanding the fact that it would immediately become tax paying property. The immediate benefits to the community with this operation, even though this is not a large expansion will result in at least the employment of 15 to 20 men.

Also contained in the article was the statement that the village was in the process of securing property of the Conservation fishing site, this has been sorely needed by the Company for enlargement of the Tool & Die facilities of Morwell, due to the expansion of their other divisions.

To set the record straight we have in process an over all expansion program, which includes the erection of 20,000 sq. ft. to present Stamping plant (now in process) and the north end, on north end of main plant 3,500 sq. ft. steel warehouse, which is also in process; 10,000 sq. ft. floor space (south) which will be located on fishing site property for Tool & Die, Machining facilities; 1200 sq. ft. building across road on Railroad, property now in process for mechanical maintenance of trucks and other mobile units.

The expansion program now in process, has been going on for the past two years, this didn't include the sudden demand for the expansion of the fabricating div. of our product of trailer frames. Due to the size and nature of this product, none of the present facilities in process or otherwise are feasible.

We wish to thank this newspaper for allowing us to explain in detail the facts of this community problem.

As for myself and family we have enjoyed the opportunity to live and participate as a citizen of this community.

Michigan State University's annual Farmers' Week has been set for Jan. 30 to Feb. 3 on the campus at East Lansing.

Jackson County Youth To Tell Of Foreign Trip

Visiting relatives is always fun, but it is even more so when visiting relatives in a foreign country. Sharing his grandparents' home in Germany is part of the experience that Friedrich (correct) Henningsen, Jackson county youth and International Farm Youth Exchange, will relate during Farmers' Week. He will be joined by Rhola Kelly, Ingham county girl, who was as 'I'VE to Turkey, in telling the story of an 'I'VE's visit to a foreign land.

A part of the first day's women's program during Farmers' Week, Rhoda and Fred will share the spotlight at 1:30 p.m. in the University auditorium. Women's programs will be held Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of the week-long event, (Jan. 30-Feb. 3).

Rhoda will take the audience to Greece via colored slides and show how women work in the field picking cotton and tobacco; how they cook outside and how young girls embroider, spin and dower.

Following Rhoda and Fred on the Farmers' Week program will be a landscape architect from M. S. U., Joseph Cox, who will tell the audience how to improve the fashion of their homes.

Panel Discussion Is Feature Of Banks P.T.A. Meet

A panel discussion on "What does Ellsworth expect from its teachers?" was the main feature of the program at the January meeting of the Banks P. T. A., held at the school house Tuesday evening of last week. In the absence of Dr. Spacie of Central Michigan college, Mr. Pleasant, Superintendent Richard Lather, served as moderator. Participating were Rev. W. L. Silvers, Mrs. Roris Wieland, Mrs. Jean Rood and Harry Essenberg.

Qualifications mentioned and discussed were patience, scholarly ability, adequate training, a desire to further education and doing it, a genuine liking of the pupils, a dedication to the work of teaching, good character, results of teaching child should be evident, impartiality in treatment of pupils, and a teacher should be a leader not a reformer.

Musical numbers on the program were presented by the clarinet quintet composed of Joan Drenth, Patsy McPherson, Claudia Dawson, Theora Evans, and Judy DeYoung; and the brass quintet composed of Sandra Carpenter, Shirley Sitzema, Steve Carpenter, Mary Jean Essenberg and William Elzinga.

Lunch was served by the committee composed of Mesdames Arthur Drenth, Gerrit John Drenth, Thale Yettaw, Allie Klooster, Maynard Fielstra, Minert Veenstra, Walter Rood and Levi Donaldson.

The Loggers got off to a fast start and led the Lancers 25-15 at the half but the Lancers were able to come back and tie the game in the last half. Two overtime periods were played to give Boyne Falls the two point win. D. Prawdzik scored 17 points for Boyne Falls and Evans scored 13 for Ellsworth.

The Ellsworth reserves won 29-23 for the Boyne Falls reserve team.

Washing Eggs Is Good Practice To Aid In Marketing

Washing eggs is a good practice, if you use the correct cleaning compound in the right way. Although every effort should be made to produce clean eggs, some will need to be cleaned before marketing, say Ed Reberman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

"Sour" eggs resulting from improper washing is one of the main problems in egg marketing, according to Larry Dawson, poultry specialist at Michigan State University.

Agent Reberman says Dawson recommends that a detergent—sanitizer be used to wash eggs in all cases. An ordinary household type detergent merely washed off the dirt and does not get rid of bacteria in eggs shell pores.

Detergent—sanitizers, which are readily available in many commercial forms, kill or inhibit the growth of bacteria on egg shell. The cleaners are specially made for egg cleaning use.

Agent Reberman suggests that dirty eggs be soaked in warm solution (110 to 120 degrees F.) for about five minutes. Follow directions on the package as to strength of the sanitizer solution.

More consumers are buying poultry meat all through the week rather than just on weekends and holidays according to a Maine survey, reports J. M. (Mae) Moore, M.S.U. extension poultryman.

Rayders Lose To Mancelona By 56-54 In Overtime

Boyne City Wins To Take Over Top Spot

The Charlevoix Rayders were dumped from first place in the Northern Michigan Class C league Friday night by the Mancelona Ironmen who came from behind to tie the score 52-52 at the regulation game ended and to win an overtime 56-54.

At the same time Boyne City was defeating Grayling 76-49 to break the three-way tie for the league lead and to assume sole possession of first place in league standings as the first half of the current season drew to a close last weekend.

This week the Rayders will host the Harbor Springs Rams who were left alone in the league cellar Friday when they were defeated by Gaylord. The Rams have only one win to their credit this season, a 47-45 over the Rayders in the first game of the season.

Last week the Charlevoix five, playing at Mancelona, were clipped by the Ironmen in an upset.

If the Rayders play the kind of ball they are capable of playing they should have no trouble with the visitors whose line-up has been re-shuffled since the first game. Coach Ivan Davis Jr. said Monday that the team will be without the services of regular Tor Larsen who injured his arm in a skiing accident. He has also brought up two sophomores, Ace Allarding and Pete Graham to replace Gary Conington and Jerry Reinwand, both seniors and regulars earlier in the season who are no longer with the team.

Playing at Mancelona the Rayders went into a 12-7 first period lead, pulling ahead 29-20 at half-time and held the nine point advantage 43-34 going into the final quarter. Playing determined, ball the Ironmen slowly closed the gap to tie the score as the final whistle sounded. In the overtime period, the Rayders missed several lay-up shots, scoring only one field goal to two for the victors.

Starting for the Rayders were Charlie Dennis, Gary Vandenberg, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson and Kenny Balch with Norm Helms who was top scorer for the Rayders with 14 points going into the line-up in the first period and Kit Carson seeing action in the final quarter.

The Rayders got off to a good start with Vandenberg scoring four points and Swanson, Balch, Helms adding a field goal apiece and Walker two free throws for a 12-7 first period lead. The Ironmen scored three field goals and one gift shot.

In the second period the Rayders continued to outscore the Ironmen, scoring 17 points on two field goals and a charity shot by Swanson, two field goals each by Balch and Helms, one two-point shot by Carson and a gift shot by Walker while Mancelona came through with 13 points on two field goals and nine gift shots.

The Ironmen kept pace with the Rayders scoring six field goals and two free shots while the Rayders were holding on to the lead with four points each by Vandenberg, Swanson and Helms and two free throws by Walker.

With a victory within their grasp an inspired Mancelona five outscored Charlevoix 18-9 in the final period to tie the score 52-52. Mancelona dumped in seven field goals and four free throws to cut the Rayders margin in nothing as the regulation game ended. Helms scored two field goals, Walker one field goal, his only one in the game, and two free throws and Vandenberg connected for two free throws.

In the overtime Bob Johnson scored a field goal but Balch came back to tie the score 54-54.

Play ball! Rayder center Quint Walker (17) and Mancelona center Bob Hardy (55) reach for the ball in the opening play of the Charlevoix-Mancelona game Friday night as their team-mates prepare for action outside the jump circle. Poised for action are Guy Swanson (6) and John Phillips (44).

Little Rayders Defeat Ironmen Reserves 46-30

Charlevoix's Reserves chalked up a 46-30 victory over the Mancelona Reserves Friday night.

Paced by Bobby Mol who came through with 25 points, the little Rayders were trailing 11-9 at the first quarter but made a comeback in the second period to outscore their opponents 15-5 for a 24-16 halftime advantage. In the second half Charlevoix continued to outscore Mancelona 12-6 and 10-8 for the victory.

Starting for the Rayders were Tom Lakies, Dale Putman, Mol, Kenny Case and John Bingham. Others seeing action were: Larry Ingalls, Bill Poquette, Steve LaBlance, Stan Harwood, Mike Genett and Ron Vandenberg.

Mancelona dumped in five field goals and one free throw to take a first period 11-9 lead after the Rayders scoring had been confined to two field goals and two gift shots by Mol and three from the free throw circle by Putman.

In the second quarter, however, the Rayders came back to score 15 points including five buckets and a free throw by Mol and field goals by Putman and LaBlance. Mancelona scored two field goals and a free throw.

The Rayders continued to pace the game in the third period with 12 points. Mol accounted for eight with three two-pointers and two free throws and Putman and Bingham for one field goal apiece. Mancelona was limited to four free throws and one field goal.

With the line-up changing rapidly the local five dumped in 10 points to eight for the Ironmen in the final period. Case hit for two field goals; Vandenberg and LaBlance for one apiece and Ingalls and Putman for one free throw each. Mancelona scored on

As time ran out, Johnson, who only scored six points in the game, dumped in the winning basket.

Mancelona outscored the Rayders 20-19 in the field goal department. The Ironmen scored 16 of 28 free throws and committed 17 personal fouls. The Rayders scored on 16 of 29 free throw attempts and also committed 17 personal fouls.

John Phillips was top scorer for the victors with 14 points.

Charlevoix Soil Conservation District Progressive In County

Conservation of our nation's resources has been readily accepted in our way of life today, but just accepting the term conservation isn't enough. Conservation must be put to action. Your locally administered Soil Conservation District, which is a local subdivision of State government, has the responsibility of administering the soil and water conservation program within the district's boundaries as established by law.

Many From County Planning To Attend MSU Farmers Week

Charlevoix county will be represented at Michigan State University's Farmers' week by at least 150 people. Ed Rebmam, county agricultural agent, presides. The event starts on Monday of next week and runs through Friday.

Agent Rebmam said the traditional midwinter event offers many items of interest to farmers and homemakers of this area. Included are: horse pulling contests, a farm program, judging of silage samples, 4-H talent show, operation for hardware in cattle, and many others.

It would be wise, Rebmam cautions, to make reservations for rooms as soon as possible if you're planning to stay overnight. Between 30,000 and 40,000 people will visit the M. S. U. campus before the week is over, he says. The county extension office at Boyne City can help with reservations.

Besides the educational programs planned for all week, farmers will be able to see and examine new machines that will be on public display for the first time.

In action. Present directors are Clayton Healey, president; Harold Goehel, vice-president; Robert Straw, treasurer; Robert Reidel, machinery chairman; John Wieland, education chairman, have not left the term conservation an idle term.

Since the district program has been in operation in October 1948, it has done much to apply soil and water conservation on the land and educate everyone to its importance.

At present there are 198 cooperators in the district program. This includes 107 basic plans. A basic plan is when a land owner has recorded his decision to use land within its capabilities and treat it according to its needs.

The remaining cooperators are in various stages toward completing a basic plan.

Some of the up to date permanent type conservation accomplishments the cooperators have done are 3451 acres of contour strip cropping, 3,696 feet open ditches, 13,500 tile drain, 6,336 feet of diversion and planting of nearly 300,000 trees.

Some of the educational phases last year were the continuation of the soil run-off plots, stewardship Sunday, conservation Air Tour.

Many soil and water problems become complex and the cooperation of various agencies and organizations are needed to facilitate the program.

Charlevoix County Road Commission has been very cooperative with district in regards to drainage outlets and courses. Extension Service through the County agent Ed Rebmam and 4-H Club agent K. C. Festerling have aided the district in the educational field and technical advice.

Soil Conservation Service of the U. S. D. A. furnishes the technical assistance through Bill Grimm, farm planner. The A. C. P. program through Joanne Carpenter office manager, gives incentive payments to land owners in adapting soil and water conservation practices. Farmers Home Administration through Carl

Brown, gives financial help in getting these conservation practices established. The concerted effort then of these agencies has done much in assisting the district in their various needs and given the land owner the opportunity to utilize the services as their desires warrant.

Rough Edges

It is no great job to collect fire-wood along the forest's edge this winter. Fallen limbs topped trees lie everywhere, making soft mounds in the snow. With help of axe and saw and sled the dead wood is cut into handy lengths and hauled to the cabin. There, while winter howls about the corners of the house and with icy knuckles raps upon the windows, a blazing fire, heedless of winter's commotion, will dreamily nod, grunting in sleepy comfort. Much of the glory of winter is found in gathering wood and burning it in an ample fireplace.

We would seldom have to touch a thriving, growing tree on our acreage in order to have fireplace provender. In this heavily wooded area there are enough dead and dying trees to satisfy the fire's vast hunger. Sometimes, when picking up fuel from the forest floor, my pleasure is blighted to a wee degree by an awareness that I am profiting by nature's oversight in not dressing the injuries of her long-limbed, high-crowned children. Many a tree is ravaged by disease and dies because when a limb falls under the snow's great weight or is broken by whipping winds, the wood receives no attention. It is then attacked by insects and disease. Often a damaged tree could be saved if the rough edges of its wounds were trimmed away. But nature does little such trimming, and so the wilderness man does none, and in the trees are left vulnerable to insects, disease and death.

Few secrets of successful living are more important than this: take care of the rough edges. It is there that we are most exposed to disease that eat away at personality, character and happiness.

- Before a little domestic quarrel becomes an infected wound and heart deep bitterness and decay set in, take care of the rough edges.
- Before a slight misunderstanding with an acquaintance or friend can become a big one, take care of the rough edges.
- Before single, conquerable mistakes become unconquerable habits, take care of the rough edges.
- Before petty pretensions become major hypocrasies, take care of the rough edges.
- Before trifling selfishness becomes gaping greediness, take care of the rough edges.
- Before faultfinding becomes quarrelsomeness and scolding, take care of the rough edges.

It doesn't take long for occasional faultfinding to become nagging. When you first find yourself looking for faults in others, and experiencing pleasure in criticism—beware. Ask yourself why you disparage others so heartily. Is it because you feel small and want to cut others down to your size? Is it the fear that others have something you lack, and you turn away from your inadequacies to see if others don't possess worse deficiencies than you own? When you point a finger of accusation at another, the remaining three fingers point backward, at yourself. Try it and see. Now, take care of those rough edges.

Before an occasional disobedience to the known will of God becomes a pervading indifference to God, take care of the rough edges.

Aldous Huxley once told how, when he did something foolish or wrong, he would draw up a genealogy of the blunder. He knew the mistake had a family tree, and he would search for it. What were its parents and ancestors? What would its descendants be like, in Huxley's life and in the lives of others?

Every big blunder and every gross sin has a history, an origin in some small and neglected failure. And all little, overlooked wrongdoings will grow and spread.

Like trees of the northland we shall all be laden with wintry burdens, and all shall be whipped by heavy winds, and like trees that lose twigs and branches, we shall all be marred. But the injuries need not be fatal. We can keep on thriving and growing, if the damage is mended, the rough edges are trimmed and the scars are allowed to heal. Take care of the rough edges.

Will Discuss Winter Sports Plans Feb. 8

Plans for winter sports facilities in the Charlevoix area will be discussed at an open meeting to be held at the city hall at 8 p. m. Wednesday, Gordon Neff, chairman of a winter sports committee named at a recent meeting of the Charlevoix Development Corporation, has announced.

Mr. Neff has urged all persons interested in establishing a winter sports program in the immediate area attend the meeting Wednesday night at which a report of the survey made by the committee will be given.

At Pledge, ski instructor at Avalon Park in Boyne City, visited a proposed site at Mt. McSaba and made several suggestions regarding the site. Mr. Neff said. He said the site had many possibilities and suggested that a 1200 ft. ski run be started, that the committee get an estimate on the work and that a ski tow be installed and a ski lodge constructed as a start. He said that future plans should include bob, led and toboggan slides, additional ski runs and a skating rink in the immediate area.

The winter sports committee plan to present its findings at the regular meeting of the city council Monday night, Mr. Neff said. On Wednesday the group will report on the council's reaction to the proposal and on plans for financing the project.

Last week approximately 40 interested persons attended the meeting. Mr. Neff hopes that the figure will be doubled this week.

World in Review

President Eisenhower has rejected a surprise Soviet proposal for a 20-year "friendship treaty" with the United States. The President said the Russian plan "might indeed work against the cause of peace."

British Prime Minister Eden was in Washington this week for strategy talks with President Eisenhower on combating Communism in Asia and the Middle East.

The Atomic Energy Commission reports a big expansion of its research program aimed at eventually harnessing the deadly hydrogen bomb for peaceful development of power.

The United States, at least for the present, will look for some way to settle the Israeli-Arab dispute on the diplomatic front rather than join in any arms race.

The American Legion has expressed strong opposition to a Hoover commission recommendation for creation of a federal advisory council of health to act as intermediary between the Veterans Administration and the President.

Prime Minister Eden has pledged Britain full support to President Eisenhower's statement of policy that Russia should cease world tension by deeds, not words.

Gov. Williams challenged the GOP peace and prosperity campaign slogan this week and said he would be "right in back" of Adlai Stevenson for president if Stevenson proves "he is not for a program of moderation."

The House unanimously approved an estimated 60 million dollars a year relief for the farmer recently by voting to exempt them from federal taxes gasoline used in farming.

The French National assembly by a big majority approved Socialist Guy Mollet as the nation's 22nd postwar premier.

At 12:01 tomorrow (Friday) it will be unlawful to drive on any state, county or township roadway in Michigan at speeds over 55 mph after dark, and 65 mph during daylight. Lesser limits remain in effect.

President Eisenhower has given up his fight to pay for a big highway program through bond issues. He has agreed to a Democratic plan to finance the roads with tax increases.

Gov. Williams is urging the legislature to appropriate an additional three million dollars for State park purposes.

Job Of Cleaning Light Plant Gets Underway Here

The job of cleaning the Charlevoix municipal light plant following the recent fire was started last week and is expected to take about three weeks, Hal M. Hill, city superintendent said this week.

The Lake Construction Co. workmen are doing the job on a per diem basis.

Live steam was necessary to remove the coat of greasy film from the walls and equipment on the ground floor of the plant where the fire started when fuel oil from a broken line dripped on the air compressor motor. On the main floor of the plant workmen are washing the walls which were black from the oil-filled smoke and the equipment before repainting them.

The 300 kw engine which was damaged in the fire is being repaired and cleaned. While it is out of use, the engine will be over-hauled.

Windows will be replaced when the cleaning program is completed.

An estimated $9,000 to $10,000 damage was caused by the fire Jan. 20.

Special Events Over Weekend Planned For Polio Fund Campaign

The 1956 March of Dimes fund campaign for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis in Charlevoix will be brought to a climax this weekend with a benefit basketball game between the Charlevoix Independents and the Mancelona Ironmen in the high school gymnasium Saturday night and a turkey dinner at Liston's restaurant from 1 to 7 p. m. Sunday. Arnold Wadot, local chairman, has announced.

The benefit basketball game will be played at 8 p. m. Saturday night and will feature the Charlevoix Independents wearing their scarlet and white uniforms for the first time. The two teams are evenly matched and the game should be a close one with plenty of excitement. No admission will be charged but a collection will be taken.

On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Liston will give a turkey dinner at their restaurant for the benefit of the March of Dimes. The dinner will mark the re-opening of the restaurant and will feature turkey and all the trimmings, all of which will be contributed by the couple. Williams Pastry shop will donate the rolls and the use of its ovens for roasting the turkey. Members of St. Mary's Rosary Altar society will make the pies.

Serving will begin at 1 p. m. and continue until 7 p. m., thus giving everyone an opportunity to eat Sunday dinner at their accustomed hour.

Tickets for the dinner may be purchased at Liston's restaurant, Mrs. Charles Bellinger who is ticket chairman, and the Central Drug store.

The fund drive in the Charlevoix area had netted a total of $1,498.99 Tuesday night, Mr. Wadot said Wednesday. In making the announcement he urged everyone to patronize the benefit basketball game Saturday night and the turkey dinner at Liston's restaurant Sunday in an effort to bring this year's figure closer to the $2,000 mark.

Latest contributions to the fund include $455.82 from the Mother's March; $66.50, blanket pitch during Charlevoix Harbor Springs game; $76.90, Coffee Day; $25.00, Holy Name Society of St. Mary's church; $50.00, Charlevoix Rod and Gun club Auxiliary; $5.00, Rebekah lodge; $15.00, V. ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

This is an S.O.S. . . . After our offer of quilt pieces last week we've been deluged with calls. . . . So help us, we never knew there were so many people around who still made quilts. . . . We not only got rid of those we had but now need more so if you're one of those people who hoard pieces with the idea of using them sometime but never quite do it. . . . We know where they can be put to some good use. . . . Give us a ring. . . .

Did you know that our great state celebrated a birthday anniversary last week. . . . It's 118th. . . . and to our way of thinking it certainly doesn't show its age. . . . In fact Michigan's getting lovelier all the time. . . . It was back on Jan. 26, 1837 that the Michigan territory was taken in to the great family which was to number 48 in our day. . . . Not a bad move on the part of our forefathers, we say. . . .

Have you happened to stop by the ice rink recently? . . . If you haven't you're missing a great treat. . . . It's more fun watching those youngsters just about any size you'd like to mention getting their bearings and taking off. . . . Don't know any project that provides as much fun for all the kids as the rink. . . . This winter they've had more than usual, it seems for there hasn't been too much snow since the holidays and lots of cold weather that keeps the ice singing cold under the sharp blades. . . . Oh, to be a kid again and glide around like angels on silver runners. . . .

And speaking of fun. . . . no one had any more than the Charlevoix youngsters who were lucky enough to see the Shrine circus in Grand Rapids last week. . . . On Monday 11 crippled children from the community plus one little guy from Walloon Lake made the trip from Traverse City. . . . They left here about 5 a. m., boarded the train in Traverse City shortly after 7 a. m. and were on their way. . . . From what we hear they couldn't have been treated better. . . . Traverse City Shriners aboard the train were on hand with everything from comic books, treats, sandwiches, chocolate milk, candy bars. . . . name it and it was yours. . . . Every youngster took a nosebag lunch. . . . with the adults, Mrs. Gerald Boss and Mrs. C. M. Bice taking dozens of extra sandwiches and fruit and what have you. . . . If anyone went hungry it was his own fault. . . . And the circus. . . . well that was beyond description. . . . And they had the best seats in the house. . . . The big old bear fell out of his tiny cart almost at the feet of the Charlevoix group and liked to have scared the life out of one little gal. . . . Everything was done up brown. . . . And not till the train got back to Traverse and the youngsters loaded into cars for the trip home did they poo out and go to sleep. . . . Such planning, such cooperation, such generosity as went into the whole thing. . . . It was wonderful. . . .

And our seventy-some seventh graders loved every minute of it too. . . . A successful, and we might add, a brave undertaking to take that many youngsters that far. . . . With few exceptions they were angels. . . . and that's saying a lot. . . . Guess we'll go back to the seventh grade next year. . . .

Did you notice the ice field in Lake Michigan that moved in from the northeast for the first time this year. . . . We understand that there was really a big one about six miles out. . . . From now until it stays 'put' long enough to freeze we'll be seeing it regularly. . . . And when that happens we can really expect some cold weather. . . . For the open water serves 'as an air conditioner. . . .

Not much traffic on Round Lake these days so when something new appeared Saturday it was soon spotted. . . . the visitor happened to be a swan. . . . What it was doing flying around in the wind and sleet Saturday we don't know but Ted Bergman, bridge tender, called us just before noon to say he'd spotted it swimming (brrrr!) around in the open water near the municipal dock near the Emerald Isle. . . . But sometime during the afternoon it departed as silently as it had arrived. . . . Probably one of the East Jordan flock. . . . Incidentally, a shift in the wind direction blew in drift ice from Lake Michigan which plowed through the thin ice on Round Lake. . . . As a result there's little ice on the Lake. . . . Can you remember when Round Lake would be frozen over most of the winter and a regular village of fish shanties would appear like mushrooms over night. . . . And if you were real brave you could walk across the ice from the north side. . . . Chum, if you can remember that you're getting old. . . . cause' that was a long while ago. . . . At least 30 years, we might say. . . .

A belated birthday greeting to one of our summer residents. . . . a person who has made a niche in the hearts of so many Charlevoix people because of not only his generosity but for his kindness and thoughtfulness. . . . We hope that your seventy-fifth birthday anniversary was an extra special one, Alvin D. Goldman. . . . and that you were surrounded by your family and many friends 'cause we know that's what you'd like best. . . .

Lots of mail this week. . . . From Christ 'Pop' Drost who is vacationing in the Clearwater, Fla., area and having a wonderful time. . . . From Hawaii where Mrs. Russell Dundas is vacationing with relatives on the island of Oahu and enjoying the wonderful life of the islands. . . . Wouldn't be surprised if she greeted the guests at the Grey Gables Inn this summer with leis. . . . From Gaum where Pete Johnson is now stationed. . . . He and Keith Mort got together recently and discussed Charlevoix. . . . From Lake Worth, Fla., where the John Zeitler Sr. are thoroughly enjoying the warm weather and sunshine. . . . and where Mr. Z has replanted a garden which was killed in the recent cold spell in the south. . . . From Hallendale, Fla., where Clark Nehls is counting the days 'til he'll be back in Charlevoix. . . . From Mesa, Ariz., where the Bill Kerns are enjoying the sunshine although Mr. K. is waiting for better weather so he can come home although Mrs. K. is enjoying the stay. . . . They sent the letter from the Saturday Evening Post written by Will Hampton which we mentioned last week. . . . One thing about our friends. . . . they remember us when they're traip-

Two County Men Will Fill Quota

sin' around the country side . . .

Don't know much about the game of Penochle but we're told that this is really a rarity. . . . Seems Leo Putman was playing the game Sunday night with his sons and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Putman and Everett Putman. . . . He suffled the cards, his son cut them and he dealt each of the four players a complete run, each in different suits. . . . Evert got the bid on 39 and made the necessary points in the play off. . . . Those of you who know the game can appreciate this. . . . Mr. Putman said he'd played the game since he was a kid and had never seem this happen. . . .

If you're interested in winter sports and want to see something in the way of a winter sports park in Charlevoix, how about turn out for a meeting to be held at the city hall next Wednesday night. . . . A committee that's been working on a survey will report its findings. . . . Sounds real wonderful so how about pitching in and seeing what it's all about. . . .

Are you an amateur photographer who has a yen to take better pictures. . . . If you do then you'd better enroll in the photography class at the high school which will be taught by Bob Miles. . . . His job: to teach his students just that. . . . It's meeting at 8 tonight in the band room so why not come and see what it's all about. . . . P. S. if you're not interested in photography there are a lot of other interesting subjects being offered.

Will he or won't he? . . . That is the question of the day. . . . NO, we don't mean whether or not the President will run again. . . . we're talking about the ground hog. . . . We'll bet he'll see his shadow. . . . And whether or not he does, we'll make another bet. . . . we'll have more than six weeks of winter. . . . In this country you can't win for losin'. . . .

Were you one of those lucky people who attended the concert Monday night to hear Bertram Rowe of Petoskey concert Baritone, and our own Mrs. Lee Moerland sing a program of familiar numbers. . . . What talent. . . . and what a treat. . . .

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

S/Sgt. Glenn Cook, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Helen Marie, arrived last week from Paris, France, to spend a month with his mother, Mrs. Albert E. Cook, before reporting at Portsmouth, N. H., for his next assignment. Sgt. Cook has been stationed in France for the past three years.

Donald L. Whitley has enlisted in the U. S. Army for three years, according to an announcement from the U. S. Army Recruiting office. He is the son of Mrs. Irene Whitley and is the third of her sons now in the armed forces. Sgt. Stanley and Pfc. Ivan Whitley are now stationed at Fort Campbell, Ky.

T/Sgt. John Eccleston stationed at Ernest Harmon A. F. B. in Newfoundland had the last laugh on his buddies recently thanks to his prowess as an archer, according to a release from the Air Base.

As a result of his prowess he is credited with bringing down the first moose of the season, an 800 pound animal, south of Lost Pounnd with his trusty bow and arrow.

Hunting with M/Sgt. Ray Dexter, the pair had a harrowing trip with the moose in a 10-foot boat. The trip involved riding some rapids and only excellent maneuvering brought the hunters and their moose safely to shore.

Accompanying the article was a picture showing Sgt. Eccleston demonstrating his "almost as good as William Tell" know-how.

The son of Mrs. Anna Eccleston of this city, his wife and family reside at Sphenville with him.

The value of prescribed medicine cannot be measured by quantity but rather, by the amount of relief it produces. For example, many of today's wonder drugs are prescribed and dispensed in small quantities because these drugs are so effective that a little works a great deal of cure. They are the "mighty mites of medicine"—and while it may seem that you are getting a small amount of medicine for your money, you actually are buying faster relief from pain and speedier recovery from illness . . . and that's the biggest bargain for your money.

State's Young Farmers Trainee Program Includes Foreign Youth

During the month 28 young farm youth from nine foreign countries will be placed on farms in the state of Michigan under the Young Farmer Trainee program for the purpose of mutually acquainting farm people of the United States and other countries with each other's agriculture, rural life and farm organization work.

The 28 young men, ranging in age from 20 to 30 years of age, are among 400 from 51 countries in Europe, Asia, Latin America and the Near East who are participating in the program sponsored by the American Farm Bureau Federation and the Foreign Operations Administration.

In charge of this new program for the Michigan State Farm Bureau is a former Charlevoix resident, Clare L. McGhan of Lansing who is coordinator of Community Farm Bureaus for the state organization. He will assist in the program by aiding district Farm Bureau representatives in placing these young men in farm homes throughout the state and keeping in touch with the young men during the 11 months they are in Emmet county.

The Young Farmer Trainee program was organized for the purpose of giving on-the-farm training to young farmers from other countries, enabling farmer trainees to become familiar with rural life in America, especially farm organizations, farm co-operatives, 4-H clubs and other youth programs and activities, agricultural extension work, land grant college system and to participate in community activities; carrying out that part of the Farm Bureau policies on international affairs dealing with international exchange of young people; developing international relations and understanding among rural people and offering farmers an opportunity to participate in such a program of international understanding and training.

The program was first put in operation last year when 200 young farmer trainees came to this country. This year the number has been doubled.

Trainees are selected for participation in the program by farm organizations or other commodity groups recognized by the F.E.A.P. Where no such organization exists, the agricultural attaché and personnel of the United States Foreign Operations Administration Mission assists in the selection.

While here the young farmer trainees receive a certain wage plus room and board with the farm families to whom they are assigned; work on the farm, visit neighboring farms and participate in community affairs. Upon completion of the 11 months training program they must return to their native country.

The program is financed by the Farm Bureau and the Foreign Operations Administration. It is hoped that eventually a revolving fund can be established to finance the program.

Mr. McGhan who heads up the program for the Farm Bureau in Michigan is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and Michigan State University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. McGhan of this city.

Farm trainees from British Guiana, Chile, El Salvador, Germany, Japan, the Netherlands, Norway, Turkey and England will be placed on farms in Michigan this year after participating in an orientation program in Washington, D. C., and later in East Lansing.

Humane Society To Hold Meeting On February 14

The regular meeting of the Charlevoix county Humane Society will be held at the home of Mrs. A. Evers in Hayes township at 8 p. m., Feb. 14.

Officers for 1956 will be nominated at the meeting at which plans for the observance of "Be Kind To Animals Week" will be discussed. The event will be observed in Charlevoix county with May Fairs at Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix. Booths at the fairs will feature books, gadgets, handicraft, baked goods, candy and "white elephant" goods which the public is asked to contribute.

Members who have not paid their 1956 dues are asked to mail them to Mrs. Evers at route 3 Charlevoix.

1956 ACP Program Is Approved For Charlevoix County

The Charlevoix County A. S. C. office has received approval of most of the 1956 A. C. P. practices requested for this county. It is possible that all will be approved but further information is needed before final approval of the entire program is given.

As soon as the final approval is received a list of all practices available to the farmers, together with cost shared for each, will be mailed to each farmer.

Signups are now being taken in the A. S. C. office in Boyne City although the educational and sign up meeting will not be held out in the county until early March. Anyone wishing to sign up now may come into the office.

One of the first practices for Charlevoix county farmers to consider is tree planting for reforestation, windbreak or control of erosion. Any farmer interested should order his trees within the very near future. Of particular interest to all those wishing to plant trees is the fact that the tree planting practice has been approved for cost-shares of $2.00 per hundred for reforestation and $3.00 per hundred for windbreak.

This is double the amount provided in previous years and should be an incentive to put in those wasted land and gullies in to trees. Approval of up to 10,000 trees per farm will be granted this year.

For information as to varieties approved for planting in this county call or come in to the Charlevoix County A. S. C. office in Boyne City.

Use "For Sales" for results.

Corn Hybrids Of Future Will Be Vastly Different

Corn hybrids of the future will be vastly different from those of today.

That's what E. C. Rossman, farm crops researcher at Michigan State University, reports at Farmers' Week at M. S. U., according to Ed. Rebman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Farmers can expect future hybrids to average two or more ears to the plant instead of just one. Rossman declared. He speculated that the corn plants might be short and planted at the rate of 40,000 or more per acre. Or, the plants might be tall and bear six or seven ears each.

With wider knowledge of plant breeding, scientists will develop hybrids that can stand more cold and yet produce higher yields than present types. Rossman also indicated that specific varieties will be developed for varying soil types and fertilizer treatment. Farmers will also grow special types of corn for special purposes like feed for livestock and for use by industry.

The future hybrids will also be more resistant to insects and diseases. They'll be better adapted to new types of harvesting equipment, too, Rossman concluded.

Charlevoix Defeats Harbor Springs Rams 65-49

Rayders Now Holding Second League Spot

The Charlevoix Rayders moved back into the win column last week with a 65-49 victory over the Harbor Springs Rams who upset the defending champions in the opening game of the season.

By virtue of their win and Grayling's loss to East Jordan the Rayders are now alone in second place in league standings behind the Boyne City Ramblers who have a record of seven wins and one loss. Charlevoix has two losses in eight starts.

This week the Rayders will journey to East Jordan to take on the improved Red Devils who have racked up victories over Pellston and Grayling in recent weeks. In an earlier meeting the Rayders had no trouble defeating the Jordanites by a 58-42 score. Since then, however, the Blue Devils seem to have hit their stride and can be depended on to give all comers a tough battle the second time around. Charlevoix will have to be at their best if they hope to get by the high-flying Jordanites.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

The Boyne City Ramblers retained their league lead Friday night with a 67-50 win over Mancelona while East Jordan nipped Grayling 47-39 to drop the latter to third place and move into a tie with Pellston. In other games Pellston edged past Gaylord 57-55 and Charlevoix won over Harbor Springs 65-49.

Boyne City 67; Mancelona 50
Playing at Mancelona the Ramblers had no trouble with the Ironmen who last week clipped Charlevoix as they led Mancelona 15-12; 35-19 and 56-32 by quarters. The game was marked by personal fouls with Mancelona losing John Phillips and Ronnie Johnson and Boyne City losing John Juday via the foul route in the final period. Nels Northup and Bob Fitzpatrick vied for scoring honors with 20 points each for the victors. Ronnie Johnson had 15 for Mancelona.

East Jordan 47; Grayling 39
East Jordan dumped Grayling from second place in league standings Friday night as they went into an early lead for 16-10 first quarter advantage. At halftime the Vikings cut the lead to 20-18 and to 32-30 at the third quarter mark. The seesaw battle raged throughout the second half with the Jordanites pulling away for the eight point win in the closing minutes.

Larry Woodcock paced the scoring for the game with 18 points for the Red Devils. Bob Strong had 13 for Grayling.

Pellston 57; Gaylord 55
Pellston got back in the win column this week with a two-point win over Gaylord in a game that was the Blue Devils crowding the Hornets in the final period as they cut the margin to two points. Pellston went ahead 15-9 at the quarter; 32-23 at the half and 47-37 at the three-quarter mark before the Blue Devils closed the gap to threaten as the final whistle sounded.

Frank Durkalec, back in the line-up after recovering from the measles, hit for 22 points. Mike McKillop had 20 points for Gaylord scored on five field goals and 10 out of 10 free throws.

by Helms. Don Lauer was top scorer for the Rams with 19. Harbor Springs played without regular Tor Larson who was injured in a skiing accident.

Little Rayders Lose To Harbor Reserves 67-58

Charlevoix's little Rayders took a beating Friday night at the hands of Harbor Springs Reserves by a score of 67-58.

The local five trailed 25-13 at the quarter; 41-31 at the half and 57-49 at the third quarter mark.

Starting for Charlevoix were Bob Mol, Larry Ingalls, Ken Case, Dale Putman and John Bingham with Steve LaBlance, Bill Poquette, Scott Supernaw and Mike Genett joining the action later in the game. The local five played for the second week without Glenn Beare who is ill. Hitting at will the visiting Rams racked up 25 points in short order on 10 field goals and five free throws for a 25-13 first period advantage. The Rayders scoring was confined to two field goals by Ingalls, three points by Bingham and two points each by Mol and Case and Putman.

In the second period the local five outscored the visitors 18-16 as they trailed 41-31 at halftime. Bingham put in three buckets. Mol had four points on a field goal and two free throws. Ingalls and Putman scored three points each from the free throw line and Supernaw one field goal for 13 points. Harbor Springs scored 16 points on 10 gift shots and three field goals.

The Rams continued their scoring spree as the game went into the second half, scoring six field goals and the same number of charity shots. Poquette hit for five points and Ingalls for two field goals for Charlevoix's nine points.

In the final period the Rayders seemed to hit their stride and racked up 18 points to cut the Rams lead to nine points as the game ended. Mol dumped in three field goals, Bingham came through with five points, Putman with four and LaBlance with three. Harbor scored four field

Rayders Will Meet East Jordan Red Devils There This Friday

With action in the Northern Michigan Class C league being stepped up as the current schedule goes into the home stretch Boyne City will entertain Grayling; Grayling will travel north to Harbor Springs; Pellston will host Mancelona and Charlevoix will play at East Jordan Friday.

Boyne City, pacing the pack with seven wins in eight games, will be meeting an improved Grayling squad this week when they host the Blue Devils in a return game. In their first meeting the Blue Devils who were having one of their good nights held the Ramblers to a four-point win. Last week Grayling lost to Pellston by two points. At times they have looked very good and should they meet the Ramblers on a night when the team is 'up', they could upset the league leaders. However, if the big boys from Boyne City continue to play the type of ball they have been exhibiting recently, they should win without too much trouble.

At Harbor Springs the Rams will be trying to crawl out of the league cellar when they meet the Grayling Vikings, who were dumped from second place last week by East Jordan. This was the Vikings' second loss in as many weeks and Harbor Springs will be out to make it three in a row. Following a recent shakeup in the team and the loss of Tor Larson who was injured in a skiing accident, the Harbor lineup is now made up of younger, less experienced players. The team, however, has a competitive spirit it lacked before so this, plus the fact that they are playing on home territory, may be the thing to upset Grayling, who are accustomed to a big floor.

Pellston had trouble getting past Mancelona in their first game and this week the Ironmen may have a chance to even scores with the Hornets. Mancelona upset Charlevoix and held Boyne City's scoring down last week to prove that they are on the way up while Pellston suffered an upset at the hands of East Jordan and last week edged past Gaylord with only two points to spare. The Ironmen would like nothing better than to trip the Pellston Hornets and unless the latter are at their best this might happen.

Marine Corps Has Opened Two Year Enlistment Plan

It was announced today by Major C. I. Campbell, officer in charge, Marine Corps Recruiting, State of Michigan, that the U. S. Marine Corps is now accepting enlistments of 2, 3, and 4 years. The acceptance of 2 year enlistments is a change in policy for the Marine Corps, heretofore only 3 and 4 year enlistments were being taken.

According to Major Campbell, reinstatement of the 2 year active duty policy ends a regulation in force since July 1954, which required reservists to serve a minimum tour of 3 years.

To qualify for this program young men must be between 17 and 28 years of age, and be able to pass the physical and mental examination. If qualified they will then be enlisted in the Marine Corps Reserve and ordered to 2 years active duty. Men enlisted in the State of Michigan will be flown to San Diego, Calif. for 10 weeks of Recruit Training, and further assignment to Marine Corps schools, posts, stations. For further information write or see your Marine Recruiter, Post Office Building, Traverse City.

The annual printing industry sales volume is approximately nine billion dollars.

New Future For Your Present

How many times did you get for Christmas? For once I didn't come up with any—could have used a couple this year, too. Instead I got three wool mufflers. Never wear a muffler.

Some people are determined to do something about the Useless Gift Problem—they're holding a "White Elephant Party" Saturday at the Community Hall.

Handy Peterson's the chairman. "Bring any presents you'd rather give than receive," he says. "Chances are you'll swap them off for something even worse—but it ought to be fun."

From where I sit, it's sometimes pretty hard to give a man exactly the present he wants. Other people so often have tastes and preferences that differ from our own—for example, think of all the people you know who claim coffee's the beverage, and all the others (like me) who'd rather have a glass of beer. Being able to make your own choice is the greatest "gift" of all.

School Officials Meet At Grayling For Conference

Forty-six school administrators met Thursday at Grayling to hear Dr. A. J. Phillips, executive secretary of the M. E. A. outline the current state aid outlook for 1956-57.

In his talk Dr. Phillips noted that many problems are yet to be solved in the area of adequate financing of Michigan's public schools. Mervyl Bird of Cadillac and Arthur L. Richter of Frankfort gave summaries of their work as delegates on the legislative committee.

The superintendent went on record as favoring the enlargement of State Board of Education and the removal of politics by making it an appointive office. They also favored further changes in the state aid formula that would provide for greater equalization of funds and greater equity in bearing the load of financial responsibility between sending and receiving districts.

Superintendent R. G. Bennett and Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, were among those attending the conference.

Plan A Class In Lip-Reading For Hard Of Hearing

Stahl Butler, executive director of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing was in Charlevoix recently consulting with the personnel of the District Health department on plans for establishing a lip-reading class in the community for the hard of hearing.

The lip-reading is part of a state-wide program for the rehabilitation of the deaf or hard of hearing. Further information regarding the hard of hearing program may be obtained by writing to the Association at 408 Hollister Bldg., Lansing.

Anyone interested in teaching the class may call Mrs. Marian Rice at the Health Unit here.

M.S.U. Co-Eds Do Modeling Job For '56 Farmers' Meet

The Thursday afternoon event, a fitting climax for the week's women's programs, attracted more than 4,000 women. Events especially designed for the women were planned by Dean Marie Dye and her home economics staff members.

We dressed our style revue with a new fashion this year by asking 15 foreign students to model gowns worn in their home lands," explained Carolyn Middleton, chairman of the style revue. In the narration of the show, it was pointed out how foreign styles and fabrics have influenced and been influenced by.

Catholic Laymen To Join Forces For Area Census

Catholic laymen of Charlevoix will join other laymen throughout the Catholic Diocese of Grand Rapids in conducting a diocesan census, the Rev. E. F. Denay, pastor of the St. Mary's church here has announced.

Ralph S. Hamilton has been named parish chairman of the project which is scheduled to get underway Sunday and continue for a month or until completed.

The census will be an exclusively lay undertaking. The workers who will travel in pairs, will be members of various parishes and interparish societies which are federated with the National Council of Catholic Men.

The census will involve the visitations of every household within the territorial limits of the diocese. The purpose is to make a more complete enumeration of Catholics, especially as regards their location, and to evaluate the state of the religious education of Catholic children. The data which is drawn from the census will enable Bishop Allen J. Babcock of Grand Rapids to do some long-range planning in the establishment of churches and Catholic schools.

The diocese of Grand Rapids is comprised of 126 parishes organized into 10 deaneries in 29 northern and western Michigan counties.

Mr. Hamilton said he would name his workers with in the week.

Episcopal Church Will Hold Annual Pancake Supper

Christ Episcopal Church will sponsor its annual Pancake supper at the church hall beginning at 5:30 p. m. Tuesday, the Rev. Malcolm D. Thomson, vicar of the church has announced.

The supper will include not only pancakes but sausage made according to a special secret recipe but all the traditional 'fixins'.

Here, however, tradition ends, according to the Rev. Mr. Thomson, for the men of the parish are going to do all the cooking and serving of the meal. Tickets may be purchased from the men of the church or at the door.

The word 'shrove' comes from the old Anglo-Saxon meaning to receive absolution of a priest after having made a confession of sin.

The Tuesday before Ash Wednesday, the first day of Lent, was especially set aside for this. Ancient custom, moreover, forbids the use of yeast during the Lenten season, and in order that the yeast on hand would not be wasted it was used in making pancakes. Yeast pancakes were most commonly served giving the pre-Lenten days the character of a feast and, at the same time, giving rise to the custom of pancake supper on the day of shroving, Shrove Tuesday.

Services Held For Alan Macdonell, 61 Here On Tuesday

Funeral services for Alan Macdonell, 61, branch manager of the Secretary of State office here, were held at the Pontius Chapel Tuesday with the Rev. Lloyd M. Schoop officiating. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Mr. Macdonell died at his home 522 Newman st. of self-inflicted gunshot wounds after calling Sheriff Glenn E. Rose at 8:30 a. m. Saturday and telling him of his intention. When Sheriff Rose arrived he found him in the basement. Dr. L. E. Grate, coroner, said death was caused by self-inflicted wound from a 20 gauge shotgun.

Sheriff Rose said that the local branch was under investigation at the time.

Born in Bay City May 3, 1894, Mr. Macdonell was a veteran of World War I having served with the A. E. F. In 1923 he was married to Julia Ellis at Kearney, Neb. A resolution to re-open and re-establish Oak st. on the north side was approved. The street has been closed for many years.

The council pledged its support to Michigan Week county chairman, William H. Grauel of East Jordan in his plans for the observance of Michigan Week in May. Mayor James Hiller named Harry Gebeau chairman and Frank Boss and Clare Staley members of a committee to assist with plans for the third annual observance of Michigan week.

The council went on record as favoring the adoption of the proposed Federal Highway Bill and authorized the City Clerk, Hugh Mayne, to forward copies of the resolution to Michigan's U. S. Senator and Representatives.

Following a report by the committee the council agreed to authorize a survey of the property preparatory to leasing it to the group.

Bus Drivers To Attend Annual Training School

Plans for the annual Bus Driver Training school to be held in Charlevoix county Jan. 20, 21 and 22 are being formulated by Charles A. Robinson, county superintendent of schools.

The training school will be held in cooperation with Central Michigan college and the State Department of Public Instruction with P. A. Wickstrom of Central Michigan college as the instructor.

Bus drivers will be brought up to date on legislation, equipment, safety devices and other phases of driver responsibility.

The State Department of Public Instruction believes that bus driver training is essential in that he is the guardian of thousands of Michigan children every school day. He is more than the mechanical operator of a vehicle; his influence on the children is second only to that of the teacher. The cost of the training program is less than one per cent of the money spent for school transportation and every driver should take part in the training program each year. Safety requires continuous vigilance.

Figures in the office of the county superintendent show that in 1953 Michigan had 4,200 school buses in operation, carrying 325,000 children to and from school. The buses traveled 40,000,000 miles during the year. In 1956 the figure can be expected to be much higher.

March Of Dimes Drive For Polio Goes Over The Top With $2,000

The March of Dimes fund campaign in the Charlevoix area passed the $2,000 mark this week, Arnold Wadas, local chairman said Wednesday in announcing the final results of the month-long drive to raise funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

On Wednesday the figure had reached $2,027.30 or $86.23 over last year's total of $1,940.07.

The turkey dinner given by Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Liston at their restaurant Sunday put the drive over the top. The dinner which was furnished by the Listons netted $166.50. Williams Pastry shop donated the rolls and the St. Mary's Rosary Alter Society the homemade pies.

Other contributions during the past week include $65.40 from Beaver Island; $72.25 Hayes district; $147.64 from canisters including $50.60 from a special canister project at Supernaw's Market; $11.00, Clara's Wigwag; $467.82, final figure on Mothers' March; $20.00 Congregational Women's Fellowship; $5.00 Pythian Sisters; $10.00, V. F. W. Auxiliary; $265.50, total from business and industry; $36.70, smorgasbord at airport Bar; $26.65, Methodist W. S. C. S.

In announcing the final results of the drive Mr. Wadas wishes to acknowledge the fine cooperation given him during the campaign. "I have never seen such fine cooperation and spontaneous response by both workers and contributors as I did during this drive. Without your help we never could have made the drive a success," Mr. Wadas concluded.

He went on to say that the prime purpose of the recent conference was to create a nationwide interest in the school problem.

In his talk he listed the six points which the 1800 delegates discussed at round table sessions during the conference.

They included the important issues of what should our schools accomplish. In what way can we organize our school programs more effectively. What are our school building needs. What type of buildings do we need. How can we get and keep enough good teachers and how best can schools be financed.

In point one he said that many thought that a fourth 'R' for responsibility should be added to the three 'R's as we know them today. School programs should include extra curricular activities for they are as important as any of the three R's.

He went on to say, in reference to point two, that all schools are not organized as well as they might be to obtain the most from their facilities. He also said that they should be large enough to offer a well-rounded education.

School building needs will rise greatly during the next five years. Each community must determine (Continued on Page 5)

Annual Scrub Oak Institute To Be At Higgins Lake

The annual Scrub Oak Conservation Institute will be held at Higgins Lake Conservation training school this weekend for teachers, administrators, school board members, county agricultural agents and 4-H leaders of Charlevoix, Emmet and Cheboygan counties.

The institute is designed to better acquaint teachers, administrators and board members with conservation problems and application as related to their own communities and what certain resources mean to people in a community of this area in terms of a higher standard of living and their total economy.

Conservation department personnel and other personnel from the University of Michigan school of conservation will be among the resources people who will help make the institute a success, according to Max Novak, chairman of this year's event.

Reservations should be made with the Charlevoix county superintendent of school Charles A. Robinson. A fee of $10. covers entire cost of attendance, meals, and lodging from registration time at 5 p. m. Friday through the noon luncheon Sunday.

C. L. Johnson Speaker For P.T.A. Meeting

"Your schools are no better than you want them to be," C. L. Johnson of Petoskey, delegate from Michigan to the White House Conference on Education held in Washington last fall told the recently-organized Charlevoix P. T. A. at its first regular meeting held Wednesday night in the band room.

He went on to say that the prime purpose of the recent conference was to create a nationwide interest in the school problem.

In his talk he listed the six points which the 1800 delegates discussed at round table sessions during the conference.

Positive Evidence

Hardly any of our visitors believe there are trout in our favorite brook. "Trout in THAT little stream?" they ask with a laugh and an unconvinced shake of the head. And if I walk with them a few paces along the brook bank and no trout dash from beneath the logs and tangled roots where tress soak tired feet in swirling waters, strangers feel they have conclusive evidence that no trout are there. "I don't see any," they say with a note of finality. They have negative evidence to support their claim that only wide deep swaths of tumbling waters could produce game fish.

Such was the case one Fourth of July weekend. A crowd of our city friends were with us at Hidden Brook. Most of them had not seen the place before. We meandered along the winding stream and chatted about fishing. I was telling of the results my niece and nephew had enjoyed in a single hour of angling from those fern-screened banks. "Fish in here?" asked the city folks, who thought of lakes and Mississippi-size rivers as the only fit habitats for the finny tribe. Then Oscar, who knew the stream well, and who had quietly spirited away to a root-lined trout den up-stream, came running along whooping Indian-style and carrying a plump, sparkling, multi-colored beauty of a brook trout in his hands. While eyes widened and the spruce-scented air filled with "ohs" and "ahs" and envy, all doubt about the capacity of that little brook to accommodate North America's favorite game fish quickly faded away. All the negative experience of a dozen people NOT seeing trout in the brook was outweighed by the positive experience of one man catching a trout from that stream.

One of the supreme ways of maintaining faith in times of disillusionment is this: keep in mind that an ounce of positive experience is worth a ton of negative evidence. That is more than sound religious teaching. It is a universal principle, recognized in our court of justice. Some time ago, it is said, a clamorous commotion was heard in a hen coop in the middle of the night, and a farmer, his wife and three grown sons rushed to the scene and caught an elderly colored neighbor helping himself to their chickens. The dusky old gentleman was hauled into court and prosecuted for chicken stealing. When he denied the charge, the judge declared, "Gramp, I'm afraid I shall have to send you to jail, because we have witnesses that swear they saw you steal the chickens. Now what do you have to say for yourself?" The old man replied, "Yer honor, does I git to go free if I kin find six witnesses who didn't see me steal dem chickens?"

Of course not. In court and anywhere else, positive evidence is worth more than negative evidence. The witness of even one person who sees a thing is worth more than that of a dozen people who did not see it, who weren't noticing.

Small town folk seldom expect their environment to produce influential people. We know our neighbors too well. What good could come from their homes? We have patted the little children of our town on the head and have known of their misdemeanors, their alley fights, their bloodied noses. How could anything of value develop out of them? We know them and yet have seen in them no signs of future greatness. How can a small town produce big people? Our negative evidence is all against such a possibility.

Then we look again and see positive evidence that it can happen. The townsmen of Bridge Creek, Virginia did not expect any greatness to arise there. But George Washington sprang from Bridge Creek. The nearest town to Abraham Lincoln's birthplace was inconsequential Hodgenville, Kentucky. Jesus came from little Bethlehem and Nazareth. There were big cities in Washington's,

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Last week we had a little story about the class of 1906 of the dear old Charlevoix high and the reunion they are planning for June. . . . Everyone is accounted for but Olive Turner, Marie LeDuke, Georgia Crowell and Lila Bradley so if you know anything about these any of these girls be sure and get in touch with Charles H. Hampton who is heading up the event. . . . That's going to be quite an event. . . . that fiftieth reunion. . . .

On Sunday there was another reunion or get-together. . . . at Glendal Calif. . . . We're anxious to hear about it because there were big plans afoot for the annual event. . . . Wonder who went to it this year. . . . We'll soon know because Gale Hines and Charles Empey have promised they'll send an account of it. . . .

If you're one of those people who has time on his or her hands and would like something in-

Lincoln and Jesus' day, but the small towns yielded the big people, although villages expected nothing much of neighbor children. People said of the Galilean village in the far north of Palestine "Can any good come out of Nazareth?" The preponderant evidence—all of it negative—answered "No." There were no clear signs of greatness there. But history points to one positive example and says "Yes".

There is a great deal of cynicism concerning marriage and the home these days. Is a good, stable home possible in these upsetting times? To read the Hollywood and Broadway scandal columns and the front page newspaper items about infidelity, divorce, and juvenile delinquents spawned in unwholesome environments, one would guess from the negative evidence that a worthwhile home in these times is impossible. But all of the negative experience is upset by our acquaintance with but one good home. You don't need to know a thousand, a hundred or a dozen splendid homes to become convinced that they are possible. One, just one, is positive proof that good homes are possible in our generation.

What is faith? It is choosing one shred of positive experience in preference to all the negative evidence life can summon. Faith is believing in a freshly caught brook trout wiggling in an elated fisherman's hand rather than in the negative evidence of not having seen fish flashing through the brook. Faith is believing in the possibility of integrity in politics, in spite of a great lack of it on the world scene and because of one selfless, devoted, utterly sincere public servant. Faith is believing in Divine revelation, although most of our days seem empty of it, because of a single burst of insight that we know has come from outside ourselves from Above. Faith is believing that God helps us because, in spite of frequent feelings of helplessness, we can point to times, or a time, when strength came to us that was not of our own.

interesting to do, why don't you join one of the adult education classes being offered at the Charlevoix public school. . . . There's a class in photography which promises to be very interesting. . . . so bring your camera and join the fun. . . . We happened to stop by the upholstering class last week and you never saw so many people having such a ripping good time. . . . tearing upholstered furniture apart. . . . It doesn't look like much right now but wait. . . . Come the end of the 10 weeks period and you'll turn green with envy when you see the lovely things that the class will have completed. . . . You'd wonder how anyone could do such wonderful work. . . . The ceramics class is meeting at Reid's studio in Eastport where they have access to the wonderful equipment at the Reid's studio. . . . Then there's a class in writing that you'll love. . . . we can vouch for that. . . . Woodworking, welding, where you learn all kinds of wonderful things about different kinds of torches and we don't know what else. . . . You're missing a bet if you don't take advantage of some of it. . . .

We understand that in the near future, when you visit the Eden Roc hotel in Miami while on vacation and want to send a greeting card to one of your less fortunate friends, you'll be selecting that card from a greeting card cabinet made at our own local plant, Freedman Aircraft. . . . It's nice to know that local products are getting around. . . . The sea gulls have certainly been enjoying the beautiful weather we've been having recently. . . . Have you noticed how they fly out over the Lake and coast back. . . . And they're so pretty against the clear blue sky we've been blessed with. . . . In fact, we've had a lot of good weather since the first of the year. . . . it's been cold and crisp but the majority of days have been clear and bright even when the sun didn't bother to shine. . . . And those days are getting longer. . . . We'd say we were over the hump as far as weather is concerned. . . . with the majority of it behind us. . . . (we say with crossed fingers) . . .

From Scottsdale, Ariz., a couple of newspaper clippings from Mrs. Lyle (Betty Withers) King. . . . One about our own Bob Carey who recently signed to rejoin the Los Angeles Rams after a year as end coach at Arizona State. . . . According to the story which appeared in the Phoenix Gazette, Bob will go to Los Angeles shortly to undergo surgery on that bum knee of his. . . . Though he'll be in a cast for six weeks and won't be able to assist with spring football practice which begins Feb. 15 (imagine that!) he's sure his knee which was injured in '54 will be stronger. . . . The second clipping included a picture of Head coach Danny Devine who went to Tempe from Michigan State and before that was at East Jordan for two years. . . . Danny was named coach of the year in the Burder Conference for his 8-3-1 record for his first year at Arizona State. . . . and the Press Box Association's seventh continued on page 9

The First Congregational Church

Next Sunday's Sermon

"Who Goes There?"

Harold E. Kohn, Preaching

If you now regularly attend another church in our town, this notice is but a neighborly greeting and wish that you and your church may prosper. If you do not already have a church home, it is an invitation to attend Charlevoix's Congregational Church next Sunday.

Shirley Clement Weds Albert Brede In Candlelight Church Ceremony

In a candlelight ceremony solemnized at the First Methodist church Saturday evening, Shirley Jean Clement, daughter of Mrs. Gordon E. Clement and the late Mr. Clement, became the bride of Albert Andrew Brede of Detroit, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Brede. The Rev. Lloyd M. Schlopp officiated at the ceremony before an altar decorated with baskets of white pumpkins and pink gladlioli and lighted tapers. Mrs. A. C. Belding played a program of traditional music and the wedding march.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Gordon L. Clement of Niles who also assisted the bridegroom as best man. For her wedding she chose a sheath dress of eggshell silk brocade inter woven with gold thread, a matching short fitted jacket and frost accessories. She carried a white Bible which held an arrangement of white carnations centered with a pink rose.

Mrs. Byron K. Wright as matron of honor wore an afternoon dress of champagne chantilly lace over taffeta and white accessories. Her bouquet was of bronze, gold and white pumpkins.

Ushers were Mr. Wright and Ronald Cunningham.

Mrs. Clement selected a violet nylon suede gown, black and white accessories and a corsage of pink pumpkins centered with a white pom-pom for her daughter's wedding. Her grandmother, Mrs. William Schulters of Hastings, wore an electric blue gown, matching accessories and a corsage of pink pumpkins centered with a white pom-pom.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlor. A two-tiered wedding cake encircled with ivy and pink roses centered the refreshment table, which was decorated with lighted tapers and arrangements of seasonal flowers.

For traveling on their trip to Detroit where the couple will make their home the bride wore a pastel pink knit suit and matching accessories.

Annabelle Rayman returned home recently from a three weeks visit in Florida.

Houck-Doctor Marriage Vows Are Spoken In Double Ring Ceremony

Darlene Joyce Houck, daughter of Mrs. Eunice Houck, became the bride of Robert Wayne Doctor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Doctor of Ellsworth, at a ceremony solemnized at the First Congregational church Tuesday evening.

The Rev. Kenneth Mitchell officiated at the double ring service in the presence of 90 guests. Baskets of white pumpkins and pastel gladioli and lighted tapers in candelabra decorated the altar for the occasion.

Mrs. Charles Bellinger, at the organ, played a program of traditional music and the wedding march and also accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Robert Klooster of Ellsworth.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Robert Goss, the bride chose a gown of white lace and net over taffeta for her wedding. It was designed with a fitted strapless bodice of lace and a bouffant skirt of net and lace and was worn with a bolero of white net styled with a high neckline and long sleeves. Her fingertip veil of nylon net was secured by a tiara of seed pearls and sequins and she carried an arrangement of red roses and white hyacinth florets on a white Bible.

Mrs. Keith Evans of Traverse City, as her only attendant, wore a gown of light blue lace and net worn with a matching net bolero and a headdress of blue flowers. Her bouquet was of pink hyacinths.

Robert DeYoung of Ellsworth assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Kenneth Doctor, brother of the bridegroom and Donald Aardema, both of Ellsworth.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Houck selected a dress of avocado green velvet, brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. Mrs. Doctor, mother of the bridegroom, wore a black and white dress, matching accessories and a corsage of red carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in Friendship hall under the direction of the Mary Burns circle. A four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom couple centered the refreshment table.

For traveling on their wedding trip to southern Michigan the bride wore a red cashmere suit trimmed with white angora and matching accessories. The couple will reside at 303 Main st. Mt. Pleasant.

The bride is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school and the North Central school of Practical nursing. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Ellsworth high school, is attending Central Michigan college at Mt. Pleasant.

its needs and plan right now to meet them before the peak in enrollment is reached about 1960. Each community must also decide what type of building it wants to construct and lay a long-range building program which will serve for many years.

Proper salaries and good working conditions are two ways of getting and keeping good teachers Mr. Johnson continued.

"We cannot expect our teachers to serve as baby-sitters for our children. We must teach the children to respect the teacher and send our youngsters to school to learn and not because we want them out from under our feet," he added.

He concluded his talk by discussing the all-important problem of finance. He said that when he went to Washington he was definitely against federal aid to schools. Now, he said he would favor this means of assisting school districts if the aid is given without control. If federal aid is forthcoming it will probably be on a fund-matching basis, he explained. He concluded by saying that the conference voted two to one for federal aid and advocated that the monies be spent under the guidance of the state department of public instruction, which was in a position to know the needs of its state.

At the business meeting which preceded Mr. Johnson's address, the Rev. Kenneth Mitchell installed the new officers of the Charlevoix group in an impressive installation ceremony. They are: president, Mrs. Robert G. Martin; first vice president, Lee Snead; second vice president, Uno Suomeja; secretary, Mrs. Clayton Smith; and treasurer, Mrs. Robert Ashely.

Mrs. Martin then took over from the temporary chairman, Mrs. Ted Bergmann and named committee chairmen.

The Debutones, Sue Gill, Donna Guild, Suzanne Grate, Angela Schroder and Billy Brady, accompanied by June Guild, sang several numbers.

Mrs. Lewis Courtade introduced Mr. Johnson.

Essenberg-Jolliffe Marriage Vows Exchanged In Double Ring Ceremony

Noted Kay Essenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Essenberg of Ellsworth, became the bride of Robert D. Jolliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Jolliffe Sr., in an impressive ceremony solemnized at the Christian Reformed church at Atwood Saturday evening.

The Rev. Neal Punt officiated at the double ring service in the presence of more than 125 guests. Baskets of pink and white gladioli and white pompons decorated the altar for the event.

Proceeding the ceremony Mrs. Hane DeYoung played a program of traditional music and accompanied the soloists, Walter Shooks who sang "Because" and Marvin Shooks who sang "The Lord's Prayer." The pair, both of Central Lake, joined in singing a duet "O Promise Me."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride selected a gown of white net and lace over satin for her wedding. It was styled with a fitted bodice of lace, long lace sleeves, a mandarin collar and a bouffant skirt of tiered net with wide lace panels in the front and back. A seedpearl and sequin tiara secured her fingertip veil and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and pink and white hyacinth flowers. She wore a gold locket which was worn by her grandmother, Mrs. Vet Shooks of Central Lake on her wedding day.

Mrs. Edwin Pette of Ellsworth as matron of honor, wore a gown of aqua net over tulle fashioned with a fitted bodice, a portrait neckline and bouffant skirt. Her headpiece was of white carnations and pink hyacinth flowers and she carried a colonial bouquet of white pompons and pink hyacinth flowers.

Kathleen and Julia Essenberg of Ellsworth, sister of the bride, were junior bridesmaids. Their gowns of American beauty rose and light pink respectively were styled similarly to the honor attendants. They wore identical hairpieces and carried colonial bouquets of the same pink and white flowers.

Richard Jolliffe of Kalamazoo assisted his brother as best man; James Jolliffe of Grand Rapids, another brother, was groomsmen and ushers were William Jolliffe of Kalamazoo, brother of the bridegroom and Vern Essenberg of Ellsworth brother of the bride.

Mrs. Essenberg chose a navy crope dress and navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Jolliffe mother of the bridegroom, wore a medium blue and white dress and matching accessories. Both had corsages of pink and white roses.

Mr. and Mrs. William Parsons were master and mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Parsons wore a pearl gray faille dress, pink and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception followed in the church dining room. A tiered wedding cake centered the refreshment table at which Mrs. Lewis Essenberg of Ellsworth and Mrs. Stanley Lord presided.

After a brief wedding trip to southern Michigan the couple will reside at Atwood. For traveling the bride chose a navy suit and white accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Ellsworth high school. Mr. Jolliffe is a graduate of the Charlevoix high school.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Eber Jolliffe, Mrs. Gail Brinell and Mr. and Mrs. John Wynsma of Grand Rapids.

Charlevoix Defeats East Jordan By 52-48 Score

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

The Harbor Springs Rams upset the Grayling Vikings 59-53 in an overtime game Friday night to top the action in the Northern Michigan class C league Friday night.

In other games, Boyne City dumped Gaylord 70-49; Pellston won over Mancelona 65-40 and Charlevoix edged past East Jordan 52-48.

Harbor Springs 59; Grayling 53

At Harbor Springs Don Lauer sunk six points and Pete Graham two points in an overtime period to give the Rams their second victory of the season after the regulation game had ended 51-41.

The Rams went ahead 11-8 at the quarter and 30-25 at the half before Grayling caught fire and tied the score midway in the third period. From then on it was a seesaw battle with the Rams clinging to a one-point, 42-41 lead at the third quarter mark. Tor Larson, who returned to the line-up briefly after an absence of several weeks because of an injured arm, was evicted from the game for roughness, along with Viking Gary Worden who was involved in the ruckus during the heat of the game.

With less than a minute remaining, Harbor Springs trailed by four points but two free throws by the Rams cut the Vikings lead to two points and a field goal by Gordon Kruskie with 20

Rayder Charlie Dennis (with ball) pictured after stealing the ball from an East Jordan player in the heat of the Charlevoix-Red Devils game which the Rayders won 52-48 Friday night. Coming in to join the action are Rayders Norm Holms (No. 3) and Quint Walker (17) while Jordanites Dick Johnson (53), Cal Dabree, (behind Dennis) and J. Ingalls (30) try to break up the play.

Rayders To Meet Grayling Friday Play Non-Loop Petoskey Saturday

Action in the Northern Michigan class C conference will be thrown into high gear this week as all eight teams play two games during the next week.

On Friday Charlevoix will travel to Grayling; East Jordan will play at Harbor Springs; Gaylord will entertain Mancelona and Boyne City will host Pellston.

Saturday will find Charlevoix playing a return game with class seconds remaining knotted the score 51-41.

In the overtime period Viking center Bob Strong scored two free throws.

Dave Love with 28 points kept the Vikings in the running while Lauer scored 24 for the victors.

Pellston 55; Mancelona 40

At Pellston Les Ball dumped in 22 points as the Hornets took an 18-13 first quarter lead and stretched it to 37-20 at the half and 48-29 as the third period ended. Glen Christopher had 14 points for Mancelona.

Boyne City 70; Gaylord 49

Boyne City continued on the victory trail with a lopsided victory over Gaylord as the Ramblers led 24-6 at the quarter; 40-23 at the half and 56-34 going into the final period. John Juday paced the scoring for the victors with 24 points. Mike McKillop had 13 points for Gaylord.

B Petoskey on the latter's floor.

Seven of the eight teams will play Tuesday night with Grayling meeting Gaylord on the Blue Devils floor; East Jordan playing at Mancelona; Harbor Springs traveling to Pellston and Boyne City hosting Petoskey in a non-league game. Charlevoix will be idle.

East Jordan will invade Harbor Springs this week for what should be a good game. The Jordanites trounced the Rams in an earlier meeting but the new Harbor Springs Rams who clipped the Vikings in an overtime game last week will again have the advantage of playing on their home floor so could upset the visiting Red Devils. East Jordan held Charlevoix to a four-point win last week and are definitely on their way up so the game should be a close one.

Mancelona and Gaylord are old rivals and the game this week will renew the old feud.

In their first meeting the Ironmen came from behind to defeat the Blue Devils and the latter will be out to even the score. They may well accomplish this on their home floor.

Pellston will have one last opportunity this week to dump the league leading Boyne City Ramblers who edged past the Hornets by two points in the earlier game played at Pellston.

In third place with five wins in nine starts the Hornets will have their work cut out for them if they attempt to stop the Ramblers, who lead the pack with eight wins and one loss. Barring an upset, Boyne City should continue along the victory trail.

On Saturday Charlevoix will take on the class B Petoskey Northernmen who have shown themselves to be an inspired team in recent games. Coach Ace Zagoropoulos has re-shuffled his line-up and has come up with what promises to be a tough team to beat. The Rayders will meet the new team Saturday night in a return game after winning 60-52 in December. On Tuesday night another class C team, Boyne City, will host the Northernmen in another non-loop game.

On Tuesday Grayling and Gaylord will meet in a return game which promises to be a good one but the Vikings should come up with a win if their present record means anything.

East Jordan had no trouble with Mancelona when the two teams played at East Jordan but the Ironmen's small floor may be the deciding factor in the second meeting of the pair Tuesday. Mancelona upset Charlevoix earlier and may do a repeat performance next week.

Harbor Springs and Pellston will re-kindie an old feud when they meet at Pellston next week. The Hornets coasted past the Rams by a 19-point margin earlier but with the Harbor Springs Rams flying high following their overtime upset of Grayling, the Pellston five may find the going tough. They should come up with a win, however, despite the Rams new line-up which has proven to be a determined scrappy outfit.

Fresh sheep blood mixed with flour makes a raw pudding prized by the Sherpas of the Himalayan regions.

Rayders Retain Second Place Conference Spot

The Charlevoix Rayders retained their second place standing Friday night with a 52-48 win over the much-improved East Jordan Red Devils.

This week the Rayders will travel to Grayling to take on the Vikings whom they defeated 54-34 earlier in the season.

Since then the Rayders have suffered only one loss, an upset by Mancelona while Grayling has dropped into a third place tie with Pellston with a record of five wins and four losses. Last week the Vikings were dumped by Harbor Springs in an overtime game and the week before by the first place Boyne City Ramblers.

The Rayders, who seem to be pulling out of their recent slump, should take the Vikings if they play the kind of ball they are capable of playing.

Starting for the Rayders were Garry Vandenberg, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson, who returned to the line-up after a week's absence because of an injured ankle, Kenny Balch and Charlie Dennis. Norm Helms joined the line-up in the first period.

Playing at East Jordan the Red Devils went into a 14-12 lead but the Rayders came back in the second period to go ahead 26-22 as the half ended. They continued to outscore their hosts 15-14 going into the final period when the Jordanites cut the victory margin to four points.

The Red Devils went into a 14-12 first period advantage by scoring five field goals and four free throws. For the Rayders Vandenberg scored two field goals; Walker a field goal and two free throws and Swanson and Balch one field goal apiece.

In the second period Charlevoix came back to outscore the Jordanites 14-8 for a four-point lead at the half time. Swanson hit for eight points, three field goals and two free throws, Walker added four on a field goal and two free throws and Vandenberg contributed a field goal while East Jordan scored two field goals and four charity shots.

As the second half got underway the Rayders continued to outscore the Red Devils as Helms scored three field goals, Walker one lay-up shot and three free throws and Swanson and Balch one each. East Jordan had its best quarter in the field goal department scoring six field goals and two charity shots.

East Jordan tried for a comeback in the final period as they again outscored the Rayders 12-11 but the determined Charlevoix quintet managed a four point margin at the final whistle. Swanson contributed five points including one field goal; Walker scored two field goals and Vandenberg connected for two goals and four free throws.

Both teams were successful on 14 of 22 free throws attempts with Charlevoix collecting 14 and East Jordan 13. Personal fouls: Charlevoix's advantage was in the field goal department where they outscored East Jordan 19-13. Dick Johnson paced the scoring for the game with 18 points. Walker and Swanson shared scoring honors for the victors with 17 points each.

Everybody got into the scoring act in the third with Ingalls scoring two field goals and Bearss four free throws and Mol, Putman and Poquette adding a field goal apiece. East Jordan scored four field goals and three free throws as Charlevoix went ahead 29-27.

In the final period Ingalls dumped in four field goals Bearss one long shot and Putman and Poquette each added two points from the free throw line. Bearss was top scorer for the game with 14 points followed by Ingalls with 12 for the Rayders. Gene Richards and George Chahk shared scoring honors for East Jordan with 12 points apiece.

High School Band To Participate In Qualifying Festival Feb. 25

The Charlevoix high school senior band, directed by C. A. Odmark, will participate in the annual qualifying festival to be held at the Petoskey high school Saturday, Feb. 25, under the sponsorship of District II of the Michigan School Band and Orchestra Festival.

The festival is a preliminary to the State Festival to be held in April. In order to participate in the state event, bands or orchestras must receive a first division rating in the district festival.

The festival consists of two parts—a concert and a sight reading performance. The concert performance is done with prepared music before three judges. The band plays a warm-up march followed by a selection of its choice and the required number for its classification. The sight reading is done before one judge with the band playing a march and an overture never seen before after five minutes instruction from its director. This section of the festival is included to test the basic musicianship of the group.

This year's festival is the largest ever sponsored by District II with 21 organizations from 20 schools from throughout northern Michigan entered. Because of the number of entries it was necessary to eliminate the junior high bands which have participated in the past. As it is the festival will begin at 8 a. m. and continue through late afternoon. In 1947 when the first qualifying festival was held in Charlevoix, only four bands participated and the festival took only two hours.

Max Smith of Petoskey is festival chairman. A schedule of performances will be announced next week.

Upsets Feature Class 'C' Play Tuesday Night

Two upsets and a third close game which Pellston won 57-55 over Harbor Springs highlighted the action in the Northern Michigan Class C league Tuesday night.

In the upsets Mancelona dumped East Jordan 61-59 and Gaylord 56-42 while Boyne City romped over Petoskey 74-55 in a non-loop meeting.

Mancelona 61; East Jordan 59
The Mancelona Ironmen trailed East Jordan 16-12; 34-28 and 48-39 before closing the gap and winning the game with 30 seconds remaining with a jump shot by Glen Christopher. Larry Woodcock was top scorer with 27 points. Dick Holstad had 14 for the victors who lost John Phillips and Bob Johnson on fouls early in the final period. The game was played at Mancelona.

Gaylord 56; Grayling 52
Grayling took a 15-9 first quarter lead over Gaylord before the Blue Devils snapped back to tie the score 27-27 at the half; 41-41 going into the final period when they led most of the way. With two minutes remaining Grayling tied the score 52-52 but a field goal by Terry Goeha put Gaylord ahead and two free throws by John Bresnahan clinched the game for the Blue Devils. Mike McKillop hit for 20 points for Gaylord. Bob Strong had 19 for Grayling.

Pellston 57; Harbor Springs 55
Playing on their own floor the Pellston Hornets coasted into a 19-5 first quarter; 34-23 half-time and 47-37 third period lead before Harbor Springs started to hit and closed the gap 55-55 on a field goal by Tor Larson with 30 seconds remaining. A desperation shot by Hornet Dale Drier which went through the net as the final whistle sounded saved the game for Pellston. Larson had 19 points for Harbor Springs. Drier had 15 for Pellston.

At Boyne City the Ramblers rolled over Petoskey 74-55; 34-20; and 53-35 by quarters, paced by Murray Northup with 16 points. Dale Bently had 17 for Petoskey who played without regular Herman Meyer who went to the bench in the second period with five fouls.

Fire Department Has Two Calls Last Thursday

Fire of unknown origin completely gutted an upholstery shop and its contents owned by Earl H. Johnston at 305 Mason st. at noon Thursday.

The interior of the work shop located to the rear of the Johnston residence was ablaze when it was noticed by Mr. Johnston at 12:30 p. m. Thursday. Several pieces of furniture stored in the shop were also lost.

Deputy fire chief Lawrence Supernaw estimated the building loss at $700 to $800 but made no estimate of the upholstery tools and supplies lost in the fire. The loss was not insured.

Earlier in the day the fire department was called to Norwood to protect farm buildings on the Hotcheck farm occupied by the George Whitley family which were threatened when a small outbuilding was destroyed by fire.

Services Held For Mrs. C. G. Ellis, 61 Former Resident

Funeral services for Mrs. C. Glenn Ellis, 61, of Petoskey, a former resident, were held at the Stone funeral home Monday with the Rev. Lloyd Brasure officiating. Burial was in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Ellis, the former Ethyl M. Jacobs, died Thursday at Little Traverse hospital in Petoskey following a brief illness.

Born at Lupton, Mich., July 23, 1894, she came to Charlevoix as a baby with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry D. Jacobs. She was reared here and graduated from the Charlevoix high school and the Charlevoix county normal school here. On July 4, 1914 she was married to Mr. Ellis and they made their home in Petoskey. For 10 years she managed the Alhambra hotel here during the summer months.

Besides her husband she is survived by two brothers, Harold D. Jacobs of Flint and Arthur J. Jacobs of Washington, D. C.

School Officials Meet At Alpena For Conference On Civil Defense

Northern Michigan school superintendents and teaching personnel met at Alpena Thursday for a one-day conference on civil defense and safety education with representatives of the Federal and State offices of civil defense, consultants from the University of Michigan, the Department of Public Instruction and the American Red Cross.

A section of time was devoted to the regulations and implications of the expanded Driver Education program. K. A. Walters of the University of Michigan and Sgt. Don Downer of the Michigan State Police at Traverse City provided legal information for the group.

Malcolm D. White, coordinator for Civil Defense and Safety for the Department of Public Instruction, acted as moderator for the symposium. Other members of the panel were Paul Miller, Training officer, Training and Education office, Federal Civil Defense Administration; Frank E. Carey, Public Safety and Training Division, Michigan office of Civil Defense; Francis A. Hartman, Consultant in Extension Services, U. of M.; Burton K. Thorn, Consultant, Department of Public Instruction; Ernest Goetz, Safety Service field representative, American Red Cross, St. Louis, Mo., and representatives of the local area.

Mr. Miller and Mr. Carey, in declaring the need of civil defense in everyday life, explained the changing concept in civil defense. No more is Civil Defense a separate agency of the government, they said, but rather it has become a part of everyday living and, as such, is the expansion of existing services of units already in existence. They explained that it now represents a better coordination of efforts among fire departments, school safety programs, Red Cross units, police departments, and other agencies instead of one unit organized in competition with others.

The new concept of civil defense is designed to increase the efficiency of aid in natural disasters as well as during an enemy attack by providing a central information agency. The needs of the stricken areas and assistance to them will be routed through the central agency, thus assuring correct types of assistance and eliminating the congestion and waste of excessive duplication of aid.

We no longer believe in the miracle of meetings, according to Mr. Miller, who pointed out some interesting facts regarding meetings including the fact that during the past eight years there have been 200 meetings on control of atomic energy with no results and several others equally as ineffective.

During this same time scientific achievements have produced weapons that can attack the population of the country as well as its food supply and health. The deadly hydrogen bomb has outmoded the shelter idea, for scientists say the effects of the bomb will penetrate 400 feet underground.

Bus Drivers To Open Annual School Monday

Charlevoix county school bus drivers will hold their annual Drivers' School in three sessions beginning at 9:45 a. m. Monday at the Boyne City school bus garage according to Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools who has arranged the program in cooperation with the local school districts.

P. A. Wickstrom, consultant on School Transportation and Safety, Central Michigan college, will be the instructor. Sgt. Don Downer of the Traverse City State Police Post, will also be in attendance.

Present plans include several trips over actual routes where various types of terrain, road conditions and other problems of importance to safe delivery and pick-up of children are concerned.

The drivers will meet at the Boyne City school bus garage Monday morning and will travel to East Jordan for lunch at noon. Following an early afternoon session at the East Jordan school garage they will be released for their afternoon runs and will return to East Jordan bus garage for an evening meeting at 7 p. m. Mr. Wickstrom will show films of actual situations on Michigan bus routes and Sgt. Downer will provide answers to inquiries relative to good driver procedures.

The final meeting will be a joint dinner meeting with Emmet county bus drivers at the 4-H building at Emmet county fair grounds at Petoskey at 6:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Among the topics to be discussed at the session will be Road Courtesy, the Teacher's Responsibility to the Bus Driver, Driver Certification, Laws and Regulations and Discipline on the Bus.

On Tuesday Mr. Wickstrom and Sgt. Downer will be in Petoskey.

On Wednesday morning Mr. Wickstrom will visit the Charlevoix high school and meet with Max Novak, driver training instructor and the driver training classes.

Veterans Warned To Mail Income Questionnaires

A large percentage of the annual income questionnaires which were mailed to Michigan veterans in January have not been returned, according to Lloyd H. Jameson, VA's Regional Manager for Michigan.

He urges all those who received the questionnaires and have not yet filled them out and returned them, to do so as once properly filled-out questionnaires must be returned to VA by Feb. 16 or pension payments are subject to termination.

Questionnaires are mailed yearly because non-service connected disability pensions are subject to annual income limitations. The current questionnaires request data on 1955 annual income and anticipated 1956 income.

Pensions are payable to certain eligible veterans of World War I, World War II and Korea who are permanently and totally disabled from causes not connected with their service in the armed forces. The annual income of those receiving pensions must not exceed $1,400, without dependents, or $2,700 with dependents.

Local Scouts Take Part In Annual Derby

Four Charlevoix Boy Scout patrols comprised of 21 boys were among the 42 patrols from nine northern Michigan communities who participated in the annual Klondike Derby at Petoskey Winter Sports Park Sunday.

More than 250 Boy Scouts from Cheboygan, Indian River, Boyne City, East Jordan, Petoskey, Walloon Lake, Harbor Springs, Mancelona and Charlevoix registered for the event.

Each patrol visited stations along a mile course where the boys were judged on their ability in first aid, distances, nature and fire building. The boys found their way along the course by use of a compass. Supplies were carried on Klondike sleds made by the Scouts.

Ribbons were awarded for abilities at each of the four stations and for construction of sleds. Yellow ribbons were awarded for participation; red for standard and blue for proficiency.

The Charlevoix patrol, their membership, adult leader and awards won follow:

Troop 138: Lobo patrol, Rodney Ostrum, Peter Phillips, Chris Campbell, Tony Duerr and Gerry Balch; Jack Grubaugh and Lee Moerland; yellow ribbon for performance and red ribbon for sled.

Wolf patrol: Doug Smith, Erik Arvilla, Almac Arvilla, Riekey Grubaugh and Mr. Moerland; red ribbons for both performance and sled.

Hawk patrol: Tony Genia, George Majors, Jim Browe, Mike LaBlance, Stan Martin and Terry Ross; Paul Allers and David Arnold; red ribbons for performance and yellow for sled.

Charlevoix volunteers and the stations at which they assisted in the judging were: Arnold Wadas, Rex Davis, first aid; Jack Grubaugh and Lee Moerland, nature and Fred Willis, E. D. Hawley, Tip Riley, Paul Allers and David Arnold, distances.

Leonard Burns was chairman of the Northern district camping and activities committee.

Each scout received a Klondike Derby patch for his uniform for participating in the popular annual event. After the Derby each boy was given a hot lunch before returning home.

Puff's Appliance Sponsors Cooking School By G. E.

More than 100 local residents attended the cooking school sponsored by Puff's G. E. Appliance last week. Fritz Puffpuff and Bub Gill, owners of the General Electric store have announced.

Mrs. Grace Genett was awarded the G. E. Mixer and Mrs. Leo Allard the G. E. Fry pan which were given as prizes.

Mr. Pontius plans to ask several local business men to serve on the finance committee which is now accepting pledges for stock which is $10 a share. The corporation is also seeking contributions of labor for the clearing of land and the construction of a ski run.

The city council has authorized a survey of the 41.41 acres of property to be used for the winter sports park in preparation for leasing the property to the corporation. As soon as this has been completed the job of constructing the first ski run on the northeast section of Mt. McSaubia will begin. The board feels that the proposed site can be developed to include other ski slides, a toboggan slide, an ice rink and a ski lodge. In time the corporation plans to develop the park into a year-around recreation area but at the present time the efforts of the group will be devoted entirely to constructing a ski run.

The first run to be built on the northeastern section of the mountain was laid out by a professional skier who visited the site.

Anyone having time or equipment he would like to contribute toward the construction of the run is asked to contact any member of the board of directors and offer his services.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Charlevoix's Boy Scouts did alright in the Klondike Derby Sunday... and what a beautiful day for the annual event which is now a part of the Winter Sports activities at Petoskey... a new snowfall which covered all old tracks and weather about 30 degrees... All that added to the fun of meeting more than 200 boys from other northern Michigan communities and competing for ribbons... All this climaxed by a hot chili lunch... Who has more fun than kids...

We've often mentioned that there always seems to be someone from Charlevoix who's close to history in the making... Our own Mrs. Robert Gill, the former Louise Young, knew two of the missionaries who lost their lives recently in Brazil and also went to school with the wife of one of the men... They were all classmates together at Wheaton college in Illinois... James Elliott, his wife and Edward

A man to remember

The famous Gilbert Stuart portrait of our first President, above, was not completed.

Our Nation, to which George Washington himself gave so much, may well be likened to an unfinished masterpiece. Starting with the splendid pattern formed by the great Americans of the past, we are always mindful that we can achieve greater perfection.

As Americans receive inspiration from the vision and integrity of the Father of his Country, we draw ever nearer to the goal.

A daughter, Nancy Marie, born to Mr. and Mrs. John Powell Feb. 7.

A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Gale Murphy of East Jordan Feb. 12.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lerman of Hollywood, Calif., announce the birth of a daughter, Karen Denise, born Feb. 4 Mrs. Lerman is the former Marjorie Brown, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Alfred Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Parsons of Grand Rapids are the parents of a daughter, Denise Marlene, born Feb. 6. Mrs. Parsons is the former Judy Cota, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Cota.

There was no mistaking the graceful white birds but where did they come from? ... Seems a little cold for traveling but it seems they like it... It was only a couple of weeks ago that one was seen in Round Lake... must be they are seeking open water but you'd wonder how they could stand the cold water or could fly after taking off with ice forming on them... Mother Nature takes care of her own, 'tis said, so they manage alright... Gee, maybe they didn't like the competition they're getting from the big swan, made from 14 tons of ice, that's attracting all the attention at East Jordan... If that's their home port...

If you've got something good, tell the world about it... That's exactly what some 39 M. S. U. home building students did recently when they invaded the National Home Builders show in Chicago... Ted Miller who attended the show told us about them... Seems MSU offers a course in home building, one of the first schools in the country to include such a course... These young fellows thought that home builders... the boys with the big construction companies... should know about this reservoir of talent so, on their very own they wrangled some space for their exhibit and went about the task of telling the world about the young home builders training at Michigan State... The experiment paid off too for several senior have job interviews later in the school year... Foldin' stuff was at a minimum so while at the show they made the rounds of the various "hospitality rooms" at the Hilton... As one lad put it... "An apple here, some shrimp there, a sample piece of Wisconsin cheese, coffee and orange juice may not be a well rounded diet but it's easy on an undernourished pocket-book"... Who says the days of brave pioneers are over...

We were a little out of place but we went to a cooking school last week... Those gals who give them make everything look so easy... Why we could have gone right into the kitchen and made just about anything after listening to her... But being an honest soul and used to facing facts, we knew it wouldn't work as far as we were concerned 'cause, let's face it, we can't cook... But Mrs. Louise Ashbaugh could and proved it by whipping up the most luscious concoctions right in front of the crowd which would scare the life out of most people... And if anyone went away from the school without a lot of good hints tucked away for future use it was their own fault... It would be wonderful if she could return and put on a big school where everyone could go... How about that Puff and Bud? ... Better start making plans right now for a bigger and better one next year... We almost forgot... the whole thing was sponsored by Puff's G. E. Appliance... with co-owner, Bub Gill, delegated the difficult task of eating the huge and scrumptious looking steaks that were part of the demonstration... What an assignment!

And speaking of food, a copy of the Sun Colony, a little slick from the south... Fort Lauderdale, to be exact... brings news of the Charcoal Pit as well as the latest of restaurateur, Anthony Fertitta's ventures the Coconut Grove Playhouse... where the theatre is combined with dining... and where Henry King and his orchestra play of dancing... Seems Mr. Fertitta has taken the south by storm... just as he has Charlevoix with his Charcoal Pit at the Weatherlane... Incidentally, the little resort mag. was sent to us by Mrs. William Flynn who with Mr. F. is wintering at Lauderdale...

Can you believe it... it won't be long before all our summer hotels, shops and all will be open again.

Mrs. T. R. Miller Presents Lesson For Garden Club

Mrs. T. R. Miller presented an interesting and instructive lesson on tuberous begonias, also known as 'Jewels of the shade', at the regular meeting of the Garden club held last week Tuesday at the home of Mrs. H. E. Paddock.

She advised that they be planted in late February or early March and should be set on soil and lightly covered in six inch pots until the weather is warm enough so they can be set outside. They demand lots of water and light but not bright sunlight. The plants will blossom until fall.

If the plants are started from seed, the seed should be mixed with sand as with all small seeds.

The club will promote the planting of Charlevoix with petunias. Mrs. Gordon Freedman, Mrs. Ralph Hess, Mrs. Malcolm MacDowell and Mrs. Harvey Campbell were named to a committee to promote the project.

The garden tip: plant slow growing annuals now.

School Officials Meet In Alpena

The U. S. Air Force believes it can give two hours warning of an enemy attack. In order for evacuation to be effected every resident of every community must be taught what to do. This new concept is a positive approach and replaces the concept of "fear" under which no people can live. Dr. Clair L. Taylor, superintendent of Public Instruction, has urged the support of all schools be given this new emphasis on Civil Defense in the classroom. The Department of Public Instruction has published a handbook for teachers that outlines suggested activities and resources to be integrated with present classes.

Among those from Charlevoix county who attended the conference was Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools.

Ellsworth Spotlight

Mrs. Grant Hastings

Village Voters
Your attendance at the village caucus to be held in the Ellsworth Community hall next Monday evening at 8 o'clock is important! Why? Because only one slate of officers can be nominated for the election in March.

It was disclosed at the regular council meeting Monday night that the procedure of nominating at the caucuses as done in the past is not legal. In a letter of inquiry sent to the Secretary of State, quote, "Can this procedure be followed or is it necessary to hold two different caucuses in order to have more than one list of names on the election ballot?" In the answering letter of Feb. 7, 1956, from Robert M. Montgomery, director of election, he says, "As to the nominating procedure, it is definitely wrong to nominate more than one ticket or slate of officers at one caucus. If there is to be more than one ticket, there should be as many caucuses held as there are tickets to be nominated."

So if you are truly interested in your village and its operation your presence at the caucus will have a great bearing on the ones who will be elected in March.

The terms of Walter Rood, Charles Edson and Harry Elzinga will expire this year. Other officers to be filled each year at the election are village president, clerk, treasurer and assessor.

Community Calendar

Dates to be checked on your calendar include: Feb. 17 World Day of Prayer, 1:30 p.m. at the Pilgrim Holiness church; Feb. 20 annual village caucus in the Ellsworth Community hall 8 p.m.; Feb. 23 meeting of the school building committee, when reports of various chairmen will be given; Feb. 25, district band and ensemble at Petoskey.

Also Banks P.T.A. meets at the school next Tuesday at 8 p.m. with Robert Gillespie, director of child guidance, from Petoskey as guest speaker. A film "Meeting the Needs of the Adolescent" will be shown. Mr. Gillespie will be happy to answer questions from the group in a general discussion.

A change in date for the Ellsworth Rapid City game to be played at Williamsburg on Feb. 29 instead of Feb. 28.

The Banks school band will present a public concert Feb. 29 in the Ellsworth Community hall.

The Seniors of Banks school will sponsor a talent show Mar. 2.
The basketball tournaments start the week of Mar. 6 in Petoskey.

THOUGHTS AFIELD

Harold E. Kohn

Wise Old Bird?

Where did the owl get his reputation for being a "wise old bird?" The origin of the myth that the owl possesses rare wisdom is obscure, but it is known that in ancient Rome this big-eyed bird was credited with prophetic capacities. Death was supposedly foretold by owls lighting on a housetop, as if by this gesture the bird were predicting the passing of an inhabitant. Probably the owl was first accounted wise because he looks that way. While most birds have their eyes positioned on the side of their heads, an owl's eyes are placed like man's, in front of the face so that the bird can look directly ahead. Moreover, owl's eyes are impressively big, and when they cast a baleful penetrating glance at a person and then blink knowingly, the onlooker may imagine more intelligence rests behind them than could possibly be the case.

The owl's fabled wisdom is only feather-deep, and these birds have been known to do foolish things, like the one that silently drifted down from its perch, plumped its sharp talons into a startled, ki-king sixty-pound collie, and tried to fly off with it. Of course the owl's efforts were fruitless, and not being able to get the frightened animal off the ground, the bird abandoned the project. It was a stupid undertaking for an owl, because even a large, great-horned owl when de-feathered is little larger than a good-size rooster and is no match for so heavy a burden as a collie dog.

Wisdom is no matter of mere appearance, of having an owl-like knowing look, nor a pair of pince-nez glasses, nor a large and impressive library, nor a long string of academic degrees. One might possess all of these and still be foolish.

Wisdom is a many-sided virtue. Wisdom is deep knowledge of your own limitations and your own possibilities.

Wisdom is the patience to allow today's seed to ripen into tomorrow's fruit without digging it up every few hours to see how it is coming along.

Wisdom is the hanging of splendid, inspiring thought pictures on the walls of the mind.

Wisdom sees the essential unity that lies below our human diversity. Wisdom is being grateful for what you have when you are tempted to mourn for what you lack.

Wisdom means reflecting on what you are about to say rather than only or what you have said. Wisdom is doing the best you can with what you have right where you are.

Wisdom is the welcome we extend to opportunity, even when it approaches us in grimy overalls and looks like work.

Wisdom is the refusal to be satisfied with noble sentiments and good goals; it develops the means to reach worthwhile ends.

Wisdom is the power of discrimination, the ability to see a difference between momentary pleasure and lasting satisfaction, the difference between material possessions as means for living and as goals for living. Wisdom distinguishes between fame and greatness, religion and holiness, raw sex attraction and real love, cost and worth.

Wisdom is mental and spiritual neatness, having a plan of life and keeping everything in its place according to its value. That includes putting God in His place, first place, in our scheme of things.

Wisdom is the honest and courageous facing of life's troubles, knowing that some things we travelers do not desire to meet are sure to come our way. Accident or disease may come. If not, at least old age is on its way. So is death. Why treat them as enemies? They are sojourners here with us. They have a place in life's adventure. And who knows, where we are on familiar terms with them, we may dare to call them "friends."

When the haunting hoot of the great-horned owl floats like a ghost of a sound across our moon-drenched meadow, I think of that bird's big blinking eyes, its wise look, and its sometimes foolish behavior. Wisdom that goes no deeper than mere appearances isn't worth a hoot.

Real wisdom is a way of handling life so as to make the most of the short time the Almighty allows us here.

Greg Smith from the Bayne Citizen spent one night on the Island recently. He missed his plane by just a few minutes and had to stay over night. While he was here a Marde Gras party was being held in the Parish hall so he got a few pictures of it. Music for the evening was furnished by the "Jesters".

Henry Allen and Karl Erber were on the Island recently for a business meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Hoffman spent the weekend at their cottage here.

Richie O'Donnell and Glen McDonough spent the weekend with their respective families. Miss Nancy Roache was a week-

Charlevoix Loses To Grayling By 67-50 Score

Vikings Hold Lead Throughout The Game

The Charlevoix Rayders bowed to the third place Grayling Vikings Friday night by a score of 67-50 after trailing the entire game.

This week the Rayders will host the Pellston Hornets on Friday and meet the Boyne City Ramblers on the local hardwoods on Tuesday.

In their first meeting Charlevoix edged past the Hornets by a two-point margin. Since then, however, Pellston had dropped to fourth place while the Rayders have remained in second place. The Hornets suffered a severe defeat at Boyne City last week after keeping pace with the Ramblers for two periods. The Rayders, on the other hand, bowed to a determined Grayling five 67-50.

The Rayders racked up a four-point win over Boyne City in their first meeting but since then the Ramblers have stayed on the victory trail, defeating all comers by decisive scores, while the Rayders have been dumped by Mancelona and Grayling.

Charlevoix has its work cut out for them during the next week if they are to remain in the running.

Playing at Grayling last week the Vikings went into an early lead which they never relinquished throughout the game. Charlevoix trailed 15-6, 29-23 and 61-29 by quarters before outscoring the Vikings 21-16 in the final period to cut Grayling victory margin to 17 points.

Starting for the Rayders were Norm Helms, Garry Vandenberg, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson and Kenny Balch with Charlie Dennis, Kit Carson, Joe Etienne, Walt Poquette and Terry Davis joining the line-up in an effort to stop the Vikings and get back into the game.

Walker, Swanson and Balch each scored a field goal in the first period while Grayling was rolling up a 15-6 lead on five field goals and the same number of free throws.

The Rayders got back into the runnings in the second period to cut the Vikings advantage to 29-23 at halftime as Balch scored three field goals, Walker and Swanson added three points each on a field goal and a free throw, Dennis and Vandenberg connected for one field goal apiece and Etienne scored one free throw. The Vikings scoring included six field goals and two free throws.

Grayling really started to hit in the third quarter, scoring 22 points on 10 field goals and two free throws for their best period of the game while the Rayders failed to score one field goal and settled for six points from the free throw line. Carson and Walker scored two apiece and Vandenberg and Swanson one apiece.

Charlevoix found the basket in the final period and poured in 21 points on four field goals and a free throw by Swanson, three

The Vikings outscored Charlevoix 26-20 in field goals while adding 15 points out of 26 on free throws. The Rayders were successful on 10 of 23 free throw attempts.

Dave Lowe paced the scoring with 22 points for the victors. Swanson had 15 and Walker 13 for Charlevoix.

Charlevoix Wins Over Petoskey In Thriller

The Charlevoix Rayders overcame a Petoskey lead in the closing seconds of a hard-fought game Saturday night to defeat the Northmen 62-61 after the latter had led most of the way.

It was a bucket by Gerry Vandenberg with less than eight seconds remaining that gave Charlevoix its second win this season over the traditional rivals. Charlevoix went into a 17-13 first period lead but the Northmen came back to knot the score and then to go ahead 29-23 at the halftime after a seesaw battle which developed early in the second period.

Little Rayders Victors Over Grayling 55-44

Charlevoix's Little Rayders racked up a 55-44 win over the Grayling Reserves Friday night to remain in the win column. The young lads took a slim 8-6 first period lead, stretched it to 23-18 at halftime and 37-32 at the third quarter mark before outscoring the Vikings 18-12 in the final period for a 10-point victory.

Glenn Bearss, Dale Putman, Larry Ingalls, Bill Poquette and Bob Mol started for the Rayders. Kenny Case, John Bingham, Steve LaBlance and Scott Supernaw joined the line-up later in the game.

Ingalls hit for two double-counters and Bearss and Mol for one each to give Charlevoix eight points as the first period ended. Grayling had two field goals and two gift shots for six points.

The action was stepped up in the second quarter as Bearss scored seven points on two field goals and three charity shots. Ingalls added three field goals and Mol one for 15 points and a 23-18 halftime advantage after Gaylord had dumped in six field goals.

In the third period LaBlance scored four points, Bearss and Putman three each and Ingalls and Mol one field goal apiece for 14 points. Gaylord scored the same number of points on six field goals and two gift shots but the Rayders continued to hold the lead 37-32.

Charlevoix dumped in seven field goals and connected on four free throws for their best period as the game ended 55-44.

Supernaw scored six points on two field goals and two free throws; Mol and Bingham scored two field goals apiece; Putman one field goal and Bearss two free throws for the 18 points. Grayling scored four field goals and an equal number of free throws.

Joe Lowe with 18 points for Grayling was top scorer in the game. Bearss had 14, Ingalls 12 and Mol 10 for Charlevoix.

With seven field goals and three free throws the Rayders cut Petoskey's lead to two points, 49-47 going into the final quarter where the heated action had fans on their feet throughout the period.

Vandenberg scored a bucket to tie the score early in the final period Helms putting Charlevoix ahead 51-49 before Dick Smith sunk a free throw and Herman Meyer connected on a field goal to put Petoskey back in the lead.

Guy Swanson sunk a long shot to make the score 53-52 but the advantage was short-lived as Denny Hitchmough drove in for two quick baskets to put the Northmen ahead by three points with five minutes remaining.

With the action stepped up Hitchmough was fouled and connected on first of two free throw attempts to give Petoskey a four-point lead at the four-minute mark.

Charlie Dennis hit for one point from the free throw line to make the score 57-54 but Meyer dumped in a bucket for a five-point advantage. Swanson put the Rayders back in the game with a long shot but Jack Smith made the score 60-56 from the free throw line with 75 seconds remaining.

Dennis broke through for a bucket but Dale Beatty stepped to the free throw line to make the score 61-58 with only 30 seconds left.

With 20 second remaining Swanson hit with another long shot which gave Petoskey the ball outside. In the action which followed the ball was tied up and a jump ball was called with eight seconds remaining.

Charlevoix got the tip off Quint Walker shot and missed with Vandenberg taking the ball and dumping it in as the final whistle sounded.

Walker paced the scoring for game with 19 points followed by Vandenberg with 14 and Swanson with 12.

Snow Removal Report Is Made By Commission

The cost of keeping roads in the county open to traffic during the winter months is a major item in road budgets a report released this week by the Charlevoix county Road Commission reveals.

A total of $49,478.76 or an average of 207.20 per mile for 238.8 miles, was spent on snow fence, snow removal and ice control of local or township roads during the calendar year of 1955. In addition an average of $224.00 per mile was spent on the county's 161.9 miles of primary roads and $43,889.00 or an average of $662.00 per mile on the 66 miles of trunk lines located within the county.

Under an agreement with the townships, the Charlevoix county Road Commission and the townships share equally in the cost of ice control, snow removal and snow fence on local or township roads; the county road commission finances the care of primary roads which are main routes connecting major highways or communities and the Michigan State Highway Commission finances the care of state highways. Breakdown of costs by townships appears in chart below.

Nearly half of Michigan's orchards are magnesium deficient. Get leaf samples analyzed at M. S. U. to find out about your orchard.

She Knew It All The Time

Chances are, long ago your grandma knew how to keep you from catching cold. Mine did. "Stay out of drafts," she'd warn. "Bundle up. Don't get wet." Then, maybe, when you grew up you found that the old lady's theories were considered old fashioned. Germs were the thing — and the way to avoid a cold was to avoid infection by somebody who already had one. Now I read where scientists aren't so sure. Germs carry a cold, of course, but they now believe something else "sets it off" — something like drafts, wet feet or going without your muffler. Grandma, take a bow! From where I sit, there's liable to be sound reasoning behind the old customs people believe in. "Early to bed, early to rise," for instance — or the practice of drinking hot milk or a glass of beer at bedtime. I'm not saying you ought to hold with these beliefs yourself ... but you'd better get the facts before giving them the "chill."

Boyne Takes 'C' Title Game By Two Points

Playing one of their best games of the current season, the Charlevoix Rayders bowed to the Boyne City Ramblers by a score of 61-59 Tuesday night to give the Ramblers, coached by Paul Pfahler, their first Northern Michigan Class C title since 1949.

The Charlevoix Rayders had held the league championship since 1951. In 1950 the East Jordan Red Devils were the league champs.

Humane Society Holds Election Of '56 Officers

Sam Arbuckle of Boyne City was elected president of the Charlevoix County Humane Society at a business meeting held Tuesday, Feb. 14, at the home of Mrs. A. Evers. He succeeds Keith Stinchcomb of East Jordan who will become a member of the board of directors.

Malcolm MacDowell of Hayes township was named vice president; Mrs. Wesley L'Hullier, secretary and Mrs. Evers was re-elected as treasurer. Mrs. L'Hullier and Mrs. MacDowell were also named to the board of directors for terms of three years.

Among the major accomplishments of the society during the past year has been the construction of a small animal shelter in Boyne City. Edward Erber is the humane officer.

A report of the society's activities for the month of January shows that 65 calls were received; eight cruelty complaints and investigations made; 11 complaints regarding dogs were made and investigated; 36 dogs were picked up; two dogs were adopted; two dogs destroyed and 765 miles traveled by the humane officer while on duty. A total of $18.61 was contributed to further humane work and $17.82 spent for food for animals and other care.

The need for increased membership was discussed at the business meeting and tentative plans for a membership drive following an executive board meeting.

The society feels that the general public is not aware of its financial needs. Official contributions including those from the board of supervisors and the cities served by the society plus private contributions and membership are far below the needs of the society if it is to maintain the shelter which was built during the past year.

Mrs. L'Hullier has offered to speak before any group or organization wishing to know more about the aims and purposes of the society. She may be contacted by calling LI 7-2146.

Attend Citizens Education Meet On Last Tuesday

Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, and D. D. Nelson, Boyne City commercial teacher, represented the county at the seventeenth annual Citizens' Conference on Education held in Lansing last Tuesday.

More than 500 people packed the conference room at the Hotel Olds to make this the most successful conference to date.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams highlighted the meeting with an address in which he outlined the main provisions of the State Aid proposals being promoted by the so-called Governor's Committee, the Taylor Committee and the M. E. A. He pointed out that each of the bills show the same general trend, particularly increased state participation based upon greater effort on the local level. He asserted that the question is chiefly "How fast can we move ahead?" toward the goal of providing equal and adequate opportunity for every boy and girl in Michigan to achieve a good education.

The Ramblers won the title with two games remaining in the current season with a record of 11 wins and one loss, to Charlevoix. The Rayders are in second place with eight wins and four losses.

This week the Rayders will travel to Gaylord to take on the Blue Devils Friday night.

Tuesday night the Ramblers forged into an 8-2 lead before Charlevoix started to hit and took a one-point 10-9 lead at the first quarter. Going into the second period the Rayders held the advantage briefly but the Ramblers came from behind to take a 26-25 advantage.

Probate Judges Winter Meeting Is At Gaylord

Probate judges representing 19 counties of the Top O' Michigan division of the Michigan Probate Judges Association held their mid-winter meeting at Gaylord Thursday.

The judges were unanimous in their support of proposed legislation now pending in the state legislature which would require that before commitment of a person claimed to be mentally ill, that such person be removed to a regional diagnostic center for a period of not exceeding 60 days for physical and mental study. This time could, under the proposed law, be extended an additional 60 days. At the end of this period, the diagnostic would then report its findings and recommendations to the court.

If the superintendent of the center should recommend release, the person would immediately be released. If commitment to a mental hospital or other facility were recommended, the court would hold a final hearing and make its decision. It is claimed that this proposed law, if passed, would be the first big step in solving the great mental health problem in Michigan.

The proposal to acquire a site for the Boys vocational School, also pending in the legislature, was unanimously supported. The present facility is over-crowded and boys cannot be kept long enough to fix a new pattern of life.

Complete opposition to a pending proposal to raise the age limit of children in the juvenile court was also voiced.

Important Meet Of Mt. McSaubia Group Is Monday

"The project has been well received thus far," a spokesman for the Corporation said in announcing the meeting Monday.

"However, if the project is going to go over, we will have to have more volunteers," he added.

Everyone interested in developing a winter sports park here is urged to attend the Monday meeting.

Stock in the Corporation at $10.00 a share may be purchased at either bank. If you are not able to purchase stock at the present time labor volunteers are also needed so come and see what you can do to help.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

There are times when we don't mind living in northern Michigan. . . . Last week when the southern part of our fair state was having such beastly weather was one of 'em. . . . While we were enjoying cold, clear sunny days a good part of the state including points south of Cadillac were digging out from under. . . . And before that it was sleet. . . . To our way of thinking we've had wonderful winter weather since the holidays. . . . And with the days getting longer all the time, life really seems worth living again. . . . Of course there's the month of March to reckon with but once that's here Spring can't be far behind. . . . 'Twon't be long before someone will be reporting the arrival of the first Robin. . . . Then there'll be Easter and from then on the days run in to gether with seeds of things happening so. . . . Who's complainin' about the weather? . . . No one in Charlevoix.

Another week and we'll take on an extra day. . . . the day that makes this year Leap year. . . . There are only two people with Feb. 29 birthday anniversaries so we'd like to send extra special birthday greetings to Mrs. Ada Yettaw Golden and to our neighbor, Jeanette Novak. . . . Hope you have wonderful anniversaries this year of 1956. . . .

And speaking of Leap Year, there was once a Queen of Scotland named Margaret back somewhere in the 800s who had a pretty good idea about Leap Year that we think is worth bringing back. . . . It seems as though she issued a decree demanding that all single men who refused a proposal of marriage from an eligible maiden pay her the sum of one pound English sterling. . . . Now what with inflation and the changing times, wouldn't it be a good idea to raise the ante to say $25.00, good old U. S. legal tender. . . . With a few refusals during Leap Year a girl could pick up a little pin money. . . . How about it, gals. . . . Want to go along with that? . . . There's only one hitch. . . . we don't know what to do in case the guy accepts. . . .

You've heard us mention the short wave radio systems the real commission and law enforcement officers in our county use. . . . About a week ago both groups were about to lose their minds. . . . Due to some freak atmospheric condition (maybe it was the sun spots we've been hearing about) all the radios in the area were picking up a station from somewhere over which only Spanish was spoken. . . . They told us it was because the darned thing drowned out their conversation but we think it was because they couldn't understand what the fellow was saying. . . . Sheriff Glen Rose told us later that it was a communication system that belonged to a logging outfit down in Puerto Rico. . . . Seems somebody checked it. . . . But that's quite a distance for a little ole one-horse radio station to travel. . . . no matter what you say. . . .

As this is being written our Charlevoix Rayders, whom we've sadly neglected recently, but certainly not from lack of interest, have three games left in the current season. . . . Boyne City, Gaylord and Mancelona in that order. . . . What the final scores will be in all three games we have no idea (if we did we'd make a book on it) but we know they'll do their best and that's about all you can ask. . . . But win or lose we love 'em and wish 'em luck in their remaining games. . . .

We got quite a bang out of this and a friend of ours was given a jolt. . . . Seems she was coming down the street near the grade school one day recently when she saw two youngsters scrapping, as kids will do. . . . One fellow, quite a lot bigger than the second had the little guy in the snow and was what you might say 'beating' up on him'. . . . Thinking the situation quite unfair, she grabbed the big guy by the collar, pulled him off the little kid and proceeded to tell him that he ought to be ashamed of himself. . . . After the reprimand she sent him on his way. . . . the little guy having taken off in a hurry while she was talking. . . . A little girl came along just then and proceeded to make conversation by saying. . . . Gee those two do that all the time. . . . they're brothers. . . . Kids!!!!

If you need any proof that Spring isn't too far away, here's some. . . . the boys are playing marbles. . . . that's right, down on their knees in the snow and water shootin' marbles. . . . skunkin' the other guy. . . . remember when you used to play marbles? It sure was fun but your hands sure got dirty too. . . .

And who says our kids don't know what to do in an emergency. . . . Met little Woody Woodward on the street the other day. . . . He stopped to tell me that there were some dogs out playing on the ice on Round Lake and if they weren't careful they were going to fall in 'cause' that ice sure didn't look safe. . . . We discussed the situation briefly before he said "I think I'll call the Coast Guard and tell 'em about it". . . . That from a youngster who is in the first grade. . . . Can't hold but wonder what Woody expected the Coast Guard to do. . . . maybe reprimand the pooches as his mother no doubt has done about going on the ice. . . .

THREE RIVERS HOSPITAL

Hospital administrator Erickson sees examples daily of patients who have inadequate hospitalization coverage. "Because Blue Cross benefits are service benefits — with no dollar limits — they always keep abreast of the times," he says.

"Doing my job, I find more at each day. . . .

Why your community hospitals sponsor Blue Cross"

—says Mr. W. E. Erickson, Administrator,
Three Rivers Hospital, Three Rivers, Michigan

"Yes, as a hospital administrator, it is my job to see to it that each patient gets the services prescribed by his doctor as well as the kind of modern general hospital care that will get him well in the shortest possible time.

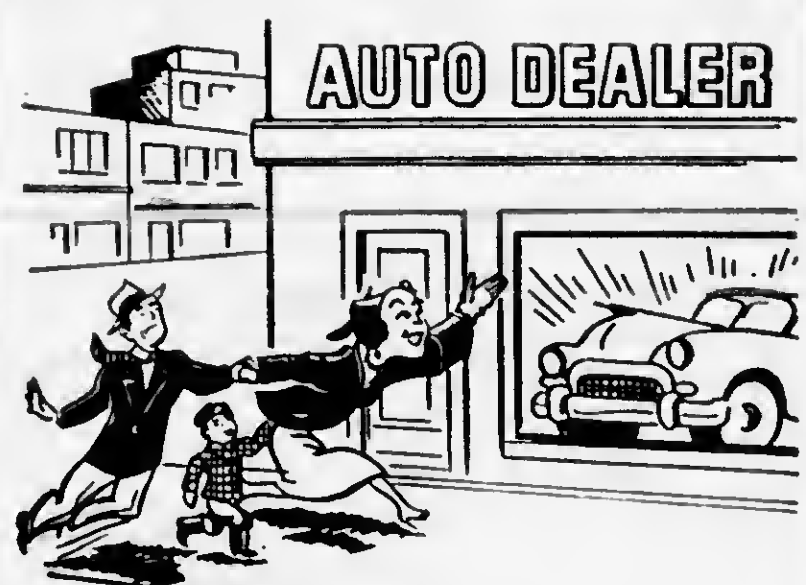

"Day after day, I have to deal with patients whose insurance policies do not provide for this kind of modern hospital care. They have insurance policies with fixed dollar limits. Too often these dollar limits are pathetically low.

"Neither I nor any other hospital administrator can tell you in advance how much your hospital care, when you need it, will cost you. Since you are dealing with an unpredictable cost, why should you buy hospitalization coverages with prefixed dollar limits on any of the services?

"This is why your community hospitals in Michigan and throughout the country sponsor Blue Cross. Blue Cross gives you service benefits. This assures you the services you will need to get modern hospital care. And Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract benefits have no dollar limits. Moreover, these benefits always keep abreast of the times. They do the job for you. Blue Cross is your answer to the problem."

Kathleen Fitzsimons Fred E. Cartiers Will Observe Summer Resident Is Their Fifty-Seventh Anniversary Wed In Austria

The Dom Zu Maria Saal in Klagenfurt, Austria, was the scene of the wedding Feb. 10 of Kathleen Elizabeth Fitzsimons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzsimons of Detroit and Charlevoix, and Hans Tschurtschenthaler, son of Mrs. Ignaz Tschurtschenthaler of Klagenfurt and Vienna and the late Dr. Tschurtschenthaler.

Maid of honor was Mary Louise Fitzsimons of San Diego Calif., sister of the bride and bridesmaid were Inga Henhapl and Isolde Ertmann of Klagenfurt, cousins of the bridegroom.

Dr. Wolfgang Wolte was best man and Wolff Kolbesch and Heirne Glangner were ushers.

A dinner and reception at the Hotel Sandwirt followed the ceremony.

After a wedding trip through Switzerland, Norway and Sweden, the couple will live in Vienna until they return to the United States early next summer.

In Europe for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Fitzsimons of Detroit, Miss Kathleen Badger of Birmingham aunt of the bride and Mary Louise Fitzsimons.

The bridal couple met in Vienna last year where both were students at the University of Vienna.

Adult Education Has Large Enrollment

More than 100 local residents are enrolled in 12 Continuing or Adult Education classes offered at the Charlevoix high school. Max Novak, who is in charge of the program, announced Wednesday.

The classes are held Monday through Thursday at the high school.

Norman D. Ance Attends

Norman D. Ance, local attorney, was in Ann Arbor recently where he attended the seventh annual Institute on Advocacy held at the University of Michigan.

Reception At St. James Honors Recently Wed Bruce McDonoughs

St. James, B. I. — Mr. and Mrs. Bruce McDonough, who were married recently in Detroit, are spending two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd McDonough, before returning to Detroit to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonough Sr. were hosts at a reception honoring the couple at Holy Name parish hall Saturday evening.

Pastel decorations were used in the parish hall where the island residents gathered to greet Mr. McDonough and his bride, the former Gretchen Barkley, daughter of Mrs. Louise Barkley of Detroit. Music was furnished by the Rev. Joseph Herp, Dr. and Mrs. Harry Vail, Mrs. Willard Pischner and Archie LaFreniere.

Mr. and Mrs. McDonough were married at St. Martin's church in Detroit Jan. 28. The Rev. Fr. Decker officiated at the double ring service during the nuptial Mass in the presence of 200 guests. White carnations and pompons decorated the altar for the service.

Given in marriage by her brother, Richard Barkley of Detroit, the bride chose a gown of white chantilly lace over satin for her wedding. It was styled with a fitted bodice, long sleeves and bouffant skirt. A matching lace cap secured her fingertip veil and she carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and ivy.

Mrs. James Small of Detroit as matron of honor and Mrs. John Widner, also of Detroit as bridesmaid were identical princess gowns of French blue velvet, matching velvet caps and carried bouquets of pink carnations and variegated ivy.

Ronald O'Donnell of St. James assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Joseph McDonough of St. James, brother of the bridegroom, Anthony Green of Grand Rapids and William Barkley of Detroit, brother of the bride.

Mrs. Barkley selected a navy dress and navy and white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. McDonough, mother of the bridegroom, wore a raspberry dress and black accessories. Each had a white orchid corsage. After a wedding breakfast at Hawthorne House in Grand Point, the couple left on a wedding trip through the south. For traveling the bride wore a black sheath dress, gold jacket and black accessories.

Among those from away who attended the reception Saturday were Mrs. Barkley and son, William, Mrs. Insell and Miss Setrio of Detroit, Henry Allen of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Melville, Theodore Wojan and Karl Erber of Charlevoix, Nancy Roache, Richard O'Donnell and Glenn McDonough of Grand

Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cartier, residents of this community since 1902, will observe their fifty-seventh wedding anniversary at their home at 110 Belvedere ave. Saturday.

No formal observance of the occasion has been planned.

Mr. and Mrs. Cartier were residents of Chatham, Ont., when they crossed the border to be married at Adrian, Michigan Feb. 25, 1899. They returned to Chatham to make their home. In June, 1901, Mr. Cartier came to Charlevoix where he was employed in a local tailoring shop and that fall opened his own shop and made plans to return to Canada for Mrs. Cartier and sons, Harold and Claire, who joined him the following Jan.

From his location at 308 Bridge st., now part of East Park, Mr. Cartier saw local history being made. In these days the village was a commercial fishing center and later became a great logging center. As the forests were cut and the lumbermen moved out it became a resort community and eventually the site of several small industries.

As a business man with a great interest in the future of the community he served several terms as third ward alderman, was a member of the Charlevoix hospital board of directors, a member of the park commission and the Board of Commerce.

For many years he was a director of the Western Michigan Tourist and Resort Association and was local correspondent for the Grand Rapids Press from 1922-45.

In the late 1930's when his shop was razed along with several other buildings to make way for East Park, he moved his business off Bridge st. for the first time. He continued to conduct his tailor shop until 1953 when he retired. He sold his dry-cleaning business several years earlier.

His interest in the community, however, is as great as ever and almost daily he can be seen making his rounds and chatting with old friends.

While Mr. Cartier was busy with his business and civic affairs, Mrs. Cartier was devoting her time to rearing their family and until recent years devoted much time to work in the Congregational church of which she is a member. She is a member of the Margaret Parker circle of the church and the Garden club. She is the former Hannah Scaf and was born at Chatham Sept. 1, 1880.

Mr. Cartier, also a native of Chatham, was born Dec. 7 1872. He is a member of the St. Mary's church.

The couple has one daughter, Mrs. Willis A. (Betty) Cross of Montague and three sons, Harold of New York and Dover, N. J., Dr. W. Claire of Grand Rapids and Stanley of Atlanta, Ga. They also have 17 grandchildren.

Blue Cross Nursing Scholarships Contest Underway--Ends March 31

The sixth annual Blue Cross nursing scholarship contest sponsored by Michigan Blue Cross is now underway and will continue until March 31, William S. McNary, executive vice president of the sponsoring organization has announced.

The ten cash, nursing scholarships of $300 each will be awarded by Blue Cross on a competitive basis in the 1956 competition. This year's contest, is open to all high school seniors and graduates in Michigan, continues an annual program initiated in 1951.

The competition will be conducted by the Michigan League of Nursing with headquarters in Lansing. Application blanks with rules and instructions for entering the 1956 competition are available through high school principals, approved schools of nursing, all Blue Cross district offices or may be obtained by writing directly to the Michigan League of Nursing, 567 Hollister building, Lansing.

The contestant must complete the application and return it to the League's scholarship committee by March 31, the contest deadline.

The board of trustees of the Michigan Blue Cross established the first scholarship program in 1951 at a time when the need for more nurses was rising steadily but the enrollment in nursing schools had declined.

Since then freshmen enrollment in Michigan nursing schools has increased nearly 27 per cent in the last five years -- from 4,399 in 1951 to 1,768 in 1955.

Mrs. K. Mary Straub, R. N., president of the Michigan League of Nursing, said, in reporting this increase, that "We feel that the interest aroused through the Blue Cross nursing scholarship program has been a big factor in this increase by stimulating interest in nursing at a time when at least one out of 10 girls graduating from high school is needed in the nursing field to meet current demands."

The Blue Cross program has attracted more and more contestants each year. Last year 193 applicants qualified for final judging, almost triple the 172 who entered the first contest in 1951.

You are paying for INSULATION why not enjoy its many BENEFITS—NOW!

SAVE UP TO 50% IN FUEL COSTS—ENJOY MORE HEATFUL COMFORT. If your home isn't insulated, chances are you are paying out far more than complete insulation would cost. Not only are your fuel bills higher, but you are getting less heatful heat. Your walls are cold and interior drafts beat. Too much indoor heat goes out in winter and too much outdoor heat comes in in summer. And remember that good insulation also serves as a fire barrier, sound conditioner, and vermin repellent. Good insulation gives you permanent, healthful value far beyond its price.

NEW, FREE BOOKLET EXPLAINS IMPORTANT FACTS ABOUT INSULATION. Of course you want insulation that has the lowest heat conduction rating, is permanently resilient, fire-resistant and rodent-proof. But there are other all-important facts you should know that make a world of difference. Now, in a few minutes you can readily understand these facts. Simply get your copy of our new free booklet on insulation... then you'll KNOW what you need in insulation to give you complete and permanent satisfaction.

Two County Men Are Called For March

Two Charlevoix county draft registrants, Gordon W. Farley of Boyne Falls and Albert J. Smith of East Jordan, a volunteer, will report March 5 for induction into the armed services to fill the county's March draft quota. Mrs. Eleanor Left, draft board clerk, has announced.

Kenneth E. Ricksgers of St. James Beaver Island, has been ordered to report March 15 for a pre-induction physical examination.

and cubbers will study the theme for March, "Bottom of the Sea", discuss new ceremonies, Cub picnic at Camp Greilick and summertime Cubbing ideas.

Plans for the annual Unit Appreciation dinner in Traverse City April 24 will also be told.

More Than Enough

A wholesome feeling akin to contentment spreads over me as I look from Charlevoix's bridge down the channel and out to nearby Lake Michigan. I've often wondered why tranquility and composure come in the wake of a long look at a wide sweep of rolling water.

One reason why the thought of Lake Michigan's great breadth and depth gives me peace, I suspect, is that in a world of scarcities this great body of water represents abundance. There is enough water there to suit any of us. It is wide enough, deep enough, vast enough to amply fill our need. And in a world where we haven't enough time, nor money, nor energy, nor wisdom, nor patience to suit us, to see a good thing of which there is a plenty is quelling.

The healthy organism, whether beast or bird, fish or man, is one that has more than enough energy for the daily demands life makes upon it. It keeps on hand a stock of physical reserves and does not have to drag its limp and exhausted form through a hand to mouth existence.

The vigorous-minded person is one who has a consciousness of his inner abundance. He has more than enough knowledge for his examinations while in school, so that he never needs to drag the bottom of an intellectual cistern for a last muddy drop of information. He need never bore another person with stony silence or monotonous repetition because he can always find some fresh topic in his abundant store of thought that will interest another. More important, he need not bore himself, for he can draw upon his affluence of stimulating interests.

The great artist is not one who has but one magnificent idea for a painting and renders it, and then is finished. He has more paintings planned than he can ever possibly place upon canvas. The composer has more melodies dancing in his mind than he can ever pen upon a musical score. The inspired preacher speaks out of a generous overflow of thought and feeling. And what Gilbert Chesterton said about Robert Louis Stevenson would be equally true of most of history's creative writers: "He died with a thousand stories in his heart."

Travellers pass over the San Francisco-Oakland Bridge without a quail or a fear, because it is well known that the cables supporting the bridge's weight are capable of upholding a load two and one-half times as great as they will ever be called upon to bear. Peace of mind depends upon the conviction that we possess a margin of strength beyond any need that can confront us.

A great religious faith is the awareness that God is inexhaustible. We are not doomed to live on sparse rations with barely enough spiritual resources, if carefully hoarded, to last us our allotted span of years. In God there is more than enough power and love, mercy and understanding for our daily wants and our lifelong need.

Charlevoix Telephone Lines

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

ADDITIONAL TELEPHONES make life easier for the entire family. Telephones in the kitchen, the playroom, the bedroom—wherever they are needed—save time and steps. These additional telephones are especially important if you have a baby or two in the house.

With a telephone at your finger tips, you don't have to leave your tots even for a minute when the phone rings. (And a minute is all they need for harm or mischief!) Why not ask about those additional phones today? They only cost a few pennies a day.

THERE SEEMS TO BE no end to the value of the telephonic New uses for it are turning up almost every day. For instance, a supermarket recently requested Michigan Bell to install telephone outlets at the end of the shelves, with lines running to the stock room. As soon as the merchandise runs low, the shelves can be immediately replenished. So the chances are when you walk into this store, you'll find just what you're looking for, right where it belongs. The telephone does serve in so many ways, doesn't it?

DO YOU SAVE pieces of string? The telephone company is like that...only more so. Odds and ends of wire and worn parts are carefully collected because they have real value. Tons of this scrap are shipped each year to Western Electric, supply unit of the Bell System.

There they are fed into giant furnaces, melted and remade into wire and brand-new parts. This thrifty economy is important to all of us because it helps keep the cost of telephone service down.

Still America's favorite eight—by millions!

Ford's eight-cylinder get-up-and-go and smoother performance have made the Ford V-8 the world's largest-selling eight over the past 24 years! During this time, Ford has sold more than 14 million eights. And that's over 6 times more eights than the next two low-priced cars combined have ever sold!

Rayders Defeat Pellston Hornets By 58-48 Score

Charlvoix To Meet Gaylord Here Friday

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up their eighth win of the current season Friday night with a 58-48 victory over the Pellston Hornets who were dropped into a fourth place tie with East Jordan as a result of the loss.

This week the second place Rayders, two games behind the league-leading Boyne Ramblers, will travel to Gaylord to take on the Blue Devils who were downed by East Jordan 63-45 Friday night but who defeated Grayling 53-50 earlier in the week.

In their first meeting Charlevoix won over the Blue Devils 67-44 after the Gaylord five had gotten off to a fast start and led the Rayders at the first quarter. The Blue Devils could be dangerous on their home floor and the Rayders will be called on to display their best brand of ball if they are to keep their present place in loop standings.

Last Friday the starting line-up included Garry Vandenberg, Quint Walker, Norm Helms, Guy Swanson and Kenny Balch. Kit Carson joined the line-up in the third period and Joe Etienne, Walt Poquette and Joel Arvilla saw action in the final period.

Pellston got off to an early lead and paced the game 13-11 at the first period after dumping in five field goals and three free throws. The Rayders scoring included two field goals by Walker, three points by Vandenberg, and a field goal each by Swanson and Balch.

The Rayders caught fire in the second period and poured in 18 points including eight by Walker four each by Swanson and Helms and two points by Vandenberg for a total of seven field goals and four free throws. The Hornets were limited to 10 points including four field goals and two charity shots.

Going into the second half the Rayders who were ahead 29-23 added 18 points to 14 by Pellston for a 48-37 third period edge on three field goals by Walker, two field goals by Vandenberg and three points by Helms. Pellston scored six field goals and two charity shots.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Who's complaining about the weather? . . . We should have known better than to have made a statement like this time of year . . . So Friday the 'phone rings and there is Mrs. Fred Southwood who can't make it to Petoskey to report for duty at the telephone company asking "what do you mean about the weather? I'd like to register a complaint" . . . And like a lot of other people up and down the state she had good reason to, for such ice we haven't seen in years. . . . It not only rained and froze but it kept on raining, washing the sand and salt off where it was needed most . . . So from now on we're going to leave the weather strictly alone . . . 'cause there's nothing you can do about it anyway . . .

And while we're on the subject of the weather here's one you'll never believe . . . Mrs. John Rosquist was telling us the other day that they have cherry blossoms in full bloom . . . Hold it . . . don't rush out to the cherry orchard to see for yourself 'cause you won't see them . . . Seems it's that time of year when you prune the cherry trees so Mr. R. brings the branches in the house and as a result they have a lovely bouquet of the blossoms in their living room from now on in . . . A short time ago they shared the beauty with the people of their church by taking huge arrangements for the altar . . .

Who says spring isn't on its way.

Mora about the grosbeaks . . . Mrs. H. A. Feiercisel reported seeing a flock of them the other day . . . So next will come the robins . . . wait and see . . .

It doesn't seem too long ago that we did a picture story on six of our boys who were enlisting in the U.S. Navy for four year hitch . . . We just realized this month that the hitch is up and one by one they're returning to civilian life . . . The first to arrive was Tom Harrington . . . On Sunday Harold Hamlin Jr. stopped by to say he was back . . . Bill Reed is expected shortly and not far behind will be Fritz Alford, Ron Wojan and Ed Kline . . . Golly, they were just kids when they left and now they're handsome young men and all but two of them married . . . How time flies . . .

You've heard the little rhyme about 'bein' a poet and not knowin' it' . . . That might well describe one of our residents who's spending the winter in Daytona, Fla. . . . Seems they play a game called 'Lucky' . . . and that this fellow had been pretty lucky at it . . . A prize was offered for the best reason why the players liked the game . . . You know the sort of thing . . . 'I like Lucky because' in 25 word or less . . . Anyway our hero wrote his in rhyme and walked off with the prize that was offered . . . When Ted Kibbee returns we're going to touch him for luck . . .

Received a copy of the news from Fulton county, Ky., recently and couldn't imagine why until we looked through 'till we found a familiar face . . . or rather a couple of 'em looking out at us . . .

It was from the Don Campbells who were feted at a number of social events including a family open house that sounded wonderful . . . After a week there they were to continue to the west coast where they'll visit the Don Herriks in Lawndale, Calif., before returning home . . .

A reminder . . . March 5 is the deadline for registering for the April general election . . . There's no contest now but who knows what might develop before April 2 so take yourself down to the city hall and register . . . not only for the forthcoming general city election but for the ones coming up later in the year . . . Unless someone meddles with the date the state primary election (haven't you heard the political pot boiling?) will be held in August and of course the big general election will be held Nov. 6 . . . This is THE year, politically speaking, and you won't want to miss one part of it so get on the ball, register now and you'll be able to put your little 'X' (as tho' you can't write) in the little box on the ballot during the months ahead . . .

And talk of politics brings us to the big question . . . will he or won't he run for re-election . . . Of course we mean President Eisenhower . . . We should know the answer this week . . . And as long as everyone else has expressed an opinion we'd like to add ours . . . When the decision comes we sincerely hope it will be in the negative . . . and not because of any political convictions we might have . . . We think that he has given more than enough of his life to this country . . . No one ever had a greater burden than he did during World War II and the years that followed . . . The years in the White House have not been easy ones and the campaign ahead is going to be even tougher . . . As a civilian we think he can do more for his country without the extra duties required of the president . . . And certainly he has earned the right to a life of his own which he will never enjoy as long as he is in the White House . . .

From the land of sunshine . . . Hawaii . . . came a beautiful bouquet of tropical flowers to Mrs. Al Scheid for Valentine's Day . . . Tho' there is still plenty of snow around here, their arrival was like a breath of spring . . . They were sent by Mrs. Scheid's son, Dick, who is stationed in the islands with the U. S. Navy . . .

From across the Pacific a letter from Mrs. George Wolf with news of her family and also the news that they will all be back in the States come mid-summer . . . But before then Vicky will graduate this spring . . . Both girls have done right well by themselves for Vicky is head majorette of a group of 14 girls who perform at the games in place of a band, is treasurer of the Pep Club and secretary-treasurer of the Washington Heights Teen-Club . . . Not to be out done Duleic is a junior high cheerleader, president of her scout troop and secretary of her Civics club . . . What with the girls' activities and the earthquakes Mrs. W. is kept busy . . . Recently the Tokyo area had its most severe quake since World War II . . . She concluded with the hope that they don't get any worse . . . At least while the Wolf's are still there . . .

Community Concert Series Will Present Rey - Gomez Dance Team

One of the foremost Spanish and Latin dance teams of the day, Federico Rey and Pilar Gomez, will appear in Potoskey Friday night as the final attraction of the 1955-56 Northern Michigan Community Concert Association.

The pair, who have long been entrancing audiences far and wide with their exhilarating talent as supreme entertainers in the popular field as well as serious and impeccable technicians of the dance, will appear at the Potoskey high school auditorium at 8:30 p. m. Friday.

The thrill of pulsating castanets, astonishing leaps, throbbing rhythms, swirls of gorgeous color and clicking heel beats, all to haunting Spanish melodies and exotic gypsy airs awaits those fortunate enough to hold Northern Michigan Community Concert tickets. From an extensive repertoire of authentic Basque, Flamenco, Gypsy, Mexican and South American dances, classic Boleros and ballets these dancers present a spectacle as dazzling to the eye as the music is bewitching to the ear.

Soundly trained in techniques at leading academies of the old world and new, Rey and Gomez have gone straight to the people for traditional folk rhythms, steps and movements. Their music is taken from original folk times and from the masterworks of the great composers in the Spanish idiom.

Federico Rey, a noted stage and costume designer, has dressed each number appropriately, using many original costumes and some reproductions authentic in color, fabric and ornamentation.

In this country they have been feature favorites at leading dance festivals, at such fabulous night-spots as the Thunderbird in Las Vegas and as stars of the Latin Quarter show.

This will be the last attraction of the 1955-56 series of the Concert association. Admission will be by membership in the Association.

The Northern Michigan Community Concert Association will begin its annual membership campaign for the 1956-57 season April 23.

Produced by Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II, the fast moving comedy was first presented in New York Feb. 4, 1947.

Masons Trail In Cribbage Tourney

Winning the ninth round of the Masons and Oddfellows cribbage tournament Monday night the Masons were still trailing their opponents by 705 points. The Masons picked up 98 points on their Monday night round.

William Evers, playing for the Masons, was high point man with a score of 953. William Bergmann scored high for the I. O. O. F. with 927 points.

Ice fishermen were cautioned this week against causing summertime accidents.

The warning may be confusing at first glance, but winter carelessness often leads to injuries on bathing beaches later in the year.

Bottles, cans and other refuse left on ice-covered lakes now can create hazards during the summer months. Ice movements and water action deposit debris at or near lake shorelines.

Bottles which sink into deep water are moved along the lake bottom by water action and find their way to beach areas after the ice has melted.

"Litterbug" activities can be costly for the guilty person. One such offender recently was assessed $14.80 in fines and cost in a Kalamazoo justice court for leaving broken bottles on an ice-covered lake.

Michigan imports 60 per cent of the eggs used in the state.

CARD OF THANKS

On Being 'A Good Egg'

In the entire realm of nature it is impossible to find anything that has arrived at a final destination. Everything is merely on its way.

The bob-white call-notes that float across midwest pastures in summertime ring from throats not long ago bent in the lime prison of a quail's small eggs. Then, soon, the eggs set free a covey of downy chicks venturing a few feet into a mysterious world and returning again in wide-eyed fright to the hen-quail's sheltering wings. Now they are chunky little whistlers, chiming their clear notes from every stump and fence post. And before long they will satisfy the hunger of some marauding fox or man, and be changed into mammal flesh and blood. Through the process of constant change the bob-white quail is related to everything on earth and to the most distant stars, for here is one of the least common denominators of all creation: everything is in a perpetual state of change.

All earthly things are becoming something other than what they now are. Dying grasses and falling leaves are becoming soil. Ingredients of the good earth are being used by grasses and trees as food and are thus transformed from inert to living matter. See that giant poplar that shades the lane leading from our gate to our house? It has appeared much the same since first we saw this acreage. But telescope the time element a trifle and yesterday the poplar was but a seed falling from the parent tree. Today it stands among its fellows in a green-gray uniform, tall and strong, a silent guardian over our land. Tomorrow its pulp will be transformed into paper which, day after tomorrow, when read, will ignite wood on someone's hearth. Then a pile of ashes and at last returned to the soil, the transformation is a symbol of the constant change going on throughout the universe. Even the distant sun cannot escape the changefulness of all organic and inorganic things. It loses weight at the incredible rate of a billion tons every four minutes. (But never fear, it will still be there in the morning, pecking over the eastern hills, to all appearances as big as ever. The sun could continue to lose weight at the present speed for fifteen million years before it would shrink to nothingness.)

One thing unique about man is his capacity to decide in some measure in what direction some of the things about him will change. He can take a piece of fallow ground producing little of worth and plant an orchard there, or grains, and enhance the value of the land. Or he can fall heir to a good farm and let it backslide into weediness. Men can take a bar of crude iron and, by making horseshoes from it, increase its worth, or heighten its value still more by making needles from it, or multiply its worth tremendously by alloying it with other metals and making watch springs from it. Of paper, man can make magazines, raffle tickets, twenty dollar bills, or pages for a Bible. The worth of any given thing is not in its present value alone, but in what it might become.

Invention and industry, the trades, the crafts, and the professions are all results of man's seeing in things as they are some opportunities for improvement, and then doing what he can with those possibilities.

Life of necessity involves growth, and all growth is the development of hidden powers. The good life is one in which the most is made of inner possibilities. When we are living as God intended, we are constantly changing, emerging from yesterday's level of achievement to a higher plan of living today and breaking forth into tomorrow at a still greater elevation. There is no such thing as stagnant goodness in man.

A person may be proud to be called by his friends "a good egg". But it is not enough. Any egg that remains an egg will not be a good egg for long. It either hatches into something better or it spoils and smells.

One of life's most probing and provocative questions is: "What do you hope to become?" Which is to say, "What's hatching?"

State Highway Fund Monies Are Being Distributed To City, County

The Michigan State Highway Department has begun the distribution of Motor Vehicle Highway Fund monies as provided for under Act 51, Section 12 and the weight and gasoline taxes collected during the last three months of the calendar year of 1955 under Act 87.

All State Gasoline, Weight and Diesel Fuel taxes and a small amount of miscellaneous fees collected under the 1951 Act are deposited in the State Motor Vehicle Highway Fund which is divided as follows: 44 per cent to the State Highway Department for expenditures on state trunkline highways in both rural and urban areas; 37 per cent to the counties for expenditures on roads and 19 per cent to cities and incorporated villages for expenditures on road and streets.

Under this act the Charlevoix county road commission received $52,092.57 as its share for the fourth quarter of 1955 and the city of Charlevoix received $4,840.31. These funds must be used for maintenance and construction of roads and streets within the county as designated above.

Under Act 87, the amount raised by the extra 1 1/2 cent gas tax and additional weight tax levied under its provision, is divided on the basis of 75 per cent to the State Highway Department and 25 per cent to the counties, cities and incorporated villages. The act further specifies that the county-city-village 25 per cent share shall be split as follows: 37 and 56/60 to the counties and 19 and 56/60 to the teen and fifty-sixths to the cities and incorporated villages. The act also requires the Highway Department's share be spent on the interstate highway system and certain designated sections of US-27, US-127, US-24, US-223, US-31, US-131, M-21, M-53 and M-78.

Monies received from this fund must be used exclusively for highway construction.

Charlevoix county has received $6,398.06 and the city of Charlevoix has received $579.04.

Lucille Essenberg, who is confined to her bed with a broken leg, was pleasantly surprised when 15 pupils from the Vance Mission came in last Wednesday evening with games to provide fun and a pot luck lunch to serve after the fun. These girls are members of Clarence Vanderark's Wednesday Bible class at the mission and also members of Mr. Melvin Essenberg's Sunday school class. Mrs. Percy Bennett accompanied them.

P. T. A.

Due to various conflict the attendance at the February meeting of Banks P. T. A. was very low. Approximately 60 to 65 were present out of about 150 members. This was a regrettable fact for Mr. Robert Gillespie, Child Guidance Director from Petoskey gave a very good talk and the film on Problems of Adolescence was informative.

During the short business meeting on recommendation of the Equipment committee headed by Dick Wieland, the group cast a majority vote to give $75 to the Band Booster club to apply on the Bank uniforms.

Following the meeting lunch was served by the committee, Mesdames George Koster, Charles Edson, Henry Elzinga, Dick Wieland, Max Bolser, Herbert Peebles and Harold Strand.

Game To Decide Title

The following is the report by band director, Dean Fiedler: The Ellsworth high school band entered the District Band and Orchestra Festival in Petoskey last Saturday. This festival serves as a guide to our high school band. The best judges in the state are obtained to comment on the good points and needs.

The band received, II and III, and III in concert work and II in sight reading. This made an average rating of III. This year's concert music was more difficult than last's, but the band played it well. The judges stated that overall, they did a nice job but lacked instrumentation in the bass section and inner parts.

Red Rayders Defeat Gaylord By A 65-47 Score

Charlevoix To Meet Mancelona On Friday

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up win No. 9 Tuesday night with a 65-47 victory over the Gaylord Blue Devils in a game which had been postponed from Friday.

This week the Rayders will conclude their 1955-56 schedule with a return game with Mancelona. The Ironmen dumped the Charlevoix five in an overtime game played at Mancelona earlier in the season.

This time, however, the Rayders should take the Ironmen without too much trouble if they concentrate on the game and play the type of ball they are capable of playing. In the game at Gaylord Tuesday night Charlevoix took a 15-10 first period lead but the Blue Devils fought back, outscoring the Rayders 18-17 and cutting their advantage to four points, 32-26, at the half.

Charlevoix caught fire in the third period, however, and racked up 26 points, including 12 by Quint Walker, for a 56-40 advantage going into the final quarter.

Walker paced the scoring by setting a new scoring record for the season. He tallied 31 points including nine field goals and 13 out of 16 free throws for 31 points. Guy Swanson followed with 15 points; Norm Helms with seven; Garry Vandenberg and Kenny Balch with five each and Terry Davis with two. Charlie Dennis, Joel Arvilla and Phil Timmer also played.

Terry Gocha was top scorer for Gaylord with 13 points. Mike McKillop who left the game on fouls early in the final quarter had 12 points.

Mancelona 72; Harbor Springs 67

Playing at Mancelona the Ironmen and the Harbor Springs Rams played to a 14-14 tie before the home team went ahead 40-35 at the half and 59-51 going into the final period. Ronnie Johnson paced the game with 26 points for the victors followed by Richie Clarke with 24 and Don Lauer with 23 for the Rams.

Boyer City 69; East Jordan 49
Paced by Nels Northup with 18 and John Juday with 17, Boyer City racked up a 14-6 first period lead and stretched it to 29-16 at the half and 51-32 at the third period over East Jordan. Cal Darbee who fouled out early in the final period was top scorer for the Jordanians with 16 points.

Pellston 67; Grayling 45
Pellston avenged an earlier loss to Grayling Saturday night by defeating the Vikings by a 22 point margin. The Hornets paced the game 16-14; 29-27 and 40-37 by quarters for the victory. Les Ball was top scorer with 24 points for Pellston. Bob Strong had 20 for Grayling.

Little Rayders Defeat Gaylord Reserves 45-31

Charlevoix's Little Rayders got back in the win column this week with a 45-31 victory over the Gaylord Reserves.

Paced by Bob Mol with 16 points and Glenn Beers with 14, the Charlevoix five held a one-point, 12-11, first period lead and went ahead 20-17 at the half before outscoring the little Blue Devils 13-3 for a 33-20 advantage going into the final period.

John Bingham had seven points; Larry Ingalls, four and Bill Poquette and Clare Harwood two points each for the Rayders.

Others who played were Scott Supernaw, Steve LaBlance, Dale Putman, Kenny Case, Ron Vandenberg, Tom Larkie, Dick Goike, Jimmy VerWys, and Mike Genet.

Don Jenkins had nine for Gaylord.

Kenny Balch gets off a jump shot which resulted in one of the six baskets he scored against Boyer City last week. The Rayders, playing one of their finest games of the season, lost to the new league champions, the Boyer City Ramblers, 61-59.

The two teams will meet again next Thursday when they play in the district tournament at Petoskey.

Watching the action is Rayder Quint Walker (17), Nels Northup (54), Bob Fitzpatrick (34), Walt Poquette (12) and two unidentified players.

Class 'C' Conference Teams To Conclude 1956 Season On Friday

All eight teams of the Northern Michigan Class C league will conclude their 16-game schedule this Friday before going into district tournaments next week.

Friday will find Grayling hosting Boyer City, Pellston playing at East Jordan, Gaylord traveling to Harbor Springs and Charlevoix hosting Mancelona.

On their home floor the Grayling Vikings have been a strong team with plenty of fight. Just how strong they are will be determined this week when they take on the Boyer City Ramblers who clinched the title last week after edging past Charlevoix 61-59. As it stands now Boyer City seems destined to complete the season without another defeat.

In their first meeting East Jordan trounced Pellston by a 30-point, but with their third place standing, now shared with Grayling, at stake the Hornets are expected to put up a good scrap.

East Jordan, on the other hand, must win if it is to finish in the top half of the league standings. The Jordanians will have an edge only because they are playing at home.

Harbor Springs, holding down the cellar position, will have their last opportunity to rack up a win and move into a tie with Gaylord this week. Gaylord has played some good ball this season and if they were to do that this week they could finish the season out of the cellar. The Rams, however, are always a threat on their home floor and if they try could take the Blue Devils.

Even if poultry is thoroughly roasted, the meat may be pinkish in color. This pink color does not affect quality. How much of the poultry meat turns pink and how deep the color becomes depends on how hot the heat is and whether the poultry roasts in an open or covered pan or is covered with aluminum foil part of the time. The age of the bird and amount of fat in the skin also make a difference.

Charlevoix Girl, Brownie Scouts Will Observe Girl Scout Week

Charlevoix's 159 Girl and Brownie Scouts and their leaders will join with other Girl Scouts through the country in the annual observance of Girl Scout week March 11-18, Mrs. Lester Smith, president of the Charlevoix Girl Scout Council, has announced.

This year the Girl and Brownie Scouts and their leaders have been invited to attend services at the First Baptist church in observance of Girl Scout Sunday. Because the Girl Scout program is supported in part by the Community Chest, the Girl Scout Council is taking this opportunity to publish its financial statement together with its budget for 1956 for the benefit of all those persons who contribute to the project through the Community Chest.

At the present time there are seven Girl Scout troops with a membership of 100 girls and five Brownie Scout troops with a total membership of 59 younger girls. Each of these 159 girls and each adult who works with Girl Scouts pay an annual registration fee of $1.00 which is paid directly to the national Girl Scout headquarters. This fee is set by the national organization and none of it is retained locally. Each Girl Scout and Brownie Scout pays weekly dues which are set by the girls themselves and are usually five cents a week. These funds are spent for troop activities.

Local Scouts participating annually in fund-raising projects authorized by the national organization, the Girl Scout cookie and calendar sales. Receipts from these sales are retained locally and it is the plan of the local council to use this money for camping and outdoor activities. There is at present $457.89 in this fund.

A collection taken annually during the Father-Daughter banquet is given to the Juliette Low World Friendship fund, an international world friendship program carried on by Girl Scouts all over the world.

The Girl Scouts received $600.00 from the Community Chest this year to be spent locally, primarily to provide a week of camping for all Scouts in Charlevoix. This year the Girl Scouts will have one week of troop camping at Camp Sea-Gull in June and Brownies will have a week of day camping at the Rod and Gun Club also in June. All adults who work with

School Bus Drivers Presented With Safety Awards At Meeting

Charlevoix and Emmet county school bus drivers who had not had a chargeable accident for a period of three years or more were presented with certificates of recognition for their fine record at the joint dinner meeting at the 4-H Center in Petoskey Wednesday night which climaxed the three day annual training school.

Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, and Bruce T. Blanchard, Emmet county superintendent of schools, who arranged the annual school, presented the drivers from their respective counties with certificates of recognition. As each driver accepted his award, P. A. Wickstrom, specialist in Safety and Transportation at Central Michigan college, who was in charge of instruction, commended them on their achievement.

Special recognition was given Roy Emerson of Pellston for 20 years of safe driving and two Charlevoix county drivers, Leslie Baker of Boyne Falls and Ray Goodwin of Walloon Lake for 16 years of safe driving. These three men represented the longest continuous service as bus drivers in the two counties.

Charlevoix bus drivers who were honored were Bradford Foster, Martin Elzinga, William Marne, Eldon Potter and Clare Staley. A fifth driver Lloyd Cummings, attended the dinner.

Preceding the presentation of awards, R. G. Bennett, superintendent of the Charlevoix public schools, outlined the responsibility of each and the close cooperative relationships that must exist between bus drivers, parents, teachers and the administration if the program is to be efficiently operated. He emphasized the significance of each driver's mental and physical health, the altogether pleasant environment that must exist in order to insure the safety of boys and girls.

Alvin Zachrich, superintendent of the Harbor Springs public schools, came up with some very interesting on the spot computations to show that the bus drivers represented at the meeting drive a distance daily equal to a round trip to New York City carrying almost 3,000 children. Their total annual mileage would equal approximately 11 trips around the world at the equator.

A well defined program marked this as the best program in years according to comments from many drivers. Sgt. Don Downer of the Michigan State Police brought a warm response with his introductory talk on safety and his presentation of the safety film, "A Day in Court". This humorous but very realistic film portrays about every type of driver on record.

In Charlevoix county all schools cooperated in the program but the honor for enrollment went to East Jordan with a total of 10 drivers. Schools with 100 percent enrollment were East Jordan, Boyne Falls, Walloon Lake and Chandler.

State Police Cpl. Victor Svoeke To Address March P.T.A. Meeting

Cpl. Victor Svoeke of the Gaylord State Police post will be the guest speaker at the March meeting of the Charlevoix P. T. A. to be held at the high school band room at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

His subject will be "Safety on the Highway". Information on the safety program will be distributed.

At the meeting of the executive committee of the P. T. A. held Monday evening the establishment of pre-school section of the P. T. A. was discussed. If enough interest is shown among the parents of pre-school children, efforts will be made to organize such a group. Anyone interested in organizing such a group is asked to call Mrs. Shelby Goss or Mrs. H. A. Forbrig.

The question of summer employment for boys and girls too young to be employed in regular jobs was also discussed. Harry Ladd was named to head a committee to find suitable employment for youngsters in this age group.

A supervised play program for boys of high school age was discussed. Bradley Stanton was named to present the project to the Charlevoix Kiwanis club with the idea of working out such a program which might include volley ball and other similar sports.

Plans for an all-game party and dance to be held next month as a fund raising project were presented. They will be brought up at the next regular meeting for further discussion.

It was recommended that the local group send delegates to the annual conference in Detroit this spring and also send a representative to the Problem Clinic to be held in Lansing March 12.

Mrs. Charles Bleha was asked to head the Mental Health committee.

A gift subscription of the official P. T. A. magazine has been presented to the Charlevoix public library. Mrs. Gerald Johnson will speak briefly on this and other P. T. A. publications at the next meeting.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

—By Fran Martin

The weather man sure tried to confuse the issue last Thursday. It was March 1 and everyone knows that March is supposed to come in either as a lamb or a lion. But not this year. The weather was fine all day and everyone smiled and said "ah, the lamb" but came 8 p. m. and what happened? We had a combination snow and rain storm which resulted in a couple of inches of slush. The lion? We'll have to wait and see.

What with Easter less than a month away, it's hard to decide whether to start looking for that new Easter outfit or figure that March is going out like a lion so you couldn't wear a new outfit anyway. Since Easter is April 1, isn't it confusing?

But despite the weather Spring is expected a little early this year. According to an item we noticed on an outdoor page the other day, the first wild geese went north last week. . . . some 12 days ahead of schedule thus leading everyone to predict that we'll have an early Spring. . . . Added to what Mrs. Harry Hammond reported the first robin last Wednesday. . . . And on Friday the boss's missus reported one as far north as the north side. . . . So, who knows, maybe you will be able to wear the new Easter bonnet after all. . . .

Easter bonnets naturally remind us of Easter eggs. . . . In a recent issue of the Lansing Journal is a picture story of a former Charlevoix resident, Mrs. Robert Riddle, the former Mary Helen Fochtman, and the clever Easter egg favors she makes. . . . She opens the eggs, tapping them lightly with a paring knife then cutting out an oval. . . . She washes and dries the shell and then enameles them. . . . When dry she fills them with sand and adds artificial flowers and pres-to-toe, darling favors. . . . Variations are endless. . . . she says, with name flags, sail boats, candy and nut cups with jewels or shells added or gilt edging. . . . She also makes Easter-bonneted, button-face tallies and place cards. . . . A skilled handiworker she has exhibited in two Lansing Craftsmen and Hobbyist guild shows. . . . So, girls, start saving eggshells and dress up your Easter table. . . .

Remember the pearl we received from Mrs. George Wolf for Christmas? . . . Well, last week we opened the oyster. . . . You see, the oyster, shell and all, with the cultured pearl in it came in a small tin can. . . . When it was opened we had trouble finding the white pearl although the literature promised a black, gold or white pearl. . . . As long as we didn't open it, we could dream of a lustrous white pearl and that's why we'd left it so long. . . . So, came the day we opened it and guess what was inside. . . . a lovely lustrous white pearl. . . .

Have you been fishing through the ice lately. . . . We understand those foolish fish are biting like mad. . . . but not in the daytime when you'd think the fishing would be good. . . . seems they've turned night hawks and nibble your hook only when it's dark. . . . Rodney Beiding was telling us about a beautiful catch he got one night last week with one perch 12 inches long. . . . In just a short time he got 53 smelt, big ones, and a dozen perch. . . . Another night Shelby and Gerald Goss went fishing and came home with smelt almost as big as the perch. . . . We know 'cause they gave 'em to us. . . . Early Medrick Waffle had shared a catch with us. . . . So if you like to fish, now is the time. . . .

What is the correct spelling of the mountain where our new winter sports park is being constructed. . . . Today we call it McSaubu but we've had an idea for a long time that it isn't right. . . . After all, it was named for chief McSaubu, one of the chiefs who at one time received a large grant from the government. . . . In fact, many lots on the north side once belonged to him, you will notice on your abstract for your property. . . . But back to the name. . . . Somewhere along the way the correct spelling was lost and today we have "McSaubu". . . . A recent letter from Will E. Hampton who edited the Courier from 1890 to 1910 writes from Dearborn that he believes the Indian spelling was Mik-sau-bee. . . . We asked Mrs. Lawrence Feindt of the Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering Co. to check on the spelling found on abstracts and she came up with six different ones ranging from Micksawbay to Mac-Saubu with a number of others in between. . . . we agree with Mr. Hampton that the name as we know it today does not have an Indian spelling. . . . So, we'd like to know what you know about it. . . . Do you know the correct spelling. . . . and would you be in favor of adopting the real Indian spelling as the name of the winter sports park. . . . As for us, we think it's a terrific idea. . . . How about you? . . . Let us know huh? . . .

Congratulations to our band for coming home recently with a straight first division rating. . . . Maybe you don't realize it but this band has probably had to work harder for their rating than any other band had to. . . . With their director C. A. Osmark, hospitalized from Thanksgiving 'til after the Christmas holidays the kids lost a lot of time. . . . They had classes but they didn't have his fine direction. . . . So since the holidays they've worked like beavers. . . . and their efforts paid off we're glad to say. . . .

This is the big week for our Rayders. . . . Depending on how you look at it, it was either their good fortune or misfortune to draw the arch rivals, Boyne City, in their opening game of the district tournament. . . . So here we go again. . . . it's tournament time in Charlevoix and everything else will be neglected until they are over. . . .

We have every confidence that our beloved Rayders can take the game Thursday night. . . . It's going to be a toughy but these kids have played some tough ones before. . . . They have the ability and if they can dispense in the proper proportions they can take that game and go on to take the district title. . . . And we don't think we're expecting too much of them when we say we expect them to do just that. . . . It's now or never for some eight members of this year's team and that's going to mean something. . . . So to Coach Carey and his team, all the luck in the world. . . . We

Campus Comments

Two students in the Central Michigan college music department presented a recital recently in the Ballroom of the College Union building.

Featured in the recital were Joseph Zakrajsek, Cadillac senior and Lorna Gobrogge Clyna, Pincunung junior.

Dwight Smith, Charlevoix sophomore, was a member of the wood-wind trio which concluded the program. Other members were Mr. Zakrajsek and Kay Moessner, Muskegon sophomore.

Dean Davenport has won his second varsity letter at Central Michigan college as a member of the varsity basketball team. After a slow start he finished the second half of the season and was a starting guard. He led the team with an amazing .940 from the foul line and was second in the field goal department by 50 per cent of his shots.

Dean's best games were against Ball State when he scored 21 points and was instrumental in Central's near-upset, and the Michigan Normal game when he scored 16 points in the second half to enable Central to win 91 to 80.

He was the team's best shot from out court and is counted on heavily in next year's plans.

Dean is joined on the basketball courts by his sister Mona, who is a varsity cheerleader.

Mrs. Herbert (Joyce Fiedler) Hamlin, a junior at Northern Michigan college in Marquette, was a member of the college Concert band when it presented its annual concert following a tour of seven cities in the upper peninsula. She plays oboe in the band which is directed by T. Ray Uhlinger. During the first two years in the band she played clarinet.

The names of both Mr. and Mrs. Hamlin appeared on the Northern Michigan college honor roll for the first semester of the 1955-56 school year.

Mr. Hamlin is a senior, majoring in music education. Both are graduates of the Charlevoix high school.

Two Editorials on Michigan Blue Cross

Featured below are the full texts of two editorials which appeared in The DETROIT TIMES on February 26, 1956 and in The DETROIT FREE PRESS on February 27, 1956. Because they present the considered editorial judgment of two of Michigan's great newspapers, we are reprinting them in full as a public service for the information of our 3,600,000 Blue Cross members and all the people of Michigan.

From The Detroit Times, February 26

BLUE CROSS FUSS

We didn't suspect a week ago today, when we started a series of articles on Blue Cross, that the fuss over hospital prepayment would attain the intensity it has now reached.

The amount of bullaboo, frankly, is getting out of hand.

Rep. Allison Green has a bill for the Legislature, which he fondly hopes will solve everything. It won't.

Insurance Commissioner Joseph A. Navarre has been quoted with some remarks which we suspect he will regret when he begins to realize what he has said.

A group of unions in Detroit and Flint is proposing to set up a rival "Blue Cross plan," which is entirely within their rights, even though we doubt it will look as simple to them once they have gotten into what is a very complicated problem.

Of the three—Rep. Allison, Commissioner Navarre, and the unions—we think the unions are behaving most reasonably. We differ with them only in our opinion as to whether they CAN produce what they think they can.

But of the whole lot, we think Blue Cross and its present managers are the most capable of providing what we want. We think Blue Cross is getting a vicious and needless pushing around.

In our news stories we have tried to tell what was happening without letting our opinions sway us.

But this is the editorial page, and this is our opinion, and we are saying what we think.

First of all, a series of articles which began concurrently in another Detroit paper is, for all we know at this moment, still running. We don't have any quarrel with the facts in it.

We do believe it has placed too much emphasis on "over-utilization"—that is, the complaint that some people either stay too long in the hospital, or get in under Blue Cross when they shouldn't—when they aren't really sick.

The Times reported that. We can take you back in the files a couple of years and show we were the first newspaper to report there was some of this chiseling going on. It should be halted. We think it is being halted.

But it makes a rather sensational subject to write about—and some people talk too much about it. This "over-utilization" while it does happen, is not occurring to the extent that it makes any vast difference in premium payments.

And that is the most important issue in this whole problem.

Why do we think "over-utilization" is not as great as some people try to suggest?

First, because a Blue Cross study group itself was the first to dig into the matter. No attempt to hide anything. Just an effort to correct the situation, since chiseling by one subscriber is paid for by all the honest ones.

Second, Blue Cross, by subsequent and continuous inquiry, thinks that this evil is under good control, even though there is still an occasional violation.

Third, because Michigan isn't the only Blue Cross plan. The same general plan exists in all the states, each under its own laws and its own management.

If the plan here happened to be at fault, in some way, it is hardly possible that all the states would be at fault in the same way.

Somewhere in the country we would find that Blue Cross rates were markedly lower—we would find it, that is, if Michigan's Blue Cross were letting the customers get away with murder.

Somewhere would have found a solution, and would be bragging about it. But no, rates are pretty comparable anywhere you go.

Therefore, we suspect this "over-utilization" has been publicized into a bigger fault than it really is. We don't think very many people get much fun out of going to, or staying in, a hospital.

Now Rep. Green thinks he could bring about lower rates, and thwart all the chiselers (such as there are—most people are honest) by a law making Blue Cross change its policy.

He would make everyone who uses Blue Cross pay the whole cost of the first day in the hospital (the most expensive day, because then you have all the tests, and usually the operation if you need one) and also pay 15 per cent of the cost after the seventh day.

Of course that would reduce the premium you pay for Blue Cross—but you'd soon find it didn't save any money. Furthermore, it would put the biggest burden on the people who are most seriously ill. Who wants that?

Rep. Green, with the best of intentions, has oversimplified the situation. Besides, he wants to make this compulsory for everybody—doesn't even want to give subscribers a choice of which way they'd rather do it.

Commissioner Navarre, for reasons which escape us, has endorsed Rep. Green's notion. We suspect some politics somewhere, because we think Navarre ought to know better.

We wonder, too, why Navarre has questioned the sincerity of the Blue Cross in offering a so-called "deductible" policy.

Deductible, if they chose, to buy such a policy from Blue Cross for upwards of the last year. Blue Cross made no secret of the fact that such a policy was being offered. People could have it, at a lower price, if they wanted it. They didn't want it.

To get back to the unions, now. They'd like a policy which gives more benefits at lower cost. Who doesn't like the idea? Who doesn't want the good five-cent cigar back, or the $700 automobile, or the three-cent newspaper, for that matter? We'd like them all back.

But you can't slap economics in the face.

You can't legislate Utopia.

And so far as we are concerned, you can't say that Blue Cross hasn't been doing a good job.

Its prices haven't gone up any faster than factory wages. It has been so good that it now has 3,600,000 people, or half of the whole state, using Blue Cross and liking it.

Trying to make out, all of a sudden, that something is "wrong," or that some simple little bill in the Legislature can turn time backward and make things cost less—that's nonsense.

We don't think this union group can do it, either, but we'll concede their right to try. At least they aren't trying to tell everybody else how to do it. They're undertaking to show how to do it.

We think, flatly, that Blue Cross is a fine thing, and we hope all the noise won't fool the people and unly alarm them.

Blue Cross is merely a victim of our rising economy just as everybody else is.

Hospital Insurance Costs

TRYING TO SPOT THE REAL VILLAIN

Old melodramas had their advantages. It was easy to identify the villain. This is not so in the current uproar about hospitalization insurance. Rates have skyrocketed. Many think Blue Cross has thrust its hand too deeply into the pockets of its 3,600,000 Michigan subscribers. Investigations are being made, bills are being submitted to the legislature, and the air is blue with charges.

Much is still being learned, but we think some observations can be made now.

The public's demand in the last decade for better medical and hospital care has been great. Therefore, on top of inflation must be added the cost of this improved care. An increase in Blue Cross rates might, then, be considered automatic.

The question is: Do the allegedly excessive rates reflect only inflation and improved care?

Ample proof to the contrary appears in surveys of hospital cases covered by hospitalization insurance. The studies indicate clearly that alarming abuses have cropped up. These take the form of unnecessary hospitalization, prolonged stays for convenience of comfort and excessive use of drugs and laboratory facilities.

The problem remains the same. Whom do we hiss and boo?

Is it hospitals for operating inefficiently? Is it physicians who find it convenient to group patients in hospitals for quick and lucrative rounds of call that require only an hour or so each morning? Is it patients who unnecessarily demand and get from their doctors a hospital bed and costly care? Is it Blue Cross for permitting such known abuses to continue?

Frankly, we suspect the answer to all such questions may be "Yes!"

At least one offered solution appears to be precipitous and short-sighted. A bill introduced in the Michigan Legislature suggests a deductible plan similar to auto insurance. The proposal to make subscribers pay for the first day of hospitalization and 15 per cent after seven days no doubt would cut rates. It also would greatly reduce the value of the service. It would not, we believe, strike hard enough at the abuses.

It would, however, seem logical to offer optional plans. Blue Cross has such a plan in which the patient pays the cost of the first two days and $2 a day for the remainder of the hospital stay. The saving of but 16 per cent in premiums does not seem adequate, considering that the average stay is seven days. Blue Cross also is readying a "catastrophe" policy, but if the saving is no greater than offered under the year-old deductible plan it too probably will not be widely popular.

One additional thought stands out prominently. Physicians, through their dealings with patients and because they control both the hospitals and the Blue Cross organization, have failed, in our estimation, to take an active public stand on the abuses under the voluntary hospitalization insurance plans.

Because they are so closely involved in the abuses and because voluntary plans were their answer in a period when socialized medicine appeared around the corner, they should be available to counsel the public. The public wholeheartedly accepted the voluntary plans and should have the wise advice of doctors.

Since Blue Cross is a $100,000,000-a-year business, the entire problem should be thoroughly examined, criticized, circumspectly and publicly.

 Bishop Babcock requested equally generous support of the charitable cause this year. Envelopes distributed last Sunday are to be returned this Sunday.
 St. Mary's parish is among the 125 which comprise the Grand Rapids Diocese in 29 western Michigan counties.

Area Army Reserve Unit Returns From Two Weeks At Fort Riley

The 310th Ordnance Field Supply Company with headquarters here was one of two northern Michigan Reserve units to jump the gun on the annual Army Reserve training season to complete their two weeks training for 1956 at Fort Riley, Kans.

The second unit was the 863rd Ordnance Maintenance Company of Traverse City composed of 96 men. However, only 46 enlisted men and four officers made the trip to Fort Riley.

Capt. John N. Barkdoll of Charlevoix is commanding officer of the 310th. Only other local member who made the trip was Sgt. Dale E. Boss.

Members of the 310th departed from Charlevoix Feb. 11 and returned home Feb. 26.

During the two weeks at Fort Riley the men from the 310th took on-the-job training under the supervision of people with like specialties in the Fort Riley Ordnance Section.

The 310th, which was activated in 1949, has a total strength of four officers and 35 enlisted men, three of whom are high school students who enlisted in the unit under provisions of the Armed Forces Act of 1955.

Unit members who come from Charlevoix and nine other surrounding towns gather at the Unit's Training Center for two hours of work each week. During the sessions basic military subjects are taught.

If the 310th were called to active duty during an emergency, it probably would be handed the task of handling transportation parts for a division.

Besides Capt. Barkdoll and Sgt. Boss, seven men from Petoskey, six from Boyne City, two each from Oden, East Jordan and Manistota and one each from Bellaire, Boyne Falls, Gaylord and Indian River made the trip.

More than 200,000 trout fishermen test their skill each year in Michigan. Approximately half of the state's 36,000 miles of streams are trout waters.

Charlevoix IN UNIFORM

A member of Headquarters Company of the 11th Division's 511th Regiment, he enlisted in the Army in September 1954 and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif. A 1954 graduate of the Charlevoix high school, he is the son of Mrs. Irene Whitley. His wife is the former Elaine Poole.

Pvt. Dwain Walker has completed basic training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and is scheduled to be transported via plane to his new assignment at Fort Lewis, Wash.

He volunteered for the draft in January. He is the son of Mrs. Clara Walker.

Carpenters, Joiners Local To Meet Here

A special meeting of Carpenters and Joiners of Traverse City local No. 1481 will be held at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club house at 8 p. m. Friday.

All members of the Traverse City local who reside in Charlevoix, Petoskey, Boyne City, East Jordan and neighboring communities are urged to attend the meeting which has been arranged especially for members who find it difficult to attend regular business meetings in Traverse City.

For the convenience of those who are not familiar with the location of the Rod and Gun club house, flares will mark the entrance to the property which is located three miles north of Charlevoix on US 31.

Milk Prices Take Seasonal Decline

Milk prices have started their usual seasonal decline, report farm economists at Michigan

State University. They expect the down trend to continue until May or June.

Milk production usually moves up this time of year, the economists point out, to force prices down. The decline should be similar to other years. The economists expect June prices for base milk in Detroit to be about $4 to $4.15 per hundredweight, F. O. B. the market. However, they add that changes in consumer income or big increases in production could change this estimate.

Wings

Among the characteristics that a bird and a wholesome person have in common is an inner daring, a capacity for adventure. Their venturesomeness is based upon a readiness to be "let-down" occasionally. They defy discouragement. A song sparrow needs take no great care in choosing a limb upon which to light, carefully calibrating its thickness, gingerly testing its strength, flying back and forth in anxious indecision over the branch before finally taking a chance of stopping there, and then sitting in nervous apprehension lest the limb give snap. It will be no catastrophe. The song sparrow will mount the air on dependable wings and fly on to another rest. A bird's wings give it an inner assurance that makes adventuring possible.

When we are at our best, we are like birds in flight. We can afford to run risks, face dangers, engage in adventure. We know that if we fail, once, or a dozen, or a hundred times, we can still go on. We have faith in our resources. We have wings.

Some people doubt that they have any faith at all. But all of us have some. Every time you ride in a car you are unconsciously exercising confidence in the mechanics who have assembled and serviced that automobile. No normal person on an automobile trip is incessantly plagued with the thought "Supposing a wheel drops off?" or "What if the steering wheel would lock?" Every minute spent in riding without such panicky fear is a moment of faith.

We eat our breakfast cereal without closely examining each spoonful for dirt or other foreign matter. We consume canned goods and frozen foods with utter confidence that they are unadulterated and not poisoned. Almost everyone outside of mental institutions (and most who are inside them) everyday does a score of things and makes numerous little ventures that indicate some degree of faith in the unseen and unknown hosts of people who manufacture our goods and perform our needed services. We all have some faith.

The object of our faith can be almost anything. It is what we believe is most worthwhile, most worth serving, and it is what we feel we can trust our full weight upon in life's emergencies, as a bird does its wings. To some it is money. To others, it is popularity. For still others, it is a

Tournaments Will Mark Final Appearance Of 38 'C' Seniors

The forthcoming basketball tournament will mark the final appearance on the hardwood for some 38 Northern Michigan Class C athletes who will conclude their high school athletic careers when they graduate in June.

Charlevoix heads the list with eight young athletes followed by Grayling and Boyne City who will lose six each, Pellston and Gaylord stand to lose five each, Harbor Springs four, East Jordan and Mancelona two each.

Three regulars, Guy Swanson, Quint Walker and Gerry Vandenberg plus two others who have started at various times during the season, Charlie Dennis and Joe Etienne, are included among the graduates along with Walt Poquette, Kit Carson and Bill Kolker, all of whom played major roles in the team's successes.

Among the returnees around whom Coach Don Carey will build his team will be regular Kenny Batch, Norm Helms who played in most games since early in the season, Joel Arvilla, Phil Timmer and Terry Davis who have had little opportunity to display their talents because of the large number of seniors on the squad.

Both Boyne City and Grayling are losing six players each including three from the starting line-up. At Boyne City Coach Paul Pfahler will count among his losses the Northup twins, Nels and Murray and Bob Fitzpatrick along with Gary Newville, first string substitute, Bob Jubenville and Charlie Stocker.

At Grayling Coach Bruce Smith will be looking for players to replace such athletes as Gary Worden, Lloyd Failing and Bill Kenyon all regulars. In addition, Dale Rhode, Sonny Thompson and Bob Lovely will be graduating.

Last Week With Class 'C' Teams

After one of the most hectic seasons in recent years, the Northern Michigan Class C league ended its regular schedule Friday night with Boyne City the new league champions succeeding the Charlevoix Rayders who finished in second place while three teams, East Jordan, Grayling and Pellston, tied for third place, Mancelona ended up in fourth and Harbor Springs and Gaylord in the league cellar.

Boyne City clinched the title three weeks ago when they edged past the Rayders by a score of 61-59. As a result of the loss, Charlevoix gave up any hopes of sharing the title they had held for five years. Going into the games Friday night Grayling and Pellston were tied for third place and East Jordan shared fourth place with Mancelona but after the Vikings lost to Boyne City by a 64-48 score and East Jordan dumped Pellston 58-55 in an overtime game, the Jordanites moved into third place with the pair. Mancelona's 69-42 loss to Charlevoix left the Ironmen alone in fourth place and Harbor Springs' 52-43 defeat of Gaylord moved the Rams into a fifth place tie with the Blue Devils.

East Jordan 58 Pellston 55
After holding a first half lead, the East Jordan Red Devils found themselves trailing Pellston early in the third period, making it necessary for the Jordanites to come from behind in the final minute to tie the score 51-51 before going on to win by three point margin.

East Jordan surged into a 16-10 first period lead before Pellston trimmed the advantage to 23-23 at halftime and then went ahead early in the third period for a 41-37 lead as the quarter ended. The Hornets continued to hold the lead throughout the final period before Cal Darbee connected on two free throw attempts to tie the score at the final whistle. In the overtime period Darbee put the Jordanites ahead on a free throw and Larry Woodcock added a field goal for a three point lead before Frank Duralec dumped in a field goal. Woodcock and Dick Johnson each scored field goals before Pat Cabinaw connected on a long shot to cut the Red Devils advantage to three points as the overtime period ended. The last minute win by the Jordanites gave them a share of third place along with Grayling and Pellston. Woodcock paced the game with 25 points for the victors. Pat Cabinaw and Bob Schiller shared scoring honors for Pellston with 14 points each.

Harbor Springs 52 Gaylord 43
The Harbor Springs Rams, determined not to be left alone in the loop cellar as the season ended, had no trouble with the Gaylord Blue Devils as they led 10-6; 24-14 and 37-32 by quarters before taking the game by nine point margin.

Mike McKillop was top scorer for the game with 18 points for Gaylord followed by Don Lauer with 16 for the Rams.

Boyne City 64 Grayling 48
At Grayling the Boyne City Ramblers racked up their thirteenth win of the season after leading the Vikings 18-8; 32-18 and 48-32 by quarters.

Nels Northup scored 20 points followed by John Juday with 19 and Bob Fitzpatrick with 17

Charlevoix To Meet Boyne City Tonight

The Charlevoix Rayders racked up a 69-42 victory over the Mancelona Ironmen Friday to end the current season in second place with a record of 10 wins and four losses in league play.

The Boyne City Ramblers with a record of 13 wins in 15 games are the new Northern Michigan Class C league champions, succeeding the Rayders who held the title for five years.

This week the Rayders will meet the Boyne City Ramblers on the opening night of the Class C District tournament at Petoskey Thursday (tonight).

During the regular season Charlevoix defeated Boyne City 59-55 on the Ramblers floor. In the return game in February the Ramblers edged past the Rayders 61-59 on the local court.

The winner will meet the winner of the Harbor Springs-Pellston game, which will be played at 7:15 p. m. Thursday, in the Class C regional tournament to open at Grayling March 13, and continue through March 17.

Coach Don Carey started Charlie Dennis, Garry Vandenberg, Quint Walker, Guy Swanson and Joe Etienne against Mancelona Friday night and as the game progressed emptied the bench with Norm Helms, Kit Carson, Walt Poquette, Joel Arvilla, Phil Timmer, Terry Davis, Bill Kolker and Bob Mol seeing action.

With Swanson leading the scoring with three field goals, followed by Etienne with five and Vandenberg with four, the Rayders went ahead 19-13 at the end of the first quarter. Dennis and Walker contributed one field goal apiece toward the six-point margin. Mancelona had six field goals and one charity shot.

Charlevoix continued to lead 32-27 at the half as they were outscored 14-13 by the visitors who dumped in five field goals and four free throws. Vandenberg connected for three out of five free throws and one field goal and Dennis and Swanson added two field goals apiece to account for Charlevoix's scoring.

In the third quarter it was much the same thing as Walker added six points, Vandenberg and Swanson three points each, Etienne a field goal and Dennis a free throw for a total of 15 points while Mancelona was confined to four field goals.

With everybody in the act in the final period Charlevoix dumped in 22 points including seven points by Walker, two field goals by Kolker, three free throws by Dennis and two points each by Vandenberg, Swanson, Helms and Arvilla. Mancelona scored seven points from the free throw line.

Walker and Swanson paced the scoring for the game with 15 points apiece followed by Vandenberg with 14; Dennis with 10; Etienne, seven; Kolker, four and Helms and Arvilla, two each. Regular Kenny Balch was out of the line-up with an infected foot.

Ronnie Johnson was top scorer for the Ironmen with 11 points.

Improvement of the harbor at St. James, Beaver Island, as a harbor of refuge in northern Lake Michigan has been assured according to a telegram from Victor A. Knox to the Charlevoix Courier.

World in Review

RIOTS. rebellion and the threat of a major war raged from Athens to Egypt and Israel. Each crisis spelled trouble for the West, particularly for the Atlantic Pact Alliance and offered opportunity to the Communists.

THE EISENHOWER Administration plans a hard fight for all $4,900,000,000 of its foreign aid appropriation, request, but prospects in Congress this week looked grim.

THE REPUBLICAN and Democratic National Committees are opening fund drives aimed at collecting small campaign contributions from voters. The Democrats will use spot television announcements soliciting "small contributions from the rank and file of the party." The Republicans say their drive will be conducted from door to door by an army of women volunteers. The drive, based on the theme "Thank you, Mr. President," will be held in most states in April.

THE SENATE voted down this week a combined proposal to give 90 per cent price supports to the small farmer and to put a $50,000 ceiling on support loans to a single farm. It rejected an amendment to the farm bill to establish 90 per cent supports up to $50,000 of farm income on any one farm, and to impose the ceiling.

THE SENATE has voted for 100 per cent of parity supports on all wheat grown for human consumption in the United States but rejected a similar amendment on cotton.

THE UNITED STATES declared this week it is not taking sides in the British-Greek dispute over Cyprus and offered its good offices to find "a fair and just solution."

THE CONTROVERSIAL deer management bill has passed in Senate and will now be moved to an uncertain fate in the House. Under the amended bill, the State Conservation Commission would be given broad discretionary power to provide for the taking of deer on an area basis when the Commission found herds were enlarged, and either inflicting excessive crop damage or facing depletion from starvation.

Victor Svoeke of the Gavard post of the Michigan State Police showed the film "According to the Record," the picture story of teen-age drivers and spoke on the need of increased safety on the highway at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix P. T. A. Wednesday. He also discussed the state's new speed law and what safety-minded officials hope it will accomplish.

Charlevoix county Sheriff Glenn E. Rose attended the meeting and introduced Cpl. Svoeke. Mrs. Harry Stewart, program chairman, introduced Mr. Rose.

Plans for a P. T. A. benefit party, an all-game party to be held in the high school gymnasium April 14, were announced.

Senior Music Groups To Present Winter Concert Tuesday Night

The annual Winter Concert to be presented by the Senior music groups of the Charlevoix high school next week could well be called a "Daps" concert because of the popular flavor of the music to be performed. C. A. Odmark, director of the musical organizations, said this week in announcing the program.

The concert which will feature the Girls Glee club and the Senior band will be presented at the high school auditorium at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

The Girls Glee club will open the program with a group of numbers including several old favorites. Among them will be the Negro spiritual, "All Night, All Day" by Weaver, the inspirational melody "I Believe" by Drake, the hauntingly beautiful "Children's Prayer" from Humperdinck's opera, "Hansel and Gretel," the familiar "When Day is Done" by Katscher and Eugene Field's famous poem, "Little Boy Blue" set to music by Robertson. Concluding the Glee club portion of the program will be Moller's "The Happy Wanderer."

Among the other numbers the band will play are Charles Wakefield Cadman's famous "At Dawn" arranged for Symphonie orchestra by Paul Yoder, Noel Coward's waltz melody "I'll See You Again" and the famous "India Love Call" by Friuli.

One of the features of the concert will be the numbers directed by the student directors of the two groups, Sharon Belding, who is the student director of the Glee club and Kit Carson of the band. The work of these two student directors has been especially important this year because of the lengthy hospitalization of Mr. Odmark.

The complimentary concert will begin promptly at 8 p. m. and will be finished by 9:20 p. m. It is hoped that the residents of the entire community will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear these music groups at full strength in a prepared concert. Everyone is cordially invited to attend but grade school children must be accompanied by parents or responsible adult.

Construction of the first ski run at the Charlevoix Mr. M. Sanba Winter Sports park is progressing satisfactorily. Gregory A. Shadko who has been supervising the construction of the run on the northeastern side of the mountain reported at a meeting of the Recreation Corp. held Wednesday evening at the weather-vane Inn.

He said that more than half the job of earth-moving had been completed and that at the present time the run has a grade of 22 degrees and can be increased to a 25 degree slope if necessary. The run is approximately 80 ft. wide at the top and fans out approximately 200 ft. at the bottom and will include both beginners and advanced skiers slopes. The top of the mountain has been leveled off to make way for tow equipment.

After the present work of bulldozing and grading has been completed, Mr. Shadko recommended that work cease for the time being to allow the earth to settle. He also suggested various methods of protecting the slope by seeding it and said that he felt

Weekend Blizzard In Area Blocks Roads, Strands Many Drivers

A blizzard of the old-fashioned variety struck the northern Michigan area Saturday night with winds up to 40 miles an hour whipping 10 inches of new snow into drifts up to five feet and almost halting all traffic early Sunday.

The storm which struck about 11 p. m. Saturday night stopped almost as quickly as it had started about 12 hours later.

Charlevoix county road commission crews were called out at 3 a. m. in an effort to keep main highways open but were unable to keep up with the drifting snow thus leaving many motorists stranded along the highway. With visibility at zero most of the time other cars were abandoned in ditches along the highway and the occupants brought into Charlevoix via snowplow.

In the city the same conditions prevailed as on the highways. A snowplow tried to keep main streets open.

Though some churches were open, congregations were at a minimum since few people could reach the church.

During the height of the storm, the road commission was called on to plow the Coast Guard hill so an expedition, other, Mrs. Albert Thorp who lives on Palmer st. could be taken to the hospital. When her husband's car failed to negotiate the hill after it was plowed, she was rushed to the hospital in the snowplow at 6 p. m. and an hour later gave birth to a son.

At 3 a. m. a brief electrical storm struck the area. No damage was reported here but at Traverse City the cable service and radio station was struck by lightning and the station was off the air Sunday.

Motorists stranded along the highway were taken into farm homes until plows could clear the roads. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Fiedler on US 31 south reported five unexpected guests for continued on page 10

F. H. Foote Will Is Upheld In Circuit Court

The will of the late Frank H. Foote of East Jordan was upheld by a jury of nine men and three women in circuit court here Friday.

After only 45 minutes deliberation, Richard Suratt, foreman of the jury, announced its decision ending the three-day trial which opened Tuesday morning with Judge Charles L. Brown presiding.

The will was contested by Mr. Foote's sister, Mrs. Minnie Gibson, 84, of Meadville, Miss., who contended that he was mentally incompetent when the will was made in 1950 and that it was illegal to destroy government bonds as he ordered in his will.

After listening to more than two days of testimony, the jury ruled that Mr. Foote was mentally competent at the time the will was drawn and that the document was valid.

The decision can be appealed to the supreme court. If no appeal is made, however, the will goes to the probate court which will in turn appoint an executor. The executor will then administer the bequest if no legal blocks arise.

Mr. Foote, a recluse who died in December 1954 at the Charlevoix hospital, directed that $14,000 in U. S. government bonds and stock in the East Jordan Cooperative be burned and the obligation dismissed. He also left $11,000 in securities to the Red Cross with the stipulation that the interest from the securities go to his sister during her lifetime. His 32-acre farm was willed to the Michigan State University for use as an experimental farm.

A large collection of books was willed to the East Jordan public library.

Mrs. Gibson was represented by Joseph Brown of Natchez, Miss., and Benjamin V. Halstead of Petoskey. The defendants were represented by William T. Downs of East Jordan and Charles Menzies of Traverse City. U. S. District Attorney Wendell Miles of Grand Rapids represented the government interest and Norman D. Ane was co-counsel in the interest of the Charlevoix hospital.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

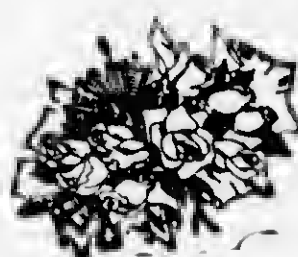

By Fran Martin

How about the weather we had over the weekend? . . . Winter just isn't ready to give up the ghost, that's for sure . . . It was beautiful Saturday afternoon but came mid-right and, chills, it was snowin' and blowin' the likes of which is rarely seen . . . Until about 10:30 a. m. Sunday it looked as tho' it would storm forever but quick like it started it was over and everything . . . but everything was covered with a blanket of the whitest snow you've ever seen . . . The kids . . . and some of the grown-ups . . . in our neighborhood had a grand time . . . There was no traffic and everyone was playing out in the street and having themselves quite a ball . . . Drifts were everywhere . . . down Ainslee st. from our house just off Michigan ave. was a huge one across the street and elsewhere there were drifts on city streets four and five feet high . . . And out in the country . . . road crews were still plowing out roads Monday night . . . We weren't a hard hit as some of the other counties but it was bad enough . . . As some five high school boys who spent the evening in Petoskey and then spent the remainder of the weekend at the Frank Poquette home in Hayes township when they got stranded after taking Walt home know . . . But now the sun is shining, the landscape looks as tho' it's covered with marshmallow fluff and all's well with the world . . .

Hope you remembered the birds in this weather . . . their source of food is covered and they have to depend on your generosity so be sure to put something out for them . . . They'll repay you a million times over for your kindness . . .

If there's anyone around who has any doubt that the fellows who make up the Mt. McSaubia Recreation Corp. means business then they better attend the organization's meetings as we did last week . . . It was the first time we'd had any opportunity to hear what it was all about and those boys mean business . . . not only that but they are operating on a sound basis to our way of thinking . . . paying their way as they go . . . consulting with and following the advice of people who know their business . . . It's not a fly-by-night affair . . . and if they receive the support they hope for, Charlevoix should have one who loves more to listen to the sweet, sad songs of the autumn . . . that bit of heaven far across the sea . . . What kind of a world would this be without those two important things we've inherited from our Irish ancestors . . . sentimentality and a sense of humor . . . without them this life would be mighty dull.

To most people a postage stamp is something you plunk down and cash for at a postoffice counter and then paste to the corner of a letter or package to assure its delivery to some point around the world . . . Unless a stamp is especially colorful or commemorative something we're particularly interested in, most of us don't pay much attention to them . . . But there's one person in town that we know about who has a wealth of knowledge about those tiny pieces of paper . . . He's Dr. Walter Hoffman who called the other day to ask if we knew anything about the early history of the Charlevoix postoffice and ended up answering a few dozen questions about collecting stamps . . . or after talking to him we've decided it might be called the romance of stamps or something equally as fascinating . . . Why, there are so many things to look for in a new stamp and just as many to look for in a cancelled stamp that, so help us, we can't figure out how anyone could bear to part with a stamp once he'd collected it . . . Incidentally, as far as any dope we know the history of the local postoffice from material given us by postmaster Pete Timmer, its history dates back to 1874 . . . or perhaps we should say, the records date back to that time . . . Dr. Hoffman has an envelope and stamp that date back to 1870 so now we know it is that old . . . If anyone else knows more about it how's about telling us about it . . .

Remember last week we inquired about the name McSaubia and its origin and spelling in relation to the new Charlevoix McSaubia Recreation Corp. . . . Will Hampton, a former editor of the Courier, suggested the corporation find the original spelling and use it for McSaubia as we know its spelling today certainly isn't an Indian name . . . Jay Oliver called us to tell us that from his knowledge of the Indian language the correct spelling would be "Ahnik-Saubee" meaning "a beaver submerging" . . . The word "Ahnik"

Mr. Robert H. Kennedy (right), President of the Detroit Electrotyping Co., and Chairman of the Detroit Employing Electrotypers and Stereotypers Association and Mr. Velmer Hartrem, President of the Detroit Electrotypers Union No. 54, make the same statement with equal satisfaction:

"We have written Blue Cross-Blue Shield into our collective bargaining agreement"

Mr. KENNEDY: "When our collective bargaining agreement came up for renegotiation a year ago, the major demand the union made was that Blue Cross-Blue Shield benefits be written into the agreement on an industry-wide basis."

Mr. HARTREM: "That is right. Our union preferred Blue Cross-Blue Shield protection."

Mr. KENNEDY: "Before that, the Employing Association spent quite a bit of money investigating the different kinds of hospital-surgical-medical insurance programs. We decided that there was nothing like Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

Mr. HARTREM: "I have it and like it. I've heard no complaints about Blue Cross-Blue Shield."

Mr. KENNEDY: "I have it, too. I wouldn't be without it."

Mrs. Charles Bellinger Tells Farm Bureau Women Of Cancer Crusade

Mrs. Charles Bellinger, publicity director of the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Cancer Society, spoke on cancer and the forthcoming Cancer Crusade scheduled for the month of April, at the regular meeting of the Charlevoix county Farm Bureau Women's committee held Friday at the home of Mrs.

Version Mathews. Representatives from 10 county groups and three visitors heard Mrs. Bellinger tell of the three major programs carried on by the American Cancer Society, research, education and service.

In the field of research improved methods of diagnosis and treatment have been discovered but more funds and specialists are needed; the education program was enlarged this year to include the schools for the first time and service in Charlevoix county includes dressing to cancer patients as well as X-ray and medicines when the patient's needs are shown and in some cases financial assistance in the form of loans is given.

In 1954 there were 29 deaths from cancer in Charlevoix county. The Cancer Crusade, the annual fund campaign, will be held during April.

Mrs. John Brock also presented an interesting report on her recent visit to the state legislature in Lansing. She said that our representatives and senators and Lansing like to receive letters and cards from the residents of their respective districts as it is the only way they have of knowing the people's sentiments about various issues on which they must vote.

The group will meet every month throughout the year, it was decided at this meeting.

The little birdies will soon go tweet, tweet, tweet, . . . and all the little flowers will go bud, bud, bud. . . . believe it or not, dears, suddenly it will be spring.

And in spring, somehow our feminine fancies turn to thoughts of fashion. Resort fashions had their latest showing recently in California, leading resort fashion center . . . And here are the outstanding scoops.

Sportswear fashions are "care-free" fashions . . . Used advisedly. They are mostly machine washable and press free. You can just toss them in your washing machine, let them drip dry and they're ready to wear.

Most exciting are the Calypso sports separates which are inspired by the colorful clothes worn by the Calypso singers of the West Indies. There's the Top-Over, stunning new contour shorts, pants in mid-calf and instep length and other matchable separates.

A new fabric featured is the Calypso Wonder. . . a natural, nubby finish cotton print in brick, brown and black.

The Top-Over is a loose, hip-length overshirt which barely defines the figure, its designed to be worn with the Trinidad sash tucking in the waist with a large, loose knot.

The very brief contour shorts are designed with "contour" seams so that they mould the figure like a second skin. A new touch is the copper alloy used in the collar of the Top-over and cuffs of the slim tapered pants . . . making it possible to adjust the collars and cuffs to any position.

Brand new on the summer sport scene is Ranchino, a lustrous warpoiton sateen in vibrant colors. This is used for contour shorts, Bermuda shorts, trim Bobby jackets, skirts and pants in varying styles. Color in this fabulous Ranchino group are inspired by the vivid landscape tones of the California landscape, such as Desert Green and Sorrel Tan.

Popular are the separates in cool pastel Tipperary linen and Egyptian Cotton Faille, and color coordinated with each group are expressive cotton T-shirts in a variety of stunning styles. These separates also have as a coordi-

Those present were Mrs. Cook, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Raymond Seymour, Mrs. E. E. Stroud, Mrs. Leroy Allers, Mrs. Luther Hanahan, Mrs. W. E. Goss, Mrs. Floyd Krens and Mrs. Fox.

We went to Mt. McSaubia to see the new ski slide and also the toboggan slide. We also visited the fish hatchery to see all the fish. We saw a two headed fish.

nate dyed-to-match orlon cardigans lined in subtle Tiburon print.

The sweater can be teamed with its own matching swim-suit.

Swimsuits . . . when worn with matching full skirts . . . become charming sun dresses. Coats can be belted and worn as dresses.

One of the new features on the resort scene is the appearance of slim knit pants in knobby textures.

The important ingredients of this resort season's fashions are new design trend and versatility, seasoned with dramatic fabrics and spicy colors and topped with a generous helping of washability.

About two billion persons, aliens and citizens, have entered the United States since 1928, says the National Geographic Society. For 1954 alone, records show a total of more than 118 million. Most of these people, however, are "border crossers"—citizens and resident aliens returning from Canada and Mexico, and Canadian and Mexican citizens visiting temporarily in the United States for business or pleasure.

Work Progresses At Winter Sports Park

The method of seeding and covering with mulch as used by the state highway department would be the most practical in this case.

Mr. Shadko, Frank Boss and Glenn Ingalls have headed crews of volunteer workmen who have furnished the labor for the project. The job of earth moving has been done by bulldozers that have been on the job for nearly two weeks.

It was suggested that the Corporation purchase public liability insurance to protect volunteer workmen on the project. This was approved.

Methods of developing the site to include a warming house, ski tow and other facilities including more ski runs and a toboggan slide were discussed briefly. It was suggested that an observation tower be erected on top of the mountain so summer visitors could enjoy the view. Inquiries will be made to the conservation Department regarding the purchase of an abandoned fire tower for this purpose.

The finance committee headed by Charles J. Postus reported that $1,761 had been received in contributions and the purchase of stock in the Corporation and that another $590 in pledges would be forthcoming.

Clayton Allen, mayor of Kalamazoo whose family have been summer residents at the Belvedere club for many years, attended the meeting held in Charlevoix on other business. He commended the organization for its efforts in developing winter sports facilities here and said that he felt there was a great need for such a project in Charlevoix. He went on to say that Boyne Mountain and Otsego club had both become and invite these same people private clubs, thus limiting the number of good ski parks available to the average skier.

He went on to say that since Charlevoix already has a large summer population well acquainted with the community, it is only natural that the city develop Charlevoix as a winter resort during the winter months. He said he felt that people would rather return to Charlevoix for winter sports than any place in the area since they were already known here and would enjoy returning to the community during the winter as well as the summer.

He offered to discuss the proposed development with residents of the Belvedere club and to solicit their support of the project.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served.

A repellent on valuable trees and shrubs is a cheap, effective way to prevent damage by rabbits.

Information "On The Line"

I was reading the other day how a person can get all sorts of things just by dialing a number on his telephone.

In New York you can get the time, the weather, or a prayer. In Philadelphia it's the stock reports. In Boston a voice tells bird watchers what's to be watched in the park.

Over in Europe, they go further. Vienna offers a five-minute fairy tale for kids. In Switzerland you can get the news in any of three languages. And a couple of places have "talking menus" for desperate housewives.

From where I sit, it doesn't matter if ideas are put out by telephone, through editorials, or in person—as long as we can take them or leave them. I happen to like a glass of beer with my supper. You may prefer coffee, tea or branch water. Well, there's no harm in "listening" to another's opinions... but if he should try to force them on you, it's always an American's privilege to simply "hang up!"

When Conditions Are Right

Every living thing depends upon certain conditions, and none can survive where those conditions do not exist. Whitetail deer are browsers, their diet consisting mainly of twigs and shoots of shrubs and trees, of some weeds and a few grasses, of acorns and some fruits. Where these can be plentifully found in North America, one is apt to see whitetail deer. Where these foods are missing, whitetail deer will be absent, as on the American desert or high in the Rocky Mountains. And where the whitetail's diet is present, but meager, the deer do not thrive.

A few years ago a thorough study of the effects of overcrowding in the deer population was made by New York biologists. These scientists compared the breeding status of deer in New York's Adirondack region with that of deer in the southern part of the state. In the Adirondacks, winter piles the snow high upon the slopes, inviting thousands of New Yorkers to the area for bob-sledding and skiing. Deer, being man-shy, are crowded out of the area. Again, because of the deep snow there, they restrict their movements to small yarding areas, where they shortly overbrowse the shrubs and trees and then become malnourished. Many starve.

In the southern agricultural counties of the state, which the white-tails have invaded only in the past two or three decades, hunting pressure is high, the hunting seasons allow the killing of both sexes, the deer herd has been somewhat thinned out, and food is plentiful.

When game biologists collected a number of does from both of these regions and compared their fecundity, they found some astonishing facts. In the northern overcrowded counties, seventy-eight per cent of the does carried young while in the southern zone twenty-two per cent were with fawn. About four per cent of the northern doe fawns had bred the first fall season, but more than thirty-three per cent of the doe fawns of the southern area had bred. In the unfavourable Adirondack area eighteen per cent of the does had twins and only one had triplets. But in the southern agricultural area sixty per cent had twins and seven per cent had triplets.

It is not at all unusual in this Charlevoix area to see twin fawns of the whitetail deer, and upon occasion I have seen triplets. Twins have peered at us over the tall fronds of bracken as we have driven up Hidden Brook lane, and triplets have daintily sipped from our brook and raced upon spindly legs through our orchard.

Multiple births of whitetails in Charlevoix county reveal something about the nature of the wildlife habitat here. Food is plentiful and the deer population is uncrowded. We can know that much from the evidence of multiple births, for fecundity can only occur where the conditions are right for it.

What is true of whitetail deer is so of all other creatures. The muskrat lives and thrives where it can find shallow water for its home and marsh plants and shellfish for its food. Where they are scarce, so are muskrats. Ponderosa pines do well in moist regions of the west, but have not succeeded in crossing the dry, windy Great Plains. Their seeds have been spread far and wide, but almost everywhere they go, aside from their western habitat, they fail to prosper. Why do we not have alligators in abundance in northern Michigan where water for their frolics is so plentiful? Because the scaly monsters demand warm water such as is found in the lazy, sluggish rivers of the south. Being cold-blooded creatures, with their bodies taking the temperature of their surroundings, alligators would find their body processes slowed to a crawl in northern waters and they would be in a continuous state of torpor.

Modern medicine has taken away from living things the luxury of living things to live under limiting conditions. Doctors know that bacteria requires certain conditions for staying alive. The then proceed to change those conditions, making survival for those bacteria impossible. Many live longest and thrive best in moist, warm, dark places where special chemical conditions are present.

Some are killed by being dried out. Others die when heated to high temperature. Some perish from freezing. Many suffer death by exposure to sunlight and fresh air.

One of the most valuable clues nature offers us concerning the successful handling of life is this: if you want the good things in your life to prosper, establish the conditions upon which they thrive. If you want to remove an evil from your life, upset the conditions upon which that evil has prospered.

Announce Seven Special Days For Michigan Week - May 20-26

The seven special days of the third annual Michigan week May 20-26 have been announced following their adoption by the Michigan Week executive board, by Russel Swaney, general chairman of Michigan Week.

As described by Mr. Swaney they are: Spiritual Foundations Day, Sunday, May 20, which will be devoted to the people of all faiths to the spiritual values of life in Michigan and to the examination of the Michigan history of their faiths.

Mayor's Day, Monday, May 21, when the heads of municipal government in all Michigan cities and villages will change places for the purpose of helping communities become better acquainted with one another. Pairing for the exchange will be made in mid-March.

Hospitality Day, Tuesday, May 22, will be a day to emphasize one of the state's greatest assets, the natural friendliness of Michigan people, and to glorify the state's tourist industry.

Our Livelihood Day, Wednesday, May 23, will be a day when each community will be expected to examine the ways its people make their living.

On Education Day, Thursday, May 24, attention will be focused on the schools, colleges and universities in the state.

On Heritage Day, Friday, May 25, attention will be centered on the state's cultural background, its history and traditions.

On New Frontiers Day, Saturday, May 26, the objective will be to appraise the promise and opportunities of the years ahead.

The line-up of special days was recommended by Robert Furlong, executive secretary of the Michigan Tourist Council, chairman of the Program Board of Michigan Week.

Plans to move the Barnard Grange hall, a landmark in the community, to a new site were announced this week.

The frame building which has housed the Barnard Grange for more than 50 years will be moved a distance of approximately 500 feet across the road to the site of the former Barnard school which the Grange now owns and which has become known as the Memorial grounds where pine trees have been planted in memory of deceased members. The school building was razed more than 10 years ago.

The building will be moved as soon as weather conditions allow the construction of a foundation. In the meantime the Grange has planned several fund-raising events to finance the cost of the project.

A flower garden quilt has been made by the women of the Grange and the quilt will be awarded at the St. Patrick's Day party at the Grange hall Saturday evening.

The party in observance of St. Patrick's Day is another fund-raising project planned by the group. The party will get underway at 9 p. m. and promises all kinds of fun for everyone. There will be refreshments and a door prize.

An invitation has been extended to all former Barnard residents to assist in the project. Anyone wishing to offer his services in any way is asked to call Charles Weisler or William Parsons.

Guest speaker for the affair was Charles Robinson, County superintendent of schools, who talked of and showed colored slides of southwestern United States and Beaver Island. Mr. and Mrs. Robinson traveled for one year on a Ford Foundation Fellowship. Their trip carried them throughout the United States.

According to K. C. Festerling, district 4-H club agent and Ed Reisman, county agricultural agent, the affair had the largest turnout in several years.

Awards to outstanding project members were made to Jane Campeau, who received a food mill, Patricia VonSooten, a pinsty frame, and Margaret Zoulek, a baking set.

The sale of the first two lots in the North Charlevoix Shore subdivision 65 US 31 north near Nine Mile Point has been announced by Wayne Belding of Belding Real Estate.

The lots were sold to Mr. and Mrs. Lester Tripp and their son, Robert Tripp who plan to build ranch houses on their newly acquired property, according to Mr. Belding.

Garrett Potter accompanied Mr. and Mrs. John Clarke to the 4-H dinner in East Jordan Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Smith have returned home from Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Campbell were overnight guest Friday of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Kelly.

Mrs. A. J. Jacobs is with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Wynsma of Grand Rapids were Saturday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wynsma.

Mr. and Mrs. Armon Buchfinch were in St. Louis on business on Saturday.

Offers Assistance With Reporting Intangibles Tax

Dare Harrington, representing the Michigan Department of Revenue, will be at the Charlevoix State Savings bank Monday, Mar. 20, for the purpose of assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their intangibles tax, due not later than Mar. 31.

Intangible personal property subject to the tax includes all mortgages, land contracts, bank accounts, cash, postal savings accounts, accounts and notes receivable, corporate stocks, corporate bonds and other similar types of property. However, all United States bonds are exempt from the tax, and the tax on deposits in Michigan banks and building and loan associations, as well as stocks in Michigan banks, will be paid to the Department of Revenue by the banks or building and loan associations.

In addition to assisting taxpayers in the preparation of their returns, Mr. Harrington will also be glad to advise any person concerning his liability, if any, under the Intangible Tax Act.

Those desiring this advice or assistance are requested to bring with them full information concerning their holdings, including the face or par value, and income received therefrom during the year, and copy of the previous year's return filed with the Department.

Greyhound Puts Scenicruiser On West Coast Run

Greyhound's newest luxury coach, the two-level scenicruiser, is now in service over Great Lakes Greyhound routes along Michigan's west coast between Chicago and Mackinaw City.

This is in line with Greyhound's policy of providing the newest and finest bus service available for Michigan's vacation and business travelers, according to J. V. Murphy, Greta Lakes Greyhound Lines' vice president of sales and traffic.

Among the many new features of the coach are panoramic sight-seeing windows above traffic level, air suspension ride and a complete washroom.

The new service became effective March 1.

A soft loaf of bread is not necessarily a fresh loaf. The old "squeeze test" is not a good measure of freshness today. Some types of bread are by nature compact and just do not become soft. Other breads remain soft for days due to the ingredients and softeners used in their manufacture, declare M. S. U. consumer information specialists.

Class 'D' Regional Tournament Now Underway At Traverse City

The Class D regional tournament opened at Traverse City Tuesday night with Copanish meeting Atlanta at 6 p. m.; Mackinaw City, Petoskey district champs, meeting the Gaylord district winner, Gaylord St. Mary's at 7:30 p. m. and Tustin going against Onekema at 9 p. m.

Macelona went into a 14-9 first quarter lead and increased it to 32-26 at the half and 43-41 at the third quarter before Grayling went ahead briefly early in the final quarter. The determined Ironmen, however, with their first district title in eight years within their grasp came back to win by one point. Bill Kenyon had 24 points for Grayling. Dick Holstad was top scorer for the victors with 15 points.

East Jordan successfully defended its Class C district title Saturday night by defeating Gaylord 62-46 in the district finals at Gaylord.

The Red Devils led throughout the game 19-10; 32-25 and 44-37 by quarters before taking the game by a 16 point margin. Darwin Mason scored 21 points for Gaylord. Cal Darbee had 17 for the Jordanians.

White Lightning

The snowshoe hare is as much a part of northern Michigan as the jackpine. He likes to camp under brushpiles, like this fellow, to avoid hounds and hunters. But white in winter and dark brown in summer, this northerner is no "dumb bunny," and hunters find him game and elusive and tasty in the pot. Local Churches Plan Holy Week Services

The annual Union Good Friday service will be held at the First Methodist church under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix Ministerial Association.

The service will begin at 1 p. m. and continue until 3 p. m. Subject of the service will be "The Seven Last Words of Christ" with each pastor speaking briefly on each of the seven words. Special Holy Week services in the majority of local churches will begin on Palm Sunday and continue through the week.

Rural Schools' Clothing Drive Is Now Open

Winter this year will be a warmer for many needy American children — if Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools, and the students and teachers of the Charlevoix county rural schools have their way.

The Charlevoix county schools are going all out in a drive to collect good, clean clothing for needy youngsters during the week of March 19 through March 23.

Their efforts will be coordinated with "Bundle Week in Michigan" which Dr. Clair Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction recently announced will be held to aid, "Save the Children Federation" in its 14th annual Clothing Crusade.

In the last two years Michigan school children collected some 400,000 pounds of used clothing.

The clothing contributed this year will be distributed in this country in a number of ways — some without cost to the Navajo and to impoverished people in isolated rural mountains of the southern United States and some will be sold for a few pennies per pound to proud mountain people who will not accept charity.

The remaining clothing will be shipped overseas to Europe and Korea for free distribution or stockpiled for emergency purposes.

The resident of Beaver Island will go to the polls Saturday to vote on a new school bond issue according to a report from Jewell F. Gillispie, secretary of the Beaver Island Community school board of education to Charles A. Robinson, Charlevoix county superintendent of schools.

Water Rates For Outside City Raised

Effective April 1 water rates for customers outside the city limit, will be increased following a resolution adopted by the Charlevoix city council at its regular meeting Monday night.

The rates for residential users outside the city will be doubled and the minimum rate set at $2 instead of the $1.00 allowed city users. The increase is necessary to absorb the cost of extending city water lines and the sewage rates which these users do not pay.

The council also voted to enter into an agreement with Motorola Communication and Electronics, Inc., starting April 1 for the maintenance and repair of two 60-watt mobile units and one remote console, a part of the city's short-wave communication system used by the police and fire departments.

It was also decided to remove the island in State st. between Mason and Antrim streets this spring. The work will be done by the city street department. The action followed a discussion of city park needs. It was decided to utilize the extra space which would be made available by removing the island.

The next meeting of the city council will be at 8:30 p. m. April 5. The meeting is being postponed because of the general election April 2.

Bills amounting to $12,397.74 were approved and ordered paid.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

If you looked at the calendar this week you know it's spring. But that's about the only way you'll know it for with all the snow there's not much thought being given these days to new Easter outfits. Not even the brave little crocuses could possibly stick their pretty little petals out these days. There's too much of that white stuff still around.

The crows evidently received advance notice last week about the forthcoming season. A few were heard cawing. We grew up with the story that the crows 'd' had to freeze three times. With the near zero weather we had several mornings last week, the poor things probably froze.

But one of the criticisms of spring has made itself seen in the pretty little pussy willows whose protective brown coats are being pushed back to show the furry little kittens. We have two lovely bouquets of 'em. Thanks to Teri Freedman and our paper boy, Butch Terr, who took advantage of the holiday last Wednesday afternoon to gather them for their friends.

There must be the promise of better weather in the air. The grosbeaks which have been spending quite a lot of time here recently while enroute north have flown off to the northland. John Timmer who's in our photography class was displaying pictures of the birds taken through a window while they were visiting a feeding station outside the window. One of our class members, George Hutchinson was going to take the 65 mm cameras in the class and head for Ellsworth Saturday to get some pictures. But Mr. T. called to say the birds had 'flown the coop', so to speak, so we'll have to wait another year.

"Michigan to Montana in the Logging Game" is the name of a feature article which appeared recently in the Great Falls, Mont., Tribune. The story came to us via the Laverne McGhans who received it from recently in the Great Falls logging country described in the story was northern Michigan in the Thunder Bay, Black River, Alpena and Gaylord districts. back in the 1890's when the forests in Michigan were going 'to last forever'. Tellers of the tale are Gurnsey Decker who is now 86 and his younger twin brothers, Fred and Frank. who in later years made their way west to work in lumber camps and settle in the Libby, Mont., area. Many pictures of early logging days. loads of logs, camp crews and scenes in the wood illustrate the story. According to the story the Fred Deckers lived here once and assisted a Miss Eva Adams of Chicago operate her "chateau" along Lake Charlevoix. Perhaps some of you old-timers remember him.

Another old landmark has 'bit the dust'. It's the Fountain City House. We had a story on it nearly a year ago but the owners finally got around to razing it. And if you want to see some old hand-hewn pieces of lumber. some of them a foot square you should see some of the beams still lying by the old building. Of course the building is nearly 90 years old but you wouldn't believe that anything could be so old and beautiful as those pieces are. What a find for someone who is building a house with open beams. With its passing a big piece of early Charlevoix history is gone. for at one time the Fountain City House was THE place in Charlevoix.

He's on the move again. that former Charlevoixian who is now with the State Department. Edwin Madill. This time it's a trip to the Middle East, Egypt, etc., according to a card we received from him last week. He's acquired a habit of turning up in the darndest places. Wonder where his next stop will be.

Charlevoix observed its second annual B. I. E. Day last Wednesday. We'd heard a lot about it but last week we saw first hand just how worthwhile it is. The teachers, all of them, were guests of business and industry. They toured a total of 15 local businesses and industries and then gathered for a dinner and a re-hash of the day's events. It was most interesting to hear mutual problems discussed and also to hear the spokesmen for the various groups give a resume of comments and observations made by group members. You sure get a bigger and better appreciation of your community after listening to everyone. It's a project that the entire community could benefit by. a tour of the plants, facilities and businesses with everyone gaining a greater insight and understanding of the other guy's problems. An orchid to those who planned it all.

Our comments about the history of Charlevoix's postoffice brought a great deal of response but no one went back as far as did the records at the National Archives and Records Service in Washington. Our Postmaster, Pete Timmer, had requested info on it and received it over the weekend. And guess what. the postoffice was established here Sept. 28, 1854. So when the post office is moved to its new site this June it will mark the 102nd anniversary of the first one here. So if you've some letters dated back that far, you've got a bit of history in your Possession. And we'll have additional info about the early history of the postoffice and its postmasters come June.

Leave it to kids to think up money-making schemes. seems one of our youngsters moved to a new neighborhood and came in with some extra change. When queried about it's source the little Miss informed her mother that since she was a new girl in the neighborhood she'd charged the kids a penny apiece for playing with her. Hmmm.

As of this time (Sunday), Boyne City was still on the march. On Wednesday they're slated to go against Crystal Falls from the U. P. and probably many local fans will see the game. Wouldn't it be something if they did the impossible and went all the way to the top. If they should they'll be the first team from the Northern Michigan Class C league to accomplish the feat. Maybe Boyne hasn't found it out yet but there's a jinx on northern Michigan teams. Maybe they'll be in luck and break it. we hope so. And then Charlevoix will have the 'distinction' of being the only team to defeat them during the season. How about that? But all kidding aside, we do wish them luck. they've earned

But back we go to our old argument. Tournaments prove exactly nothing. We'll stand on our soap box and shout about that but it will do no good. There'll be other seasons. Just think, only five more months and we'll be back to our favorite. football. Till then, we'll see you at the track.

In the fall the migration of the wild geese is accepted as a sign that cold weather will soon be coming. Does their trip north mark the approach of spring? Since one hears little about this, we're wondering cause if it does, spring is on its way. A big flock went over Monday night just before dark. wearing from their long trip with many stragglers. looking for open water and a place to spend the night. So, who knows, maybe spring is just around the corner.

From Kendall, Fla., a note from Mrs. Ingma Pontius who with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Henry Isaksens, is on a little trip through the south. At Kendall they stopped to visit the Earl Henshaw. Mrs. Henshaw is the former Helen Hamlin. who have the church of God in that southern community.

And from French Morocco, North Africa, a note from Phyllis Roberts who is over there on a government mission. of the letter she said she'd completed a study she'd been assigned to do and would go with it to their headquarters in Wiesbaden, Germany. will spend 10 days there and return on our General's plane via France with a stop over there.

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

HAVE YOU HEARD about Long Distance credit cards? No fumbling for change, no owing a friend the price of a call when you use his phone. All you do when you make an out-of-town call is give the operator the information on your credit card. The cost of the call will then appear on your regular telephone bill. Interested? Make arrangements for your credit card by calling our Business Office.

HOW MANY MILES is it from your basement to your telephone? It surely must seem like miles every time you dash upstairs when the phone rings. All that sprinting is really unnecessary when you consider the low cost of having a telephone in your basement. The monthly charge is just about a dollar. There is just one installation charge no matter how many additional phones you have installed at the same time. You have only to call our Business Office to order yours.

JUST 80 YEARS AGO this month Alexander Graham Bell spoke these words over the first telephone. "Mr. Watson, come here, I want you." Today the telephone company offers more than 400 kinds of service. For example, besides conventional telephones, we provide telephone service to ships and automobiles, trains and trucks, foreign countries, radio and television network service and equipment for automatic telephone answering and photograph transmission. Wherever a communications need exists the telephone company stands ready to serve.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Dora Rickard who passed away 18 years ago March 30. The rolling streams of life roll on, but still the vacant chair recalls the love, the voice, the smile. Of one who once sat there friends may think we have forgotten. When at times they see us smile, little do they know the heart aches. That our smiles hide all the while.

Strawberries Set Early Produce Bigger Yields

Early transplanting of strawberries pays off in bigger yields the next year, reminds Ed Reberman, Charlevoix county agricultural agent.

Runners that form in June will produce twice as many berries the next year as runners that form in July, he points out. This is true for June bearing varieties. Everbearing varieties produce the best crop the same year they are planted.

Agent Reberman says Harry Bell extension horticulturist at Michigan State University, recommends setting out plants as soon as the ground can be suitably worked in the spring. For Charlevoix county this date is usually around May 1.

Agent Reberman also advises growers to set plants about 28 inches apart. The ideal spacing is no more than four plants per square foot by Sept. 1.

Many growers, he points out, have been setting plants about 18 inches apart because of likely losses of several plants. However, plants have become more vigorous with increased control of diseases and insects so that fewer die now.

National Wildlife Federation Sponsors Campaign To Save Endangered Game

The National Wildlife Federation has listed eight ways the average citizen can help save the kinds of wildlife that are in danger of becoming extinct.

"Save Endangered Wildlife" is the theme of National Wildlife Week now being observed under the sponsorship of the Federation and its member state associations and local clubs throughout the country. Sponsoring organization in the state is the Michigan United conservation clubs, represented locally by the Charlevoix Rod and Gun club.

Mr. Gaines of Grand Rapids, state Wildlife Week chairman, said every person can help by joining a conservation club or simply by exercising his rights as a citizen. Among these rights, he explained, is the American privilege of expressing one's opinion to legislators and public officials.

Those kinds of wildlife that are about to pass from the scene are getting special attention this year.

Literature published by the National Wildlife Federation lists many of these endangered forms: sea otter, lake sturgeon, lake trout, trumpeter swan, Everglade kite, Eskimo curlew, grayling, California condor, prairie chicken, bighorn sheep, whooping crane, grizzly bear, ivory-billed woodpecker, Key deer, tule elk, black-footed ferret, kit fox, woodland caribou, gray wolf, red fox, manatee, Caribbean monk seal, Mississippi kite, swallow-tailed kite, white-tailed kite, roseate spoonbill, Hudsonian godwit, Florida sandhill crane, Laysan teal, peregrine falcon, Florida burrowing owl, Pileated woodpecker, red-bellied hawk, Kirtland's warbler, Cape Sable seaside sparrow, Great Lakes whitefish, American crocodile and green turtle.

State Chairman Mr. Gaines has pointed out that many other kinds of wildlife, while not endangered in the nation as a whole, have been wiped out in some states and are threatened in others.

Chairmen Named For Cancer Fund Campaign In Area

Area chairman for the 1956 Cancer Crusade to raise funds for the American Cancer Society have been named by Mrs. George Roff, local fund chairman.

Mrs. Leo Burnett will head the drive in the Hayes area; Mrs. Charles Wiesder, Norwood; Mrs. John Clarke, Phelps district; Mrs. John Fratrik, US 31 south; Mrs. Thomas Nielsen, Ironton.

The quota for the Charlevoix area has been set at $500.00. The quota for the county is $1,650.

Grace - Bartlett Marriage Vows Are Exchanged On Coast

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Joan Grace of Beaumont, Calif., to staff Sgt. Norman L. Bartlett of Norton Airforce Base, Calif., at Beaumont, Calif., Feb. 18.

Sgt. Bartlett is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bartlett of this city. The couple will make their home at 7-E Clark st. Redlands, Calif.

Chlorine Solution Good Udder Wash

The best way to clean dairy cow udders before milking is a thorough rinse with plain water which is not to be re-used, followed by wiping with a cloth soaked in weak chlorine solution.

That's the word from Michigan State University dairymen. They cite a Texas study which showed much less bacteria in milk when that method was used in contrast to four others. The other methods included washing with plain water alone, washing with water and wiping with a quaternary ammonium compound, and wiping with a chlorine solution or quaternary ammonium solution without a prior wash.

room, as well as offices of the county clerk, treasurer, register of deeds, prosecutor and friend of the court.

Until the south wing is built, other offices in the main building will be utilized and other offices which later will be moved to the county building will remain where they are. For instance, the health department will remain in the city hall and the Bureau of Social Aid will remain in its present offices at 202 State st., thus leaving space in the new structure for county offices. The justice court room in the city hall or the probate court room in the new building will be utilized until the south wing is built.

The new county building will be of concrete, steel and brick construction with stone trim at the front.

When funds are available the old structure will be razed to make way for the south wing which will extend to Antrim st. The jail is on Antrim st. west of the present courthouse.

house building has been condemned by the office of the state fire marshal. Last fall the board of supervisors voted to start the new building rather than make extensive repairs on the old two-story brick building.

Members of the courthouse building committee headed by Mr. Rabach are Robert Barnett of East Jordan, Henry Lee of Boyne City, Lee Sneathen Jr., T. R. Miller, Ivan Phillips, Russell Curtis, chairman of the Board of Supervisors and Fenton R. Bulow, county clerk.

The sinking fund which will finance the cost of the construction of the first wing of the new county building was established in 1948 by the vote of the people. During the first three years two mills were allocated to the fund with one mill to go to the fund for the next ten years. The fund still has three years to run.

If you are an average city dweller, you get about 14 per cent of the total thiamine in your diet, 13 per cent of the niacin, 12 per cent of the iron, 10 per cent of the protein, riboflavin and food energy and 9 per cent of your calcium from the bread you eat.

GREYHOUND

2nd Annual B.I.E. Big Success

Charlevoix observed its second annual B. I. E. Day Wednesday with business and industry hosting the teachers of the Charlevoix public and St. Mary's parochial schools on a tour of 15 business places, industrial plants and community facilities.

The event was climaxed by a dinner at the V. F. W. post home for more than 50 teachers and representatives of business and industry.

William VanRaaphorst of the American Mold Engineering Corp. was general chairman at the program which followed and introduced John D. Allen and Stahlan Shannor of the Will-Flow Corp., Mayor James Hiller who spoke briefly, stating that the event had been an interesting and informative experience and Gordon Freedman, who served as moderator at the discussion which followed.

Mr. Freedman said that the purpose of B. I. E. day was to get a better understanding of the problems of preparing young people for entry into business or industry. He went on to say that there was a great need for more engineers as well as people with management ability and advised that teachers guide students into these channels.

Supt. R. G. Bennett then introduced the spokesman for each of the six groups which toured the various places in the community. Before doing this, however, he said that there was a need for 'one-ness' in the community and he felt that B. I. E. day was one means of acquiring it.

Spokesmen for the groups were Mrs. Ethel Courier, Mrs. Donna Hamilton, Uno Suomela, Mrs. Bessie Coleman, Mrs. Laura Courtade and Ray L. Kipke.

All spoke highly of their hosts during the afternoon at American Mold, Freedman Aircraft, Paul Reed Inc., Charlevoix hospital, Charlevoix Municipal Power Plant, Charlevoix Municipal Sewage plant, Carson Lumber Co., Brown Motors, Edwards Food Mart, Williams Pastry Shop, Rathburn's Print shop, Maxbauer's Creamery, Charlevoix County State Bank, Hooker's Cleaners and the Charlevoix Courier.

Many mentioned the costly equipment in most of the places they visited and Mrs. Courtade said that great thought should be given before recommendations were made for students seeking jobs.

Another observed the congenial surroundings in which the employees worked in the places they visited. Others observed the countless small details in various operations which the public never notices. For instance, a piece of clothing goes through 32 different handling operations from the time it is left at the cleaners until it is returned to its owner. The methods of ordering and handling foods was another observation mentioned.

At the municipal power plant and the sewage disposal plant the visitors were impressed by the scale of operation and the service each gives to the community.

Visitors at the hospital were impressed by the service it offers to the patients and the amount of equipment on hand to serve the patients as well as the size of the staff necessary to operate a hospital efficiently.

Representatives of both industry and business spoke briefly giving their views of the occasion. Those who spoke were Floyd Brown, H. B. Schofield, Mr. Allen, Bonnie Nickerson, E. D. Hawley, Arnold Wadas, and Miss Ann Baumgartner.

It was suggested that some method of introducing students to business and industry through a part-time program during school hours be adopted. Max Novak said that some thought had been given to the project. Mr. Allen stated that such a program had been adopted in Belding and advised that information could be obtained on the program.

In summing up the program both Mr. Freedman and Mr. VanRaaphorst agreed that 15th business and industry had profited greatly by the exchange of ideas and Mr. VanRaaphorst suggested that business and industry visit the school next year and become acquainted with the problems the teachers face in educating the children of the community.

THOUGHTS AFIELD

by
Harold E. Kohn

When Pressed

Sometimes when I walk up the snow-drifted trail from our gate to our cabin, the snow squeaks complainerly under my feet. But yesterday, a mild day, when I trudged the nine hundred feet upon a soft blanket of white, the snow did not protest in the least. There wasn't a single shrill squeal of remonstrance.

What makes some snow squeak under the burden of footsteps and other snow respond to a man's weight with the soft answer of a low-pitched and pleasant "crunch"? Squealing snow is made up of crystals having sharp edges that grind upon each other. You will hear its pained screaming when you walk upon a depth of it in zero weather, when coldness has stiffened and honed the edges of the flakes. On mild, sunny winter days the warmth softens the edges of snow crystals so that they rub against each other more gently when pressed. Then they make no noisy clamor.

In a similar way, a warm love for God and man softens the hard edges of our souls so that when pressed together in families, clubs, churches, and communities we do not hurt each other and raise a shrill tumult. We can then rub shoulders without smudging reputations and disagree without being disagreeable.

Farmers Urged To Make Application In Soils Program

Charlevoix county farmers who have not attended one of the recent series of sign-up meetings for the 1956 Agricultural Conservation program would do well to come into the office without delay. Sign-ups are coming in daily and funds are being allocated to the first comers. A big share of all 1956 funds for conservation payments is already spoken for by farsighted farmers.

If you have some special conservation practices in mind for your farm now is the time to come in to see that your practices are listed and approved while there are still funds available.

The program for Charlevoix county this year is the best that has been offered for several years and farmers have been quick to notice this and to take advantage of the help available.

Tree planting for reforestation is one of the practices showing increased cost-sharing. The cost share is now $2.00 per hundred for trees for reforestation and $3.00 per hundred for trees used for windbreak. Order blanks may be obtained from the county agents' office. There are but three species of trees still available, red and white pine being two of them. Trees should be ordered immediately to be sure of getting them.

Do not wait too long before coming in to sign up for your conservation practices. It appears that all funds will be allocated within a short time and all approvals are being made on the basis of "first come, first served."

Also all farmers needing a soil test for any practices are to bring their own samples to the county ASC office. Information as to proper way of taking samples will be given if a call is made to the office.

Local Churches Plan Holy Week Services

On Good Friday a special service commemorating the death of Jesus Christ, Son of God, will be held at 1 p. m.

The Norwood Methodist church will observe Palm Sunday at a noon-day service. Palms will be blessed and distributed at the service. The Rev. Robert Moore of East Jordan will speak on the subject "Lift Up the Lord's".

Palms will be blessed and distributed at the Barnard Methodist church at 2 p. m. service Sunday.

The Rev. O. B. Ansted will preach a sermon given to the theme of Palm Sunday and special music will be featured at the 11 a. m. worship service at the First Baptist church Sunday.

On Maunday Thursday a Candlelight Communion service will be held at the church at 7:30 p. m. for members. The service will be in three parts, the call to worship and the consecration of members, the observance of the Lord's Supper and Tenetiae or retirement for prayer.

Palm Sunday will be observed at Christ Episcopal church with the traditional blessing of the Palms and the singing of the ancient hymns associated with the day. The procession and the blessing of the Palms comes to us from Jerusalem where, after a celebration of Holy Eucharist on the Mount of Olives, there was a procession to the Holy City. The knocking at the closed door of the church, during the present day procession by the priests, is a symbol of Our Lord knocking at the gates of Jerusalem.

During Holy Week the Holy Eucharist will be celebrated at Christ church at 10 a. m. Monday and Tuesday, at 7 and 10 a. m. Wednesday and at 8 a. m. Thursday. At 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, the Maunday Thursday Tenetiae will be read. The celebration of the Holy Eucharist on Thursday, the memorial of the Institution of the Eucharist by our Blessed Lord, will be followed by a watch before the Blessed Sacrament which will continue to 10 a. m. The watch is in response to the plea of our Blessed Lord "couldst not thou watch one hour?"

On Good Friday the Altar Service and Solemn Collects will be read at 10 a. m. and the preaching of the Cross will be held from 12 noon until 3 p. m. At 4 p. m. Holy Saturday the new fire, the paschal candle and the Font will be blessed. The service will conclude with a Solemn Baptism.

The Rev. Malcolm Thomson is pastor of Christ Episcopal church.

At the First Methodist church the Rev. Lloyd M. Schlopp will speak on the subject, "Jeremiah, the Man Who Walked Alone," at the 11 a. m. service on Palm Sunday. There will be baptisms. Special music will be by the Junior choir.

On Maunday Thursday a special Holy Communion service will be held at 8 a. m. This will be followed by a meeting of the Study group which will hear a discussion of Thomas A. Kempis.

At St. Mary's church there will be the traditional blessing of the palms at both the 8:30 and 10:30 a. m. Masses.

Special services, including an evening Mass Thursday evening, will be part of the Holy Week observance.

The Assembly of God Sunday school has planned a victory dinner and the showing of a missionary film Thursday, Mar. 29 to climax a successful Attendance Incentive drive.

After the 6:30 p. m. supper the group will enjoy the film, "Three Minutes to Twelve." The film, using the clock motif, a clock ready to ring out the old order and ring in the new portrays vividly in color the historic scenes of Holy Week and the Resurrection, then leaps the years to the phenomenal return of the Jews and how they are fulfilling the Bible prophecy.

The Rev. T. B. Thodeson is pastor of the church.

At the Community Church of God the films "The Last Journey to Jerusalem" and "Thirty Pieces of Silver" will be shown at 8 p. m. Palm Sunday evening.

April 19 and 20 have been named as the tentative dates for the annual Northland Minstrel show to be given under the sponsorship of the Charlevoix high school Band Parents Association, Randall Crump, president of the organization announced this week.

The Charlevoix Band Parents Association asks that everyone reserve the nights of April 19 and 20 for the Northland Minstrel show.

Harold W. Usher, Former Resident, Dies In Florida

Harold W. Usher sr., 57, of Rockford, owner of the Benjamin Usher insurance agency in Grand Rapids and a former local resident, died March 20 at Pompano Beach, Fla., where he had been vacationing.

The body was returned to the Metcalf chapel in Grand Rapids for funeral services Saturday. Burial was in a Grand Rapids cemetery.

A native of Manistee, M. Usher was the son of the late A. J. Usher, editor of the Charlevoix Courier for many years. He had resided in Grand Rapids since 1924 and had operated an insurance agency there for several years. Harvey Varnum To Run In Primary For Prosecutor Harvey C. Varnum, Boyne City attorney, this week announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the office of Charlevoix county prosecuting attorney in the August 7 primary election.

A 1948 graduate of the University of Michigan law school, Mr. Varnum was a law clerk for the late Walter North, Justice of the Michigan Supreme Court for one year following graduation. In August 1949 he came to Boyne City where he practiced law until 1951. He returned to northern Michigan to resume his practice in 1955 after four years elsewhere.

County To Have Two Full Time Workers In Extension Office

Charlevoix county will have two full-time workers in the Cooperative Extension office to take care of the agriculture, 4-H and home economic programs within the county. Ed Rebnan, county agricultural agent, has announced.

In making the announcement regarding the new arrangement, Mr. Rebnan said it is hoped that the change in personnel will become effective by July 1.

The new program follows the adoption of a new policy by the Cooperative Extension Service of Michigan State University which is seeking to eliminate as much as possible district 4-H club and home demonstration agents such as served the county in the past.

According to the new formula at Michigan State University, Charlevoix county is entitled to two workers while other counties may have as many as three, depending on their size and population.

The district 4-H club agent, K. C. Festelberg, and Mrs. Emma Reinbold, district home demonstration agent, who have served both Charlevoix and Emmet counties for many years, have been elected to be county agents in Emmet county where both maintain homes.

The action to be followed in Charlevoix as a result of the new M. S. U. Cooperative Extension Service policy was decided by a county advisory council which met last week at the county extension office in Boyne City. As a result of the council's decision Mr. Rebnan will continue as county agricultural agent and in addition will assist in the boys 4-H club program. A new home demonstration agent will be engaged to care for the home economics work and assist in the girls 4-H club program.

Advisory council members from the Charlevoix area who attended the meeting were Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, William Parsons, John Wieland, Burr Blanton and Clarence Rabach.

Kiple, second ward alderman; Jess Smith, third ward supervisor; and Harry Gebena, third ward alderman.

Excerpts From 'Feeling Low?' Are In New Book

Four excerpts from the Rev. Harold E. Kohn's "Feeling Low?" have appeared in the "Speakers Illustrations for Special Days" published recently by Abingdon Press of New York and Nashville, Tenn.

Edited by Charles L. Wallis, the book has 24 main divisions, according to the days and seasons most widely observed in the church and civil calendar. It has two indexes. The first lists names of contributors and the second is a cross index of subjects and ideas.

As might be expected three of four selections appearing in the new publication are listed under the heading of Nature Study. Sub-titles have them listed under "Rivers to the Sea", "Sowing and Reaping" and "Wonder of Creation". The fourth came under selections for Mother's Day.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

The basketball rat race is over for another year with four new state champs crowned . . . and . . . three from the U. P. where they raise boys two inches shorter than the sky . . . And for the next few weeks everybody who saw any of the games will be second guessing . . . as they've been doing since Dec. 1 when the season opened . . .

The quarter-finals at Traverse and Petoskey were really good as everyone who saw them will verify . . . and the games downstate were even more thrilling . . . We saw the Boyne-Crystal Falls game and it was something to see . . . and since our heart wasn't wrapped up in the game as it is when our team is playing we thoroughly enjoyed every minute of it . . . We still say that had Boyne played like they were capable of playing, hitting from the outside and executing a press they might be the new state champs . . . But they, like everyone else in this league, had a terrific season so what more can you ask . . . Although, some day, we'd like to see a state champ from this section of Michigan where there's a lot of good basketball played . . . Will someone start growing some young giants, please . . . That's all we need . . .

And speaking of the game at Traverse City, isn't that St. Francis gym a dream of a place . . . What we couldn't do with a place like that . . . You have the feeling that it's as big as all outdoors . . . and it almost is . . . Well, we can dream . . .

Our own little Billy Zeidler has come in for more than his share of publicity recently . . . In the Sunday edition of a Grand Rapids paper, here was Billy and some of his little friends, sailing boats in a pool at the Orthopedic school and in the West Michigan Catholic was another story about Billy, the Snyder family with whom he lives and the handicaps which he accepts so well and which he is trying to overcome by study . . . He's a brave little guy and certainly a great asset to the community . . .

We don't know much about bowling except that you throw (or should we say, roll) a big black ball down an alley with the idea of knocking over a certain number of wooden pins . . . The Charlevoix bowling teams did a grand job at the recent Petoskey city tournament, winning all kinds of

Explorer Scouts Have Camping Trip To Miller Cabin

The Explorer Scouts of Post 211 recently had a camping trip at the T. R. Miller cabin on the Thunder Bay River near Atlanta.

The group which made the trip in cars driven by Mr. Miller and Paul Allers included Dave Arnold (Charles Pierce), Wayne Sundberg (Bruce Bergmann), Jim VerWys and Raymond Schultz.

After arriving at the cabin and having a lunch the afternoon was spent looking for porcupines and for deer which had died of starvation.

On Sunday morning a breakfast of pancakes and pork sausage was prepared by our cooks, Paul Allers and Dave Arnold.

After breakfast two groups were formed to take separate porcupine hikes. One group made up of Paul Allers, Paul Schultz and Mr. Miller hiked about three miles north of the cabin. They saw several porcupines, some deer and quite a number of tracks of coyotes, woodchucks, otter deer and porcupines. After a lunch of roasted hotdogs and coleslaw they started the trip back to the cabin.

The other group made up of the remaining boys had hiked south and east, returning to the cabin at 1:30 p. m. They too saw quite a number of deer and animal tracks.

After packing up everything the group left the cabin at 5 p. m. Sunday, arriving home at 7:30 p. m.

Mayor Exchange To Take Place Monday, May 21

Michigan's mayor and village presidents learned Wednesday where they would spend Monday May 21.

That is the date they swap towns and role for a day as a feature of Michigan week, May 20 to 26.

Charlevoix's Mayor James Hiller, will exchange with the mayor of village president of Caneau, a community of about 400 residents located less than five miles from the Ohio border southwest of Hillsdale, on M-49.

The Exchange cities were "paired" at the annual exchange of mayors drawing held Tuesday in Lansing. The names of nearly 500 cities and villages were placed in a large hopper and drawn in pairs by Gov. G. Mennen Williams, honorary Michigan week chairman and by Lt. Gov. Phillip Hart and House Speaker Wade Van Valkenberg, honorary co-chairman. Margaret Doreaux of Howell, Miss Michigan of 1955, assisted.

Spring Toppers Show A Slender Trend Of Fashion

What's new in topwear fashion this spring? Cropped jackets and slender coats in colors of navy blue and lively beige seem to be taking the spotlight, declares Florence Rann, clothing specialist at Michigan State University.

Coats, cut easy and straight, are really quite different from the short and finger-tip length coats we've been wearing the past few years. Some have tuxedo fronts with no fastening at all and some are buttoned. Although some coats are full, most are designed with a slim look to be worn over sheath dresses. Interest in the coats may come from the fabric design, a Martingale belt or Emoire closing or a large shawl collar or cape.

Some of the summer coats, describes Miss Rann, are practically sleeveless—very light and airy. Fabrics range from silk to rayon to cotton and linen.

Cropped jackets are newest, but jackets range in length from a very brief bolero ending close under the bustline to the hip-bone length. The snug little bolero may cover a sleeveless scoop neckline type of dress or a slim dress with either cap or set-in sleeves. Box jackets, according to Miss Rann, like slim or nipped-waist—jackets, are equally popular and easy to wear. Bloused jackets and jacket dresses seem to be part of the spring picture, too.

1956 Edition Of Tourist Guide Is Being Distributed

The distribution of 60,000 copies of the 1956 edition of Carefree Days in west Michigan, tourist guide published annually for 39 years by the West Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, has been started according to Chester C. Wells, secretary-manager of the association.

The new book has 160 pages and including detailed descriptive material on tourist attractions in the 31 counties of West Michigan from the southern boundary northward to the tip of Michigan's lower peninsula, including historic Mackinac Island in the Straits of Mackinac and Beaver Island in northern Lake Michigan.

Winter Care Of
Roses Is Subject
For Garden Club

"How to Prune and Care for Roses During the Winter Months" was the subject of Mrs. Harvey Campbell's talk at the regular meeting of the Garden club held at the home of Mrs. T. R. Miller Tuesday. It was the second in a series of three lessons on roses.

The flower arrangement was a clever Easter bonnet, done in pastel flowers by Mrs. Gordon Freedman.

The garden tip for the meeting was: he who plants a tree, plants a hope.

The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Allen Campbell Tuesday.

Local Hospital
Is Licensed For Maternity Care

The Charlevoix hospital is one of three hospitals in Charlevoix county which are fully licensed to provide maternity care, the Michigan Department of Health reports. The others are the Beaver Island Clinic at St. James, Beaver Island and Grandview hospital at East Jordan.

The three are among the 238 approved hospitals in the state according to Dr. Albert E. Hensley, state health commissioner, who released the list of the fully-approved hospitals as a sign of the significant stride forward toward giving the very best medical care to our new babies and their mothers.

Three years ago only 143 Michigan hospitals were on the fully approved list.

The report showed that 234 Michigan hospitals now holding full licenses have a total of 3,921 maternity beds.

Today's qualifications for full maternity license include 33 regulations as "musts" and 44 provisions which the hospital must at least include in its immediate future plans. Including under the standards are equipment for care of mothers and newborn infants, formula preparation, record-keeping, control of anesthetics, nursing techniques, baby identification and even the hospital plumbing system.

Living with Things that Last

When Nurse Spring removes the last white bandages of snow from frost-bitten Earth, and the sensitive raw sod first feels the brush of wet breezes, we feel as if we were near the dawn of creation. The earth seems new. Every living thing is met with a surprise like that which Adam must have known in the garden when nothing had ever been seen before, nor touched, nor smelled, nor heard, nor named and everything he saw was new.

So now as March draws to an end and April first approaches, our northern world is covered with newness. On brook banks and in swamps, in sloughs and on lake shores the silky white moccasins of pussy willows burst their scales and look out upon the fresh verdure of spring-me. Bluebirds alight, resting from a long spring migration, and begin to seek suitable housing sites in woods edges and old orchards. Resurrected grasses nod drowsily in the warm sunshine. Distant trees are robed in sheer yellow-green dressing gowns, prophetic of leaves yet to be unfurled. And to the winter-weary watcher it is all so new, as if he were some celestial spectator seeing the earth being born.

Yet the renewed earth is an old earth. Abe Lincoln, splitting rails that had weathered all winter, readying them to enclose newly-planted fields, heard the returning bluebird's song from a nearby marsh. George Washington, before him, rode horseback over his rolling plantation acres, watching in wide-eyed wonder as slumbering Mount Vernon came to life. The small, low plants raised tender shoots toward the sun. Toads and frogs, chipmunks and skunks awoke from deep winter slumber. Insects buzzed again. Flowers bloomed. Lincoln's new spring world was an old world. Washington had loved.

Millennia before Washington, Red Men heard spring peepers trill their spring song from the continent's ponds and marshes, and heard the honk of wild geese on their night travels northward. And before Red Men saw the advent of springtime, their remotest unknown ancestors felt the stir of a sleepy Nature and heard a spring wind sigh in the tall trees like a mighty early-morning yawn, half-suppressed.

Possibly one reason why we feel "right" when close to nature, gathering pussy willows or watching a bluebird's flight or chopping wood, is that we are dealing with things that last, values that were here when Lincoln, Washington, Red Men and cave men walked the earth. An individual pussy willow may die, but next spring there will still be pussywillows, for that race of vegetation will live on. A certain blue-bird may not return with next spring's migration, but there will still be bluebirds. I shall burn a sizeable pile of logs in our fireplace this week, but there will still be logs and trees when our fireplace stones lie smouldering in the ashes of bygone civilization.

Could it be that the joy and peace of gardening come in part from dealing with "everlastings"? We dig and rake and cultivate a soil that was here before our earliest known ancestors. Long after we have gone the way of all flesh, other hands will seed the earth and pull its weeds and garner its fruits. Other winters will drop vast scoops of snow upon our planting plots, making each a garden a la mode. Then other springs will come. Knowing all this, and that in gardening we are dealing with some things that outlast us, we feel rooted, secure and at peace.

Here we have a hint of how death can best be faced—the prospect of our own, or what is more difficult, that of a loved one. Ask yourself, "What is here that is certain to last?" Then focus attention upon those immortal elements, appreciating them, cultivating them, rejoicing in them. Here is where physical culture cults are in error. They concentrate upon the perishable aspects of man's nature, viewing with horror any disability or weakness in the body, dreaming seem to feel that to have a healthy body is to be well. As a consequence, some do reach old age, but with neglected, shriveled souls rattling about in a well-developed physique, like diseased and shrunken nut-meats in healthy-looking shells. Then, at last comes the inevitable dissolution, as it must come to all, and in spite of their best efforts. It was not prevented, but only postponed for a time.

But there are others, wiser, who focus attention upon the inner man, the welfare of the spirit. They take old age and death in their stride, as did John Quincy Adams. When the former president of the United States was eighty years of age, he was met by an old acquaintance on the streets of Boston. The friend asked, "Well now, how is John Quincy Adams today?" The old man's eyes twinkled brightly as he replied, "John Quincy Adams himself is very well, thank you. But the house he lives in is sadly dilapidated, it's tottering on its foundations. The walls are badly shattered and the roof is worn. The building trembles with every wind and I think John Quincy Adams will have to move before very long. But he himself is very well." Adams knew which values would last.

You have "lost" a loved one. Are you sure? Is your love for him gone, or his love for you? No, love is a value that outlasts death.

Have you lost his influence. Hardly! The influence of a good person grows stronger with the years, as Lincoln is better known now and his influence in the world is more pronounced than it was on the day of his inauguration, or the day of his Gettysburg Address, or the day of his assassination. And what of Christ, whose resurrection we celebrate each springtime? When He died only a few hundred people knew of it. Today every corner of the world feels the impact of his power. A wholesome influence is eternal.

Shakespeare's dreadful dirge has truth in it:

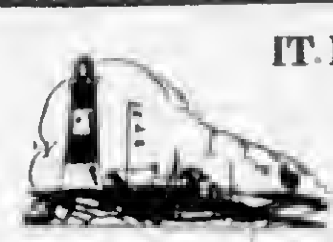

"Golden lad and girls all must, As chimney-sweepers, come to dust."

Death comes to all flesh. But another has sung a higher truth:

"What is excellent, As God lives, is permanent; Hearts are dust, hearts' loves remain; Hearts' love will meet again."

There are some things that are beyond the touch of death. Live by them and death loses its sting. Dwell upon them and as certainly as springtime comes after winter, peace will follow sorrow.

A useful gadget is a blender, describes Ruth Sands of the M. S. U. institution administration department. To use the blender, put the flour and water in and then put on top of the blender. Then you shake it less than a minute and you have a smooth paste for thickening.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Martin

Did the Easter bunny come to your house? . . . We hope he did and left you all sorts of nice things. . . . We understand that Easter bunnies were not among the things he left in most places this year but with snow on the ground and the weather on the coolish side due in a good part to the fact that Lake Michigan was filled with drift ice most people just couldn't or couldn't burst out in their new spring finery for fear of catching their death of pneumonia or something, as the saying goes. . . . But the sky was bright, it didn't rain and the temperature did get up to 40 degrees or so. . . . so one has the idea that perhaps spring will be here soon. . . . And to make the day more spring like, a lone some robin was singing for anyone that couldn't be mistaken for anything but a greeting to the glorious month of April. . . . which will bring showers, which in turn will bring May flowers. . . . We hope. . . .

And now that April is here the calendar is full of things to do. . . . This week there's the senior talent show which promises to be a super-show with all kinds of good talent. . . . so make plans right now to attend. . . . then next week there's the all-games party at the gym under the sponsorship of the P. T. A. . . . and that too promises to be great fun. . . . That's on Friday night. . . . But wait, we're getting ahead of ourselves. . . . On Thursday there's a holiday dinner. . . . And the week after there's the minstrel show. . . . and this year's will be the best yet. . . . So when someone asks you what we do in northern Michigan when it isn't summer, just tell 'em 'Battle for a date to give something. . . . which is just about what it adds up to. . . .

And next week is also the time when our Blue Ribbon band, which won a first division rating at the district festival, goes to the state band festival at Muskegon. . . . We heard them in concert recently and we think this band is it. . . . Not that they've won a first in the state contest yet. . . . but they sure sounded super and if they'll play that well when they appear before the big boys come April 14, they'll come home with the coveted rating. . . . So right now we'd like to wish them all the luck in the world. . . . We're expecting big things of you. . . .

We're sorry that the note and clipping from Mrs. Ira Olney of Elk Rapids arrived too late for last week's column for we would have liked nothing better than to have told you then that last Friday was the birthday anniversary of one of our grandest ladies. . . . Mrs. Susan Ahgosa. . . . A column written by the Observer in the Traverse City Record-Eagle paid a fine tribute to Mrs. Ahgosa and her late husband and mentioned the forthcoming anniversary. . . . To show the esteem in which she is held by her friends in Traverse City where she made her home for many, many years before coming here we'd like to quote from the column. . . . Mr. and Mrs. Ahgosa were people of great integrity of great Christian faith and kindness. They also liked to laugh and were great companions and fine friends. . . . They were proud of their race and worked incessantly to help the Indians of the region. . . . There never were finer people than Mr. and Mrs. Ahgosa in any race. . . . A fine tribute to fine people. . . . And though Mrs. Ahgosa is confined to the house since losing her eyesight, she's as keen and interesting as ever. . . . So we'd like to take this opportunity to send her a belated birthday greeting. . . .

Also in the mail cards from our travelers who should soon be returning home from southern vacations. . . . From the Archie Livingstons, who toured the state of Florida as far south as the Keys (how much farther can you go?) . . . Mrs. L. said they had expected to find warm breezes but the temperature dropped to 44 which wasn't exactly balmy. . . . And from Hollywood, Fla., a card from the Chuck Pontuses telling us they were getting a head start on their summer tan (that look you see about us is green like in envy). . . . Also telling us that they'd stopped to see the Dal Henrys and the Charles Martins on their way down. . . . plus 'neighbors' at Hollywood by the name of Andrews who is a summer visitor at the Belvedere. . . . Small world, huh? . . . And in answer to request for a couple of robins. . . . we have 'em all corralled, awaiting your return. . . .

And from the Middle East, a card from our State Department traveler, Ed Madill with the message that "Went through the earthquake in Lebanon and now at Palmyra, Syria. . . . Next stop Ammon, Jordan. . . . I'm sure the newspapers tell you more than I can". . . . It sounds wonderful but we think we'll take the quiet life. . . .

And after this we promise we won't mention this any more. . . . it's another 'stickful' in the 'Mik-sa-be' story from Will E. Hampton Sr. . . . Seems the latest is this. . . . there's no letter 'u' in the Indian alphabet. . . . according to Fred Ettawageshik, chief of the Ottawa tribe who lives at Baths recorded at the Charlevoix hospital recently include:

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Ciszewski of East Jordan March 27.

A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Suak of East Jordan March 28.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Miller of East Jordan March 29.

A son born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson March 30.

A daughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Erickson of Central Lake March 31.

Harbor Springs. . . . So spell it as you will but emit the 'u'. . . . Amen

Via Cincinnati we hear another traveler who is wintering in Hawaii. . . . A note from Mrs. Alfred Straus Jr. brought a clipping accompanied by the following note from Mrs. Straus. . . . "I've just returned from Honolulu where I ran across this article in the morning paper (Honolulu Advertiser). . . . I was amazed to come across anything concerning Charlevoix so many miles across the Pacific and knew you too would be interested". . . . And we were amazed when we opened the clipping to find a picture of Mrs. Florence Dundas of the Grey Gables Inn. . . . and right there in print it said "Charlevoix Michigan". . . . Any way, an interview with the food editor of the newspaper resulted in this wonderful story in which she describes Charlevoix as the city on three lakes, which are fished, and the fact that it's located in the heart of the hunting and fishing country. . . . as well as a summer resort. . . . She also related the story of the Grey Gables Inn and listed two of her favorite recipes. . . . one for bread and roll dough and another for a moist chocolate cake. . . . Mrs. D. should be given a Kudo of some kind for being such a wonderful member of Irish Coleman's Board of Commerce. And soon she'll be returning from the land of the trade winds to Belvedere ave. . . . in preparation for our own resort season. . . . Mrs. Straus, who was so thoughtful as to send us the clipping, ended her note with the following. . . . "Mr. Straus and I are looking forward to another wonderful summer in Charlevoix when we will see our many friends there again". . . . And it won't be long. . . . in fact less than three months before we'll be welcoming back those whom we call 'summer residents' but who actually are in our thoughts all year long. . . . We'll just have to think up a better name for 'em. . . .

Send Flowers . .

Joan Hess Weds Gordon Finnie In Double Ring Church Service

Joan Hess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph V. Hess, became the bride of Gordon Finnie, son of Dr. and Mrs. Raymond H. Finnie of Hastings, at an impressive ceremony solemnized at Emmanuel Episcopal church in Petoskey late Saturday afternoon.

The Rev. Dwaine W. Filkins officiated at the double ring service before an altar decorated with Easter lilies, white gladioli and lighted white tapers in candelabra. In the presence of 200 guests, the organist, Joseph Hanna, played the wedding march and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. E. D. Hawley. Vocal selections sung during the ceremony were "I Love Thee," by Grieg, Schubert's "Ave Marie," "O Perfect Love" by Joseph Barnby and Mallete's "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a gown of white Dupioni silk and French lace over petal tulle and crisp taffeta. Soft folds of silk banded the Empire bodice which was graced with delicate traceries of seed pearl and sequin embroidery at the self-scarfed curving yoke. Brief petal sleeves of lace were complimented by lace gauntlets.

An imperial sweep of Dupioni silk emphasized the bouffant skirt, revealing a black insert of lace which fashioned the chapel length train.

A fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was secured by a crown of similar lace studded with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white hyacinths centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Terry Rice attended the bride as matron of honor and bridesmaids were Barbara Finnie of Hastings, sister of the bridegroom, Sandra Vandenberg of Kalamazoo and Mrs. Byron K. Wright. They were attired in waltz length gowns of camellia pink crystalite which were styled with elongated bootee and shirred circular skirts with contrasting coral inset yokes and wide coral inset panels extending down the back to wide hemlines and pet bows.

Their coral velvet train hats were distinguished by face-framing veils and they carried bouquets of pink and blue hyacinths.

Douglas Greenway was ring-bearer.

James Radford, of Kansas City, Kan., assisted the bridegroom as best man and ushers were Ralph Hess, brother of the bride, Kingsley Baulek of Hastings and James Ross and Harry Allis of Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Hess chose a blue silk costume suit, dress, a petal flower hat and gloves of soft pink and a corsage of cymbidium orchids in the same soft shade for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Finnie, mother of the bridegroom, wore a Dior blue costume suit, a white starched lace hat, white gloves and deep pink cymbidium orchid corsage.

A candle-light reception was held immediately following the ceremony in the main dining room of the Hotel Perry. A tiered wedding cake crowned with tiny sweetheart roses centered the bridal table which was appointed with white tapers in silver candelabra set in sprays of pale pink roses, gardenias and lilies of the valley. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. G. Woodward C. Smith of Mt. Pleasant and Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hawley assisted as masters and mistresses of ceremonies.

After a week's wedding trip to New York, the couple will be at home at 435 W. Center st. in Hastings. For traveling the bride chose a tailored box suit and hat of off-white, black accessories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Michigan State University where she was affiliated with the Pi Beta Phi Sorority. She now teaches at Hastings. The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Kentucky and is a second year student at the University of Michigan school of Medicine. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon and Nu Sigma Nu fraternities, the latter a medical fraternity.

On Friday evening Dr. and Mrs. Finnie entertained the wedding party and 50 guests at a dinner at the Hotel Perry. A bachelor dinner for the bridegroom and his attendants and fraternity brothers followed at the home of William I. Supernaw. On Saturday morning Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith of Hastings were hosts at a rehearsal breakfast at the Hotel Perry for 60 guests.

Among those from away who attended the wedding were Miss JoAnne Finnie of San Francisco, Calif., Mrs. Ward Vandenberg and son, Ward of Kalamazoo; Mrs. Rose Cook, Mrs. Raymond Finnie, Patrick Gallagher, Mr. and Mrs. Gary Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. George Baulek, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beham, Dr. Everett Phelps and John Gallagher of Hastings; Mrs. Howard Stubbart and Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Brainard of Battle Creek, Mr. and Mrs. Woodward C. Smith and sons of Mt. Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Green and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Otto of Nashville, Mr. and Mrs. William McKnight of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. James Radford of Kansas City, Kan.; Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Marble of Bay City; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Loop and Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Fairbanks of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Shanahan, Mr. and Mrs. Thad Stanford, Carolyn Todd, Tom Stafford, Sally Dalton, Al Belsito, Terri Ellis, Nat Pierce, Douglas Murray, Robert A. Baker, Harry Allis, Carlton Lindhouse and James Ross, all students at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

Entertaining in honor of Miss Hess last week were Mrs. L. E. Grate and Mrs. Terry Rice and Mrs. Byron K. Wright. On Tuesday evening Mrs. Grate invited 30 guests to her home at 101 S. Prospect ave. A feature of the evening was the judging of the oldest and funniest Easter hat worn to the party at the request of the hostess, Mrs. Robert Lieberman and Mrs. Andrew Essenberg Jr. were awarded prizes for their original millinery creations.

Following an evening of charades, the guest of honor was presented with a gift from the group.

Garden Club Joins 'Plant America' Plan To Beautify Charlevoix

The Charlevoix Garden club has joined the "Plant America" movement as a means of Community Betterment and earlier announced plans for planting hardy and colorful petunias in the community.

In asking the residents of Charlevoix to join in the planting movement Mrs. Harley Ochs, president of the club, said this week "Now that spring is surely just around the corner, let us give thought to beautifying our already beautiful town with plantings of bright flowers. Who will not agree with the statement that a well-distributed flower planting is not only eye-catching to the tourist, but gives all of us sense of pride and pleasure in having a part in the "Plant America" movement."

As the Garden club's part in the movement, Mrs. Ochs went on to say that the club already has many gardens that are outstanding, and in addition has made a beginning in the project of planting flowers everywhere. Tulips in the islands in state street are lovely as in the island at the intersection of Michigan and Petoskey avenues where plantings have been made to keep the island beautiful all summer.

The club also planted several hundred daffodils along the banks of Pine River last fall. The hanging baskets along Bridge st. last summer brought many favorable comments from summer visitors and tourists.

"If this season, every home owner will have a planting in his parkway, even if small, the overall effect would be most pleasing," Mrs. Ochs added.

Why not ask your florist right now to prepare a specific number of petunia plants for you; he is, no doubt, planting the tiny seeds right now and will have vigorous plants ready for transplanting as soon as weather permits.

Let us make Charlevoix bloom this summer!

County Supervisors Meet On Tuesday

The decision to build the courthouse before the expiration date of the sinking fund was reached last spring when Arnold C. Renner, Chief of the Fire Marshal's division, in a letter to the Charlevoix county board of supervisors, listed 10 major repairs and alterations which would be necessary if the county was to continue to use the building as a courthouse.

The letter was presented to the board of supervisors at the April meeting and Russell Curtis, chairman of the board, named a building committee to study the county's needs and to prepare a report on their findings for the October meeting.

Before the report could be presented, however, the board of supervisors received another letter, dated Sept. 21, 1955, in which Mr. Renner stated that a re-inspection of the courthouse by representatives of his office showed little progress had been made in meeting the specifications listed earlier and that court action would be necessary if the board continued to ignore the order.

After hearing the report presented by Mr. Rabach and his committee and as a result of the notice from the Fire Marshal's office, the Board of Supervisors appropriated a sum to be used to engage an architect to prepare plans for a county building, R. S.

We Belong to Each Other

Living things belong to each other. None of them attempt to "go it alone." The grass that binds the soil together on the brook bank belongs to the cow that eats it and to the turtle whose stream-home the grass protects from erosion-produced mudiness. Spruces and hemlocks balsam and birches rimming the meadow draw upon the moisture of the soil, as do the abundant grasses, and bask in the same sun. Air breathers drink in the same oxygen. Fishes share the same stream with ducks and with each other.

When an animal eats a plant, as when a cow eats grass, the plant actually becomes animal. Plant material, when digested, is carried by the blood stream to every cell of the animal and there is built into animal flesh. In turn, carbon dioxide, an animal waste, is breathed out into the atmosphere and is then absorbed by vegetation which uses it in building plant cells. The varieties of beings in a northland wild-life community would be beyond calculation, but they all fit into a single design. They belong to each other.

Aldo Leopold, the late great natural scientist, once studied the inter-relationships of rabbits, ladyslippers, deer and grouse in the woods of his beloved Wisconsin. He found rabbits especially abundant between the years of 1932 and 1935. They nibbled down the little bog-birch, a small bush of which they are fond. This hurt the deer and grouse population, for starving deer browse on the tips of these bushes, and sharp-tailed grouse count bog-birch buds among their staple foods. Moreover, the abundance of rabbits affected the ladyslipper population, but in a far different way, when the rabbit ate bog-birches which had shaded the forest floor, more sunlight reached the small plant-life there. Sunlight was needed by ladyslippers, which flourished under the new conditions.

When in the years 1936 and 1937 the rabbits population suddenly fell off, bog-birches made a quick come-back. Grouse and deer then benefited from larger amounts of emergency provender. But ladyslippers hidden by bog-birches from the sun, languished and failed. Rabbits, bog-birches, deer, and sharp-tailed grouse belong to each other. All are part of the same parcel of life.

Self-sufficiency is a myth. There is no such thing as a completely self-sufficient person. We are linked to all other forms of life, to all forms of non-living things, and to each other. You and I, the whirling earth and its inhabitants, the beneficent sun and the most distant stars belong to one cosmic family. We are all made of the same star dust and earth dust. We share a composition of the same basic chemicals. We are part of each other and belong to one another.

A realization of this principle of interrelatedness ought to do something for us. For one thing, it should free us from our foolish treatment of cooperation as some remote ideal to be achieved and make us aware that it is a fact which already confronts us. We already cooperate (which means that we operate together). We can't help it, since none is self-sufficient. We need only to do it better, much better! To tell people they ought to cooperate is like telling them they ought to eat. They already eat. They will always eat, or die. But millions should be taught about proper nutrition and sound eating practices. In a similar way, people ought not to be told that it would be ideal if they learn to cooperate. Instead, the cooperation in which we are already the involuntary participants should become clear to us. The unconscious cooperation should become conscious to us. The unconscious cooperation should become conscious and appreciated. The kinds of cooperation should be multiplied and broadened and strengthened until our understanding of our oneness is deepened and our obedience to the rule of living for the welfare of the entire human family becomes a basic objective of our lives.

Furthermore, being alive to the fact that we belong to each other should make us more grateful for each other and less critical of one another. Why be irritated because others vary from us in their interests, talents, and insights? If we were all alike, life would lose much of its richness. There could be no new ideas, because new ideas come to us from others, and if we were all alike in our thinking, every idea you ever heard expressed would be one you had thought of before. There could be no exchange of services, because if everyone were like you he could do nothing better than you could do it yourself, and if we all felt alike no one would perform a service for you that you were reluctant to carry out. Having feelings exactly like your own, he would be reluctant too! An employer could find no employees because everyone would want to be em-players. There could be no colleges or universities, because no one would want to do the janitor work or maintain the buildings or be students. Everyone would want to be an honored professor or he would have nothing to do with the school. No one on the top of the heap can intelligently look down his nose on those at the bottom. The big apples on top of the basket are there only because there are a lot of little ones under them holding them up there. People on top of the management basket in business, the learning basket in education, the upper crust in society need to remember that. The little apples are keeping them up there.

This consciousness of our interdependence is distinctive of men. They know their achievements are not solo performances, but done in concert with others, many of whom are unknown to them. Albert Einstein spoke of his indebtedness to others in this fashion: "Many times a day I realize how much my own outer and inner life is built upon the labors of my fellowmen, both living and dead, and how earnestly I must exert myself in order to give in return as much as I have received."

Some years ago before great pipe organs were operated with the aid of electricity, a noted organist was playing before an enthusiastic audience. A small boy labored hard behind a screen pumping the organ for all he was worth. During the intermission the youngster, flushed with pride, said to the famous musician, "Aren't we wonderful?" "Who's we?" barked the organist as he stomped off to play the second half of his program. As he sat down to the organ console, the musician stroked the keys, but not a note came forth. Alarmed, he struck the keyboard savagely, and still no sound. At last a small voice came from behind the organ screen, "Now, who's we?"

Who are "we" anyway? As a person matures his "we" concept grows until "we" embraces all the people of the world, the great and the unknown, the old and the young, rich and poor, of every color and of all nations. And when "we" takes in every living thing, a person has finally found himself at home in the world.

Joe McPhillips Aids In Rescue Of Island Mare

Joe McPhillips, who flies the mail between Charlevoix and Beaver Island during the winter months, played the roll of Good Samaritan recently when he observed a horse trapped in the crotch formed by two trees while flying over the island.

A heavy snowfall had necessitated using the harbor as a landing field. He had just taken off when he noticed an unusual movement in a tree on a snow covered field. He circled and flew low to investigate and saw that a horse had been trapped in the Y formed by the two trees. He returned to the make-shift airfield, took Elston Pischner aloft to show him where the horse was trapped and then returned to the island.

A long trek over unplowed roads and through fields resulted in the release of a mare belonging to Joe Dillingham which had been missing for a week.

Next Tuesday, April 10, there will be an important meeting of the Hospital Guild held at 8:00 p. m. in the high school band room. All members are urged to attend to settle some important issues... such as... the scholarship fund, discussion of plans for the annual Guild meeting in June and the annual Hospital Day in May... also to elect a nominating committee for the new officers for next year.

Jane Gilbert, Chairman of the sewing committee, announced this week that she has purchased the drapery material for the isolation ward and it will be available for volunteer sewerers at the meeting Tuesday.

Also... Will anyone who has a layette out... please return it, finished or not, at the meeting, as the committee is anxious to take inventory of supplies.

Hats off!... says Julia M. Donnell, chairman of the Guild, to the holiday committee. And we all second the motion upon hearing their report.

It seems Esther Bleha's first graders made a darling Easter bunny for the hospital lobby. The office staff fell so in love with him that he was given to them for keeps.

The tray committee consisting of Margaret Hamilton, Esther Schult, Elsie Bennett and Shirley Lusk did a wonderful job of decorating Easter eggs for the patient's trays.

All in all, we'd say we had some pretty grand workers in our Guild. Don't forget the meeting Tuesday... promise?

Supervisors Accept Lake Construction Co. Bid For New Building

The Charlevoix county board of supervisors, at the opening session of its 88th annual meeting Tuesday, accepted a bid for $163,210, submitted by the Lake Construction Co. of Charlevoix, for the construction of a new county building here.

The Company's bid, one of five submitted by northern Michigan construction companies, calls for the construction of the two-story section of the county building to be built on State st. north of the present 80-year-old courthouse which will eventually be razed to make room for the one-story south wing. The latter will be built when funds are available.

Construction of the new building, which will be built of concrete, steel and brick with stone pier and parapet on the front, is expected to begin within 30 days. The completion date has been set for 270 days from the date of the ground-breaking. The cost of constructing the new county building will be financed with funds from a sinking fund established in 1949.

The site of the county seat and the new county building was settled late Tuesday afternoon when Talmon Brady, senior supervisor of Boyne City, presented a resolution asking that the county seat be moved from Charlevoix to Boyne City. The resolution was rejected by a vote of 16 to 7 with one member abstaining and one absent.

R. S. Gerganoff of Ann Arbor is the architect for the new county building.

Only other action of the board on Tuesday was the approval of a $1200 appropriation to engage a building inspector for the new structure. The building committee will engage the inspector.

Members of the building committee which laid the ground work for the final adoption of the plan, and the acceptance of the bid Tuesday were Clarence E. Rabach, chairman, Russell L. Curtis, chairman of the board of supervisors, Henry Lee of Boyne City, Lee Sneathen Jr. of Haves township, Robert F. Barnett of East Jordan, Ivan Phillips and Theodore R. Miller of Charlevoix and Pefton R. Bulow, county clerk. Rabach is a Charlevoix township supervisor and Curtis represents Marion township.

ODDS 'N' ENDS

By Fran Mertin

There's a chance that it may be snowing and blowing a gale by the time you read this . . . for, as you know, anything can happen weather-wise this time of the year . . . but wasn't it wonderful when spring arrived early last week . . . There was snow all over the place on Easter day and then came the rains . . . and all of a sudden it was spring.

We wonder if anyone noticed the high temperature last Tuesday . . . the night the tornadoes struck . . . Early in the evening we experienced the high winds and the eerie yellow light in the sky and then shortly before 8 p. m. there was the lull with the temperature hitting 64 degrees and the air so still it was breathtaking . . . But we were lucky, the tornado veered out over the lake instead of moving to the northeast from the Thompsonville-Lake Ann-Cedar Run area west of Traverse City . . . But when it gets that close it's rather frightening.

We've talked with a number of people who have witnessed the devastation wrought by the tornadoes in the Grand Traverse and Grand Rapids areas . . . As one man said . . . Anything you tell me about a tornado, I'll believe for I have seen things at Stendale and Hudsonville that I never would have believed but there they are . . . right before my eyes . . . The helpless feeling of being caught in a tornado, the shock of losing everything you own in one brief twist of the black funnel . . . The only thing one can do is pray that it never hit us . . . and do what one can to help the unfortunate people who lost so much last week . . . that's getting just too darned close for comfort . . .

Charlevoix felt the shock of the tornado at Cedar Run for the Loomis and Courtade families are related to the Crain and Newman families . . . Mrs. Loomis Sr. and Mrs. Courtade, we understand are sisters of Everett Crain who now lives in Boyne City and Mrs. Nita Newman . . . Mrs. Miles Russell is a niece of theirs . . . If you'd like to help these families you might get in touch with her . . . However, we understand that agencies in the Grand Traverse area are doing a fine job of finding housing and assisting in many other ways . . .

But in Charlevoix spring reigns supreme at the moment . . . the brave little crocuses have stuck their colorful little petals out to try the weather . . . everyone's out raking their yards . . . the girls in Bermuda shorts, which we can't help but feel are a little on the coolish side, are trying out the driving range . . . other golfers are limbering up on the golf course . . . there's a baseball game on every field and all over town the kids are building and flying kites . . . Oh, almost five months of snow and it's wonderful . . . especially after winter . . .

Of course, Lake Charlevoix is still covered with ice and it will be some time before the South Arm will be open and the Ironport ferry will be operating despite the unseasonable weather, there's still a foot of solid ice on the lake . . . but given a little time, we'll get there . . .

And added to that, the major league baseball season will open this weekend and the old battle for the pennants will be on . . . Wanna make any bets about Detroit? . . .

The orchids of the week goes to Mr. Coleman's biology class which participated in the question and answer program on Cancer at the P. T. A. meeting last Wednesday night. The kids missed themselves $15.00 . . . which they then contributed to the current cancer Crusade to raise funds for the American Cancer Society for kids that are . . . and they came through like veterans . . . As kids do . . .

Lots of luck to our band which will leave here before dawn cracks Saturday to participate in the state band and orchestra festival at Muskegon . . . We think this is one of the best bands Mr. Odmark has had in some years . . . they seem to have all the necessary ingredients in exactly the right proportions . . . and we're sure they're going to come up with a first division rating . . . But, kids, don't forget that we have not been invited to judge your performance and that you'll have to show the 'big boys' how good you are . . . you're capable of doing it so how's about bringing home the bacon in the form of a blue ribbon . . . We'll all keep our fingers crossed for you . . .

A certain guy around town whose initials begin with Wayne Belding has us just a little miffed . . . As you know he's heading up the minstrel show this year and he's got a big fat secret up his sleeve that he won't tell us . . . And believe us, that's enough to kill us off . . . seems there's Moe the Mystery man in the Minstrel show . . . how's that for an alliteration? . . . We can't find out who he is what he's supposed to do or a thing but he's an important cop, a V. I. P. so to speak, in the show . . . a bit irritating to us . . . This secrecy . . . Wait 'til that guy wants us to do something for him . . . He'll give us the lowdown on Moe . . . or else . . .

Like everyone else, you've probably been eating your share of Girl Scout cookies during the past week . . . We'd like you to know that the top salesman lives in our block . . . They're Mary Jean Glassford who headed the list followed by Jeannette Novak who came in second . . . Judy Ikens was third with Sally Cross and Kathy Gallagher also among the leaders . . . We don't know whether they'll get any special recognition as salesmen but certainly some should be given to the guy who bought the most . . . That dubious honor, we hear, goes to John Cross . . . Can't say no to anyone . . .

Don't know whether you like kittens or not but to us they're mighty cute . . . Sunday we had an experience we wouldn't trade for anything . . . an opportunity to see three Siamese kittens . . . just seven weeks old . . . One doesn't get a chance to see something like that too often . . . Mrs. Tom Seale brought the kittens in a box and we watched them play . . . these teeny slender bits of creamy white fur, which

Gee . . . we sure would like to have kept all three but our big cat, Suki, would have nothing to do with the intruders and with us for having allowed such little snips in the house . . . The State Journal, Lansing, Michigan

"And I am sure our employees are just as pleased with the way Blue Cross · Blue Shield protects them.

"Years ago it was something of a task to sell the hospital insurance program to an employee. The idea was new, and in many cases the restrictions were such that it was only natural for the individual to hesitate.

"That is all changed now, and the idea of hospital-medical coverage is generally accepted by folks in this organization. They want it, and are happy in it being made available at so moderate a cost.

"The protection given them and their dependents by Blue Cross · Blue Shield has afforded a feeling of security which they didn't have before. Such a feeling is conducive to happiness, thus greatly benefiting the relationship between them and management.

"One never knows when sickness or accident may strike. Blue Cross · Blue Shield recognizes just that, giving our employees that solid feeling of security for themselves and their families in an area about which they would otherwise feel quite insecure."

Officers Of Charlevoix P.T.A. Are Re-Elected, Same Chairmen Named

The officers who were elected in February to head the then newly-organized Charlevoix P. T. A. were re-elected to office for the year beginning in April at the regular meeting of the group held Wednesday in the Charlevoix high school cafeteria.

They are: president, Mrs. R. G. Martin; first vice president, Uno Snot; second vice president, Lee Sneather; Jr.; secretary, Mrs. Clayton A. Smith and treasurer, Mrs. Robert E. Ashley.

Mrs. Martin has asked the committee chairman she appointed earlier to continue in their respective posts.

During the program Wednesday, a movie "Seven Danger Signals of Cancer" was followed by a question and answer period about cancer in which the 20 members of S. E. Coleman's biology class participated. Mrs. Bernard Sargeant of West Branch, field representative of Districts 6 and 7 of the American Cancer Society, was the moderator. Each student received 25 cents for each correct answer and returned the same amount when a question was missed. The group, which had studied the subject in class missed only three questions. After the quiz, Larry Smith, in behalf of the class, returned the $15.00 they had won to the current fund drive now being staged by the Charlevoix county chapter of the American Cancer Society.

Mrs. Lewis Courtade, chairman of the V. F. W. Auxiliary Americanism Essay contest, announced the winner in the recent contest and presented Mrs. Harley Warren, president of the sponsoring organization, who in turn, presented prize checks to the following students: Anne Ratigan who won first place; Joan Heilig, second place; Alice Harvey, third place; Larry Smith, David Miles, Connie Maxfield, and Carolyn Steel, who received honorable mention. Anne Ratigan then read the prize-winning essay whose title was "Beacon of Light".

Mrs. Robert Bergmann and Arnold Wadas announced plans for the All-Pines party the P.T.A. sponsors. Friday night at the gymnasium and that tickets for the event would be available from high school students, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Arnold and from P. T. A. members.

Following the regular business meeting, Mrs. James Gallagher called a brief meeting of room parents to explain their duties and to make tentative plans for the immediate future.

Refreshments were served by the hospitality committee.

Bodley - Geer Marriage Vows Are Spoken In Double Ring Ceremony

Barbara I. Bodley, as her sister's only attendant, wore a navy cotton satin princess dress, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

DeMar K. Bodley, brother of the bride, assisted the bridegroom as best man.

A wedding dinner followed at the home of the bride's parents. A two-tiered wedding cake centered the dinner table which was decorated with arrangements of pink and white pompons.

After a two weeks honeymoon in southern Michigan, the bride will return to Ann Arbor and her studies at the University of Michigan school of nursing. The bridegroom will return to his duties aboard the U. S. S. Bearss stationed at Norfolk, Va.

Things that Won't Hurry

One reason a solitary saunter over Northland acres brings peace of mind is that nature has a slower pace than man. When a person leaves a world of crowded places and crowded schedules and walks among the slow-growing trees and the silent hills that seem always to stand "at ease," one absorbs a little of nature's patience. Tranquility trickles down from the spring-wet boughs of ancient, wind-twisted, time-crooked trees. Calmness oozes up into the stroller from the good old earth that has coolly witnessed the coming and going of ice ages, the deposit and erosion of rocks, the fall and decay of tree limbs and leaves, the building and denuding of the soil, the rise and fall of generations of rabbits and deer and men and all their kin. Nature's patience is contagious, and I seek frequent exposure, hoping I can "catch it" again.

Phillip Brooks, the magnificent New England preacher and author of the hymn "O Little Town of Bethlehem," was well-known for his poise and imperturbability. But his intimate friends knew that he sometimes suffered moments of frustration and irritability. Finding Brooks, peevishly pacing the floor of his study, a visitor asked him, "What is the trouble, Doctor Brooks?"

"The trouble is," Brooks answered, "that I'm in a hurry—but God isn't."

I sometimes wonder if that is not one of the chief troubles of our time: we are in a hurry when God is not. And since, whether we like it or not, the cogs of our lives are engaged with the cogs of God's workings, and the gear teeth of God's plans are stronger than our own, when we speed up and God keeps his own slow pace, we strip our gears. We wear out. We fall apart.

We try to speed up the maturing of our children. When a son behaves childishly at the age of five, we ask, "Why don't you act like a big boy?" Any sensible person ought to know the answer to that—because he is not a big boy, nor did his Creator intend him to be a big boy at five years of age. Why should he act like an adult, or an adolescent, or a nine-year-old when he is but five? We want our five-year-olds to conduct themselves like adults, not because it is good for them, but because it is convenient for us, not because it is right, but because we are impatient. There is a time when everyone should act like an adult, and that is when he becomes one. There is a time, too, when everyone should behave like a five-year-old, and that is when he is five. We rob our children of their childhood when we hurry them through it at our wicked pace. We cheat ourselves, too, for we miss our chance to see children as children and, foregoing allowing some of their newness, their freshness, their curiosity and wonder and unrestrained joy to rub off on us, when we see them only as miniature adults.

Our impatience prevents the cultivation of great minds and good souls. It is almost impossible to hasten the cultivation of a good life. Assimilation of the good is a slow process. When James Garfield was president of Hiram College in Ohio, he was approached by the father of a boy seeking admission. The father asked Garfield, "Can't you simplify the course? My boy will never take that all in. He should be able to go through by a shorter route."

"Certainly," James Garfield replied. "I believe I can arrange for that. Of course, it all depends upon what you want to make of your boy. When God wants to make an oak tree, He takes a hundred years. When He wants to make a squash, He requires only two months."

Possibly we read too much and think too little. We want to cram our minds with information and we become like trash-littered attics and junk-crammed basements, where nothing stands out bold and clear, from all the rest. Everything is lost in the clutter. We might better be like art museums where a few of the best thoughts and ideals are hung upon the walls of our minds to be contemplated at length, while their over-powering truth and beauty are allowed to seep down deep into our subconsciousness. Old attics and old museums have this in common: both bear deposits of things saved from the past. But museums save the best, only the very best, and then clear the clutter of mediocrity away so that the best can be seen and appreciated. Selection and study of the best demands discretion, and even more important, I suspect, patience—an unhurried attitude of mind.

Nature furnishes abundant hints that our mad pace is unnatural. The most important

LES JOHNSON
Michigan Bell Manager

ONE GOOD EXAMPLE of how telephone research benefits all of us is the amazing transistor. This versatile marvel, an electronic amplifier, was conceived, invented and developed at Bell Telephone Laboratories. As development progresses, transistors are replacing vacuum tubes in more and more telephone equipment. Tiny and mechanically simple, transistors last longer than vacuum tubes and need little power. These economical features help keep down the cost of providing telephone service.

WHAT DO YOU have planned for, say, next week end? Perhaps a drive to see some friends or relatives in the next town. Or maybe you're going to spend a quiet two days at home. Either way, the telephone can help you enjoy your week end. If you're planning a visit, call ahead and let the folks know just when you'll be there. And if you're just going to loll around the house, wouldn't that be a good time to talk to those out-of-town friends or loved ones? Telephone calls cost so little and they are so appreciated.

BREAKFAST IN BED is one good example of luxurious living. But that's a luxury most of us can't often afford. A bedside phone on the other hand is a very inexpensive "luxury." For about $10 a month you enjoy the comfort and convenience of an additional telephone at your finger tips. It will mean the end of stumbling around when you make or get calls at night—you just reach for the phone. To order your bedside telephone, call our Business Office.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Ikens Will Observe Golden Wedding Date

Floyd W. Ikens, retired Charlevoix county sheriff, and Mrs. Ikens will observe their golden wedding anniversary Sunday.

An open house at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McRae of 304 Nettleton st. from 2 to 5 p. m. for relatives and friends will mark the occasion.

Among those who will attend will be the couple's three daughters, Mrs. McRae, and Mrs. Clarence Rabach and Mrs. John Norton, all of Charlevoix and their sons, Harold C. Ikens of Oak Grove and Carlton F. Ikens of Charlevoix and their respective families including most of the couple's 13 grandchildren and five grandchildren. A third son, Glenroy C. Ikens and his family who moved to Fargo, N. D. recently will be unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ikens were married at Petoskey April 14, 1906. Mrs. Ikens, the former Matilda Curtis, was teaching school at Boyne Falls at the time and went to Petoskey via train to meet Mr. Ikens for the ceremony. A late spring blizzard made it necessary for him to make the trip from Boyne City to Petoskey and return by horse and cutter.

During the next six years the couple resided in Boyne City, Charlevoix and Chicago before returning here in 1912 to make their home.

Mr. Ikens followed his trade as a mason and later became interested in police work after serving on the city police force during the summer months.

In 1932 he became a candidate for the office of sheriff and on Jan. 1, 1933, was sworn into the office which he continued to hold until Dec. 31, 1945 when he resigned after 22 years as county sheriff.

During his years as sheriff, Mrs. Ikens served as undersheriff and matron of the jail.

Today both enjoy reminiscing about their past years at the county jail. Both admit they were exciting years with each day bringing something new so that life was never dull.

"We learned a lot about people during those years. At times it was trying but today we wouldn't trade them for the world," Mrs. Ikens said.

Mrs. Ikens was born in Antrim county Jan. 8, 1893, and lived in Chicago as a child. The family returned to northern Michigan and settled in Charlevoix where she was graduated from high school in 1903 and immediately went into teaching profession. She was teaching at Boyne Falls when she met and married Mr. Ikens. Today she busies herself in their apartment at 117 Antrim st., enjoys her hobby of painting with oils which she learned from a prisoner while matron at the jail and is also able to enjoy the many organizations of which she is a member. Among them are the Order of the Easter Star, the Past Matrons' club, the White Shrine of Jerusalem, Pythian Sisters, Rebekah lodge and the Past Noble Grand club. Mr. Ikens is a member of the I. O. O. F. and has held a number of offices in the lodge of which he has been a member for many years.

Linda Supernaw entertained a party recently honoring Linda Campfield who has gone to Lansing to make her home.

Nine little guests gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Supernaw for dinner and later watched television.

The Style Beauty Shop and Merle Norman Cosmetic Studio at 106 Park ave will open Wednesday, April 18. Glenn Krohn, Stylist.
